McDonald-Long Nuptials

St. Margaret's Church, St. Margaret's, P. E. I. was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding on Wednesday morning, October 14, 1936, at eight o'clock, when Hugh McDonald, son of Mrs. McDonald and the late John V. McDonald, of Selkirk, and Margaret Long, daughter of Mrs. Briget Long and the late John Long, Midgell, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. K. C. McPherson in the presence of immediate relatives and friends. During Nuptial Mass appropriate hymns were rendered by Michael McIntyre.

The bride wore a becoming gown of royal blue chiffon velvet made on princess lines, the long sleeves having a flared cuff lined with silver brocade, a turban in velvet to match her gown, and blue kid slippers completed the costume.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lucy, as bridesmaid. She wore a gown of hunter's green chiffon velvet with gold trimmings, hat and slippers to match.

The groomsmen were Wilfred McPhee.

After the ceremony, as the bride and groom proceeded from the church, they received many congratulations and good wishes. Accompanied by a number of relatives and friends the bridal party motored to the bride's home, where breakfast awaited them.

Among the forty guests present were Rev. K. C. McPherson, Rev. L. Callaghan and Rev. A. A. McAulay. The dining-room was nicely trimmed with white streamers and from a large wedding bell suspended from the ceiling tiny streamers of white ribbon hovered to the two beautiful wedding cakes which adorned the breakfast table.

The bride and groom were showered with confetti and good wishes as they left for a motor drive to various centres of interest on the Island, the bride travelling in a dress of henna crepe, coat, hat and shoes in autumn brown.

In the evening they returned to the groom's home, where a large number of invited guests had assembled to welcome the happy young couple. A delicious wedding supper was served and the evening was spent in music and dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald were the happy recipients of a large array of wedding gifts, including a substantial sum of money. They will make their home in Monticello and are followed by the good wishes of their many friends.

On Monday evening, October 12th, previous to her marriage, Miss Long was pleasantly surprised at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cullen, Midgell, where a large number of neighbors and friends had gathered to shower her with gifts and good wishes. After the bride-to-be had been escorted to her chair of honor beneath a decorated arch of spruce and fern intermingled with vivid autumn leaves, a gay "old couple" attired in costumes reminiscent of the gay 90's, appeared, bearing several suitcases, valises and a trunk. After wishing the bride-to-be many happy days the "old couple", impersonated by Mrs. F. A. Johnson and Mr. Cuyler Dingwell, disappeared, leaving behind the luggage which, upon investigation was found to contain many useful and beautiful gifts for the bride-to-be.

The accompanying verses, both humorous and well-wishing, were read by Mrs. Freeman Bowley and the gifts presented to the bride-to-be by Miss Mary Long and Mrs.

Prince Edward Island Tuberculosis League

Since 1931 the Gyro Club of Charlottetown sponsored the annual Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale, but as a result of the formation of the Prince Edward Island Tuberculosis League in July they have taken over the sponsoring of the programme for the whole of the Province. The Gyro Club shall continue with the work in Charlottetown, and they have now prepared the letters for Charlottetown and will be visiting the business houses during this week.

The money which is being raised this year by the sale of these seals will be used in continuing the programme of the past, but more especially in addition to this that of keeping a full time Public Health Nurse doing Tuberculosis work only, and if we will stop to realize the large number of active cases in the Province now who are unable to receive Sanatorium treatment, due to the lack of accommodation the extent and the value of home nursing can be appreciated.

There are 60 beds in the Sanatorium, filled all the time, and at present there are 70 active cases of Tuberculosis outside of the Sanatorium, in addition to 32 other cases under supervision. At least 30 of these 70 cases outside need, or should greatly benefit by Sanatorium treatment, both as to the ultimate recovery, and also as to the time it would take to obtain that.

The appeal this year is being made for assistance for to continue and extend this necessary route, that of giving all the aid possible to these patients in their homes, both in the way of helping them get better, as well as preventing the spread of the disease.

