United Farmers Meet in Charlottetown

That the farmers of Prince Edward Island are not enthusiastic over the organization which Mr. R. J. McMillan, of Seaford, Ont., is endeavoring to promote in this province is evident from the lack of interest generally shown in the meeting which was held yesterday afternoon in the Lyceum, Charlottetown, and which was called for the purpose of establishing a central organization in affiliation with the United Farmers of Ontario.

you withdraw your subscriptions and R. J. McMillan then attacked the political system of the country as it exists, and after stating that as the farmers of Canada were merely playing at political tug-of-war, he was frank enough, if rather impolitic, to tell his audience that the farmers of Prince Edward Island were ignorant because they have so far recognized the advantages of the party system and had voted as their fathers and grandfathers had done.
