A STORM OF HAIL

Smites the Farms Along Union Road

SOME MIGHTY STONES

Great Damage Done to Apples, Wheat, Turnips and Other Crops.

Mr. Thomas Gurney of Western Cove Head brought to THE GUARDIAN office Saturday specimens of hail which fell on Union Road near the railway crossing between 11 and 12 o'clock. It was a thunder storm beginning with rainfall and turning to hail. Mr. Gurney says that the hail-stones could have been gathered in cart-loads. It was after two o'clock when the specimens of hail-stones were brought to this office and they were fast melting in the heat of midday, yet still some of the number were three quarters of an inch in diameter—coarse fragments of ice. Others were perfectly round like old fashioned musket bullets and quite as large. The amount of damage done could not be estimated, as Mr. Gurney passed, but the potatoes and turnips were badly beaten down. The storm appears to have been a remarkable one and though fortunately brief may have done much injury.

After the above was in type further particulars and a quantity of still larger hail stones were brought to this office by Mr. E. Hardy of Little York and others.

Speaking in a general way Mr. Hardy says the track of the hailstorm was about a quarter of a mile in width. Some four farms on Union Road suffered severely, namely, those of Messrs Joseph Bryenton, Walter Mallet and John Gill on the eastern side of the road, and that of Alfonso Merritt on the west side.

Specimens of the crop shown served to illustrate the havoc wrought by the hail. Among them was a cucumber in which hailstones the size of a musket bullet had embedded themselves to the depth of half an inch. Large gooseberries were battered to pieces. A stalk of large rhubarb shown had been beaten to shreds of fibre. Heads of wheat showed that almost every grain had been knocked off. Potato stalks were also badly bruised, but the damage to this crop will probably not be great. Turnips, on the contrary, are simply ruined, and the farmers who suffered were yesterday buying seed to sow their fields anew. Nearly all the apples were battered from the trees and lay on the ground among the hail, a bruised mass of pulp. The vegetable gardens in the track of the storm are practically ruined.

Men and animals who were out in the storm were severely pelted until they found shelter. A gosling was utterly disabled by the falling missiles.

One hail-stone was picked up and measured before it had much melted and was found to be four and a half inches in circumference. In the hollows the hail gathered six inches deep, and in places on the road the accumulated hail was up to a horse's fetlocks. The water pouring down the road-gutters swept the hail before it and in places piled it up in cart-loads.

Mr. W. G. Fraser, who returned to town on Saturday evening about 8 o'clock was on Union Road during the storm, but took refuge at Mr. Fred. Essory's. He says the hail fell for about half an hour and made a great noise. Mr. Fraser says some potato and turnip fields at Mr. Mallet's were stripped entirely bare and that on the lower side by the road where the hail had washed down it was lying nine inches deep at 7 o'clock in the evening, eight hours after it fell.

The storm was limited in extent. Two or three farms away from where the greatest damage was done the sun continued shining and haymaking went on. Shortly beyond Union Road there was a rainfall, but little or no hail. Some hail fell at Kingston earlier in the day and seems to have come from the same cloud that shed the hail on Union Road farms.

WONDERS OF THE HEART.

All the blood in the human body passes through the heart in about three minutes. The heart beats 70 times a second, 4200 times an hour, 100,800 times a day, throwing out 2½ ounces of blood a second, 656 lbs. an hour, 72 tons a day. It is only when supplied with pure, rich blood that the heart, an organ 6 inches long by 4 wide can accomplish this enormous amount of work and rebuild its own wasted tissues. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the most effective treatment available for heart affections because it forms new red corpuscles in the blood and gives to it that sustaining quality which is necessary to the health of every organ.
