Clamor For Probe Of U. S. Foreign Policy

By GRAHAM HOVEY
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Demands for an investigation of United States foreign policy swayed Capitol Hill today as legislators debated once leveled by Maj.-Gen. Patrick J. Hurley against professional diplomats.

Misawfully Gen. George C. Marshall slipped quietly into the White House for a conference with President Truman and State Secretary Byrnes prior to leaving probably tomorrow for China, to replace Gen. Hurley, who resigned as ambassador yesterday.

Gen. Hurley charged career diplomats with undermining American policy in China by backing Communists or "imperialists" instead of democracy and unity.

Clamor for Congressional investigation with Gen. Hurley as star witness arose in both Senate and House of Representatives and in both the Democratic and Republican camps.

Blames "imperialists"

Gen. Hurley declared that British, French and Dutch "imperialists" in Asia were hamstringing the professional policy of the Allies to help China establish a free, united, democratic government.

He said he thought there was "no question" that the policy of helping China toward democracy had the support of both the Russian and British Governments, but he added that it "definitely did not have the support of the Imperialist civil servants of Britain in Asia," nor of the French and Netherlands "imperialists."

Chairman Tom Connally (Dem.-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee declared: "I don't like to have General Hurley come to here and look us in the eye and tell us what some of these terrible things are."

He said that the whole foreign service system he "thoroughly cleaned and reorganized" also was to be raised in winter dockings at the National Council.

In attendance are Lt. Col. W. W. Reid, Provincial Director of Physical Fitness for Prince Edward Island; G. C. Darby, administrative director; Kinloch, director in Saskatchewan; M. H. Brewer, Fredericton; Dr. Jules Gilbert, Charlottetown; Hart, Devenney, Winnipeg; W. A. Weiland, Regina; J. H. Keenan, St. John's, Nfld.; and other members of the National Council.

Former Premier Tofo and his associates and predecessors will find themselves in the prisoners' dock, Mr. Keenan said. He added: "Whether we will reach to the very, very top will be decided when we get there."

Seaway May Work Against Maritimes

MONCTON, N. B., Nov. 28 (CP)—Expressing fears that the St. Lawrence seaway and power project would further tend to centralize industry in Ontario and Quebec, the Maritime Commission of the Maritime Board of Trade today urged that a survey of the benefits and detriments of the proposal to the Maritimes be undertaken immediately.

Air-line authorities will be asked to consider in their plans inclusion of international air services between the Maritimes and Europe, West Indies and South America. In the event that plans of Canadian airlines cannot be worked out along these lines, it was recommended that authorization be granted to air services traversing the Maritimes.

J. J. Egan, K.C., Halifax, presided over the meeting in the absence of the chairman, J. D. McKenna, St. John's.

D. E. Turnbull of Halifax was named chairman of the commission, replacing Mr. McKenna, who was named vice-chairman. A. S. Macdonald is secretary-treasurer, and Rand H. Matheson, Moncton, will continue as manager.

Churchill Declares Britain Hag-Ridden

By JAMES MCCOOK
LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP Cable)—A growling Winston Churchill for the first time since the Conservative defeat in the general election of last July unleashed to his full fury at the Labor Government and described Britain as "hag-ridden by Socialist doctrinaires."

Behind the scathing Churchill speech today is an accumulation of Tory wrath at Labor tactics in the House, where Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, taunted the Opposition

Some Canadians May Land At N. Y.

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (CP)—Mal-Gen. Huur Young, D. S. O., Quarter-Master General of the Canadian Army, said today that the next few days which will likely see the giant transport, Queen Elizabeth, discharged to American shores, New York instead of Halifax, because ship owners have said there should be no division between the two sections.

Gen. Young said there had been considerable discussion about the use of Halifax harbor by the Queen Elizabeth. The owners claimed the ship would be in difficulty in the southeasterly gale which provided her no land protection while docking.

Canadian officials argued the port was more convenient, its use made the repatriation more economical there was the matter of prestige and also there was the matter of the possibility of criticism from United States sources who would see the ship discharging Canadians in New York and their own troops.

On the financial aspect of the problem, Gen. Young said the discharge at New York meant ferrying the men across the harbor, double handling of baggage and the payment to American rail lines of demurrage and other charges.

Canadians had also argued that if the port of Halifax had proved the worth of its usefulness and efficiency during the war years, how could it be suddenly abandoned now that the war was over. All other transport such as the Mauretania will continue to use Halifax.

FARMER MEMBERS OF COMMONS AIR VIEWS

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (CP)—Two farmer members of the Commons stated today that Canada will lose her bacon market in the United Kingdom unless the Dominion improves the quality of her product and agrees to accept many British products in exchange.

Mark Senn (PC-Haldimand) and William Bryce (CCF-Selkirk) made the statements as the House dealt with a variety of agricultural topics during continued study of agriculture estimates.

Mr. Senn said sufficient work was not being done to retain the British market despite the fact Canada had food contracts with the United Kingdom which ran until the end of next year.

The bacon market was of great benefit to the Canadian people and to the farmer particularly and to keep it stress had to be placed on quality and on the continuity of supply. He doubted if Canada's reputation as a bacon producer had been enhanced during the last four or five years because about 18 different grades of bacon were sent to Britain and it was not all of the best quality.

Demands now being coming back into the British bacon market and was far ahead of Canada in methods of producing quality hogs and bacon. He suggested Canada should follow Denmark's example and establish her breeding stations under Government control. These could work similarly to check hatcheries.

Mr. Bryce said Denmark would squeeze Canada out of the British market unless she was willing to take many British products in exchange. While Denmark was moving ahead in the dairy products market, Argentina would have an edge on cattle exports because of low production costs there.

The discussion swung to export markets after the first morning sitting of the session was occupied by Western farmers taking issue with a statement made yesterday by Mr. Warren L.-Rinfret (North).

Prime Minister Mackenzie King opened the sitting by stating that there was nothing in any way complicating proceedings of the session and that members of the Dominion-Provincial conference, in session here since Monday.

Western Members Protest

The western members took the floor soon afterwards and criticized Mr. Warren for saying that nothing but "blatant common sense" would be the basis of Western Provinces.

Mr. H. Ferguson (PC-Simcoe North) and John R. MacNicol (PC-Davenport) said they wanted to make it clear the farmers of Ontario and Quebec held nothing against the West and said there should be no division between the two sections.

Premiers Hold Diverse Views At Conference

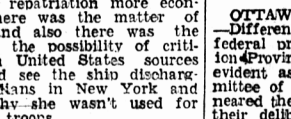

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (Special)—Differences of viewpoint on the federal proposals at the Dominion-Provincial conference were evident as the co-ordinating committee of Provincial Premiers here today held their third day of their deliberations.

Prime Minister King in a prepared statement to the House of Commons denied a press report that there had been a "clash" between provincial and federal leaders in the conference-room, adding that he was making that statement in behalf of all members of the committee. He did not say however that various differences of opinion were not aired around the round-table.

It was learned from sources close to ministers and officials taking part that Premier of the Provinces and their Attorneys-General feel that much spade-