Through the means of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals every one of us has an opportunity to help in this great work, because these seals sell for only 1c apiece.

Science Finds Minor Disease Among Lobsters

(Canadian Press)

HALIFAX, Nov. 20 - Believed to be the first time chitinivorous bacteria have been reported to attack the shells of living animals, an "epidemic" among lobsters kept in close confinement for a considerable time, has been discovered by Dr. Ernest Hess of the Dominion Fisheries Experimental Station.

A few isolated lobsters landed directly from the fishing grounds and affected by the same shell disease have been observed in different parts of the Maritimes during the past summer, he said in a paper read before the Nova Scotia Institute of Science. The scarcity of these cases showed that "the disease is of no alarming nature except when the lobsters are kept in large numbers in pounds or flats," the scientist assured his listeners.

Some tissue of plants and animals, particularly the shells of crabs, lobsters, shrimp, the wings of some insects and the cell walls of some molds, contained a substance called chitin, a horny covering. Bacteriological examination of the affected parts yielded cultures of bacteria which were able in the laboratory, to digest pure chitin.

They were called chitinivorous for this reason, Dr. Hess explained.

During the past five years micro organisms which are able to attack and decompose such chitin have received increasing attention. These organisms are quite common in nature, such as the bottom mud of fresh water lakes, sea bottoms, soil, compost heaps, decaying crabs, and even in the intestines of living birds, bats, frogs and fishes.

The scientist emphasized the fact that the shells only are affected and the meat is in no way injured. No danger exist, in any case, to the consumers of lobster meat whether this be canned or freshly boiled lobsters, he declared.

Determined To Find Lost Flier

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Nov. 20 - (CP Cable) - "My greatest ambition is to find Paul Redfern," Art Williams' British Guiana's air explorer said today after his return from a visit with the missing flier's parents in South Carolina.

"I promised them I'd find him or learn what happened to him at all costs," he added. Williams, who runs an air taxi service out of Georgetown, conducted a hunt for Redfern last December and January.

TREATY POWER OF DOMINION IN QUESTION

(By Thomas T. Champton)
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)
(C. P. Cable by Guardian's Special Wire)

LONDON, Nov. 20 - Indications were given in a legal argument today that it might be necessary to amend the Canadian constitution to enable the Dominion to participate in international engagements in accordance with modern economic views.

This point developed at the hearing of a Canadian constitutional appeal before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. The Privy Council has been asked to determine whether the weekly day of rest in industrial undertakings act, the minimum wages act and the limitation of hours of work act are ultra vires of the parliament of Canada. The measures were enacted in 1935 under the Bennett government.

J. B. McNair, Attorney-General of New Brunswick, contended that the legislation under review was all outside the powers of the Dominion which certainly could not appropriate powers exclusively provincial by ratifying a labor convention. Since it dealt with industrial questions, it invaded the legislative area reserved for the provinces.

Lord MacMillan, member of the Privy Council, said the situation now reached was critical for Canada. He contended this legislation was made necessary by an international arrangement arising out of the Versailles Treaty. Canada's treaty-making power had been questioned.

He suggested there was a difference between her treaty-making power and her capacity for performance of treaties by means of legislation. Treaty-making power might need to be extended to meet new times and a new status.

Lord Atkin, another privy councillor, observed that Canada had the authority of the Crown behind her for making treaties and that a treaty could be made on the advice of His Majesty's ministers in Canada. But whether she could perform a treaty where legislation was needed was a question.

Lord MacMillan said the bulk of Canada's international engagements would not require legislation but times were changing and some engagements would need legislation. A new conception of economics led governments to enter into engagements of a kind they never contemplated when the constitution was framed. At the cost of abrogating what had once been regarded as fundamental rights the constitution might need to be adjusted to fit a new economic outlook.

