British Fleet Air Arm Extolled In New Film Coming To Prince Edward

Of the same illustrious family as famous ship to get material for the enormous successful British picture "Convoy" is the feature film "Ships With Wings", produced at their amusing statements that she day engagement at The Prince Edward Theatre on Wednesday. A led up in naval engagements. It got "Ships With Wings" is woven around the activities of the British Fleet Air Arm. Most interesting angle is that the role of the aircraft carrier in the film is actually played by the Ark Royal of Noble fame, once sunk by enemy action in the Mediterranean.

The picture which has been dedicated to the Ark Royal and the men of the Fleet Air Arm was made with the full cooperation of the British Admiralty. Cameraman Roy Kellino made three trips aboard the Greek island. The war breaks and the island is taken over by the Nazis. He steals a plane and flies off to warn his old aircraft carrier that the Nazis and Italians are laying minefields. The British fleet has a job to blow up an enemy power dam, but can't get close enough to use their big guns because of the mines. Planes are sent out, but the carrier is bombed and the planes have to make crash landings. Three planes are left, and only two pilots and the dam is still standing. Clements then gets his chance. All his ammunition is gone, so he rams a German Dornier and they go down to death together on top of the dam, the bombs of the Nazi plane accomplishing the work.

One of the most thrilling and gripping films to be seen on a screen in recent months, "Ships With Wings" was produced by Michael Balcon and directed by Sergei Neibandov, both leading lights in the British film world.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

No matter how fine the weather it does not materially affect the attendance at our services and we have had a remarkable succession of fine Sundays this year. When it was announced that Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Raymond would sing at our morning service anticipation was keen for they had been heard with pleasure on previous occasions. They sang a duet which added greatly to the excellence of our musical program that in addition included among other items such hymns as "Hark, my Soul! It is the Lord's and "Break Thou the Bread of Life", hymns that express the longing of every Christian heart and were sung with fervor.

Rev. D. C. Boothroyd was in charge of the service and preached the sermon from the text Galatians, 5-13 "Brethren ye have been called unto liberty". The liberty of the sons of God to which we are called shows itself in the freeing of the heart, mind, and moral sense from the hampering chains of tradition, sloth and sin. The great paradox of the Gospel is that they are most truly free who are the slaves of Christ.

In the evening Mr. Boothroyd's text was Psalm 78-41 "They limped the Holy One of Israel". Since God relies upon men and women to do His will He may readily be limited, at least for a

THROUGH THE AIR hurdle Canadian, American and British officers, side by side, during intensive, tough training course at Britain's realistic Battle School in Northern Ireland. Electrically controlled explosive pots hurt a barrage of fire in the faces of the attacking Commandos and Rangers. Scenes like this were reenacted in earnest along French coast as Allies struck at Dieppe.
