ONE DOSE RELIEVES A COLD—NO QUININE

"PAPE'S COLD COMPOUND" ENDS BAD COLDS OR GRIPPE IN A FEW HOURS.

Relief comes instantly. A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness. Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffing! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.

her. It is estimated that since the death of King Edward fully 50 per cent. of her income, perhaps more, has been devoted to charitable purposes.

Sir Dighton Proby, who is her majesty's adviser in financial and other matters, has been worried by the constant outgo, and when recently the drain of her majesty's invested money had to be liquidated, he went to her frankly and told her that if she continued her gifts on the scale she had been going it would be impossible for her to maintain her establishment at Marlborough House. What effect this will have remains to be seen.

Queen Mary and the little Princess Mary are also lavish in their charities. During their recent stay in the Highland the queen and princess made a number of afternoon calls on the cottage peasantry of Perthshire, inquiring kindly into their lives and distributing boxes of chocolates among the children. Generally the visits were in the nature of a surprise to the Scottish housewife who had no opportunity for a special "tidy up." "Is your home quite comfortable?" "How many children have you?" were some of the questions the queen asked while she also desired to be informed if the children were old enough to go to work. One cottage where the queen called was occupied by a ghillie, who had taught the royal family Scotch reels. In another lived a piper, whose small son proudly informed the queen "I shall be the king's piper when I am a man." While the queen talked with the mothers, Princess Mary chatted with the smallest children, and proved herself quite an adept in amusing babies.

THE ROYAL CHILDREN

Little Prince John, youngest of the king's children, has inherited much of his grandfather's democracy to the amusement of his father and despair of his mother. He sees no reason why he should not enjoy the companionship of the children of his own age of the servants and retainers on the royal estates, and despite the close watch kept on him, frequently escapes and romps with the children of the pollor and has a good time of it too.

The Prince of Wales takes more after his mother. He is quiet and sedate and decidedly girl shy. He remarked the other day: "I had rather see a good football match than all the girls in the country," and he means it.