J. W. deB Farris for British Columbia urged that the legislation was in supportable under section 132 of the British North America Act. Obligations under international labor conventions did not form Canada's obligations as part of the British Empire. For this legislation the consent of the provinces should have been sought. British Columbia herself had passed one of these convention acts with the proviso that she would enforce it only when other provinces did so.

The hearing will continue Monday.

O'Leary And Vicinity

Remembrance Day was observed in O'Leary with the following program. First was a parade of the Canadian Legion, Boy Scouts and school children to the monument, where the Legion and Boy Scouts placed wreaths in memory of those who paid the supreme sacrifice. Then all joined in singing one verse of "O Canada". Marching music was furnished by C. A. Santry of Charlottetown who played a piano accordion.

On account of the cold weather the remainder of the program was put on in the town hall, which began by observing the two minutes silence.

O God Our Help in Ages Past, by the school children.

Recitation, in Flanders Fields, by Lila McNeill.

Recitation, by Jean Stetson.

Address, by Mr. A. J. Matheson.

Address, by Mr. Lloyd Henderson.

Hymn, "O God Our King," by O'Leary Male Choir.

Prayer, by Rev. A. F. Baker, O'Leary.

God Save the King.

In the evening a banquet was held at the home of Mrs. Vernon Mathew, O'Leary. About fifty persons attended and partook of a delicious goose supper.

Many friends are sorry to learn that Mr. Wesley Dignon had the misfortune of breaking his arm while he was thrashing.

The funeral of Mr. Peter Perry was held from his late residence in Howland on November 12th to St. Anthony's, Bloomfield. Mr. Perry was one of the older highly respected residents. He was eighty-six years of age.

We are sorry to learn that Truman Harris suffered the loss of one of his fingers last week.

Mr. Peter Pate accompanied by two other men motored from Boston to O'Leary and spent the week end with Mr. Pate's mother, Mrs. P. N. Pate.

Fish Chowder Just The Dish For Supper

Fish chowder is the very dish for the evening meal, and for at least three reasons: It's nourishing but not heavy, it's tasty, and it can be made without much effort at a time when most women are nearly ready for the relaxation they've earned by the day's household work. There are different recipes for fish chowders, of course, but here is one suggested by a fish cookery specialist on the staff of the Dominion Department of Fisheries and how easy to use it.

Fry two-thirds of a cup of minced onion in three tablespoons of butter; then add two cups of flaked or diced raw fish—any kind of Canada's good fish—two cups of diced raw potatoes, and, if desired a cup of chopped celery. Cook the ingredients together for a few minutes, add four cups of cold water, and season with salt and pepper to suit the taste, and then let the mixture boil until the potatoes are tender; after that add four cups of cold milk and heat the chowder again to the boiling point, and serve it when still very hot.

LOWER FREETOWN WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Mrs. Gordon Burns entertained the members of the Women's Institute on Thursday evening, Oct. 1st, at 7.45 p.m. Meeting opened by singing the Women's Institute Ode, followed by repeating of creed in unison.

No report from sick committee. School committee reported school needed cleaning. It was decided to have school cleaned during fall vacation. Correspondence read by secretary and discussion on same.

It was moved and seconded that secretary write for a Peace Day program suggestions. Collection amounted to 24 cents. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. A. C. Gardiner on Nov. 18th. Roll call for next meeting "Peace Motto."

A program was then carried out as follows:

Duet by Mrs. J. Stavert and Olive Stavert.

Reading by Mrs. Gordon Burns. Song by Olive Stavert, Muriel and Lillian Burns.

Instrumental music and step dancing brought the program to a close.

Meeting was moved adjourned and National Anthem sung. Lunch was then served by the hostess and a social hour spent.

Apple Day the Scouts around here were very much in evidence. They had a good day and were well pleased with their reception from the general public.

The annual meeting of the Community Club took place in I.O.O.F. Hall on Nov. 12th. This meeting was well attended. Considerable business was transacted. The appointment of officers for ensuing year took place. - O.
