ADVICE TO THE FARMERS

Of British Columbia, Delivered by Professor Gilbert
A Few Days Ago.

The Daily Colonist says:

A most servicable series of institute meetings are being held for the discussion of this topic, and valuable addresses have been given by Mr. A. G. Gilbert, the poultry manager at the experimental farm at Ottawa, on the subject. Some of these meetings are largely attended by ladies as well as by gentlemen. Mr. Gilbert's handling of the subject is exceedingly good and thoroughly practical. Evidently he has directed his experiments very largely to help the ordinary every-day farmer, and when he is able to show conclusively that a farmer can clear a profit of at least $200 a year off 100 hens, he goes a long way to solve some of our economic problems. Such a profit he is evidently able to make in Ottawa, with Ottawa prices. If he got our prices of 45 to 50 cents per dozen for eggs, and proportionately high prices for broilers, his profit fund would be largely augmented. Another thing he shows could be done, and that is to have broilers of four months old ready for the market, and weighing four pounds each. If that can be done in Ottawa, why can it not be done in Victoria?

Mr. Gilbert's recommendations are simple, but effective if attended to. They are within the reach of all.

1. Good Houses.—Not draughty and not too small. So designed that the chicks can be fed and the house can be cleaned out without disturbance of the poultry; and the feed and water boxes so arranged that the hens will not get into the dishes. He favors cooping laying hens in suitable houses to giving them the run of a farm.

2. Good Breeds.—He finds the Barred Plymouth Rocks and the White Wyandottes stand the tests he applies the best. He seeks chiefly for good winter layers and rapid flesh formers, and he finds this in these breeds. He never keeps them beyond two years old.

3. Proper Feeding.—Don't gorge them. He finds a mixed ration good. He alternates grain mash and cut bones—one meal a day—and gives a moderate quantity of grain scattered through a litter of chaff or straw on the floor, to be scratched for. Cut grass is an excellent chicken feed, and grit and shells or lime are a necessity when hens are cooped up.

4. Proper Care of Chicks.—Particularly during the first five weeks. He favors cooping the hen in a slatted coop, to prevent her giving the chicks too much exercise. For 14 days chicks should not get grain, but only meat and water, or stale bread and milk.

5. Eggs for the market should not be fertilized. The cock should be confined in open with the best hens to breed from and used for that purpose only. Otherwise decomposition sets in early, and the flavor of the egg is quickly spoiled.

6. Feed liberally during moulting season, and give a little linseed meal or boiled meat in the mash. Comfortable housing is very essential at the moulting season. He finds shelled buckwheat and oats good for fattening chickens upon, producing an excellent white flesh. Indian corn rather tends to produce a yellow flesh. Regarding the other poultry families, he favors Bronze turkeys, Pekin ducks, and Toulouse or Empden geese. Ducks should not be kept beyond nine weeks from the time of hatching. Up to that age they are very profitable, but after that they cease to be so.

The baby's coming is often looked forward to as a time of dread and danger. Many women are physically unfit to become mothers. They are sick and weak in a womanly way and may well look with fear toward the time of maternity. Intelligent preparation for this time is most essential. An athlete "trains" for months before his trial. Most women do not "train" at all and yet their trial is to be fifty times as severe as the athlete's.

During the period of gestation every woman should use every means to strengthen the organs that are to be tried. They should be kept in perfect health. The faintest symptom of disorder or disease should be promptly eliminated.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is designed to do this very thing—has been doing it for over thirty years. It is the one sure medicine for all female complaints. It is the only medicine that may be absolutely depended upon to practically abolish the pain and danger of childbirth. It is the only preparation of its kind that is the invention of a regularly graduated physician—a skilled and experienced specialist in the cure of diseases of women.

Mrs. Emerson Allen, of Dorset, Ontario Co., Ont., writes: "I was in very poor health for a long time, dating from the birth of my little girl. I tried different doctors and different medicines. I took four bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and seem to be perfectly well again."

Priests of Their Own Rite.

The Montreal Witness states news has been received from Europe that Rev. Father Lacombe, the veteran Northwest missionary, has been most successful in his efforts to secure priests of their own rite for the Galicians now settled in the Canadian Northwest. Having first obtained the sanction of the pope, Father Lacombe secured a private audience from the Emperor of Austria, who not only promised to send the Galician priests needed, but also heartily thanked the old Canadian missionary for the interest which he takes in the welfare of the new settlers.
