ALLIES SERVE GERMANS WITH STIFF ULTIMATIUM

Given Till Three O'clock in the Afternoon to Say Whether They agree to Deliver 2,000,000 Tons Coal Monthly or Have Their Territory Occupied by Allies.

SPA, July 13.—The Allies served an ultimatum upon the German delegation to the conference here late this afternoon, that the Germans must agree by three o'clock tomorrow afternoon to deliver to the Allies 2,000,000 tons of coal monthly, otherwise the Allies will take measures to enforce the terms of the Versailles treaty.

SPA, July 13.—If the German reply to the Allied ultimatum is rejected the Allies, it was declared, would take measures to enforce their demands either by occupation of mining territories or by sending their own coal commission into Germany to examine the situation in the mining regions. The ultimatum was delivered in the quietest tone by the Belgian Premier, M. Delaet. As the meeting dissolved Lloyd George, the British Premier, said to Dr. Stimson: "Think this over and come to our terms."

ANOTHER MUSICAL TRIUMPH AT THE PRINCE EDWARD

Theatre Again Filled to Capacity and the Audience Thrilled by the Beautiful Romance so Exquisitely Rendered by the Boston English Opera Company.

Another veritable musical triumph was achieved by the Boston English Opera Company last evening, when Ballo's charming romantic opera "The Bohemian Girl" was presented to a crowded and enthusiastic audience at the Prince Edward Theatre. This opera is perhaps the best known of the general public and is undoubtedly one of the most popular ever written; but although so well-known, a slight resume of the plot may not be out of place here.

A band of Gipsies were camping near the great castle of Arnheim, when a young Pole, Thaddeus, being pursued by soldiers, takes refuge in the camp—on the invitation of Devilshoof, the Gipsy leader. Thaddeus consents to join their band. Directly after, Count Arnhelm, while on a hunting excursion, receives the little Arline, who is wounded by a stag at bay. Thaddeus had saved her from death, and her father, in gratitude, invited him into the castle to the hunter's feast. During the feast, some one proposed the health of the Emperor of Austria. Thaddeus raised his cup to pieces. The enraged nobles were about to kill him, when Devilshoof rushes into the rescue, only to be disarmed and confined a prisoner in the castle. He escapes, and in revenge carries the little Arline off into the woods. Thaddeus, meanwhile, the Gipsies were encamped near Presburg, on the eve of a fair. Devilshoof and his companions, Rob Flonestein, Count Arnhelm's nephew. Thaddeus and Arline, who has grown to be a beautiful woman, met at their meetings are interrupted by the Gipsy Queen, who is jealous of Arline, and in love with Thaddeus. Next day, during the fair, Flonestein, struck with the appearance of Arline, offers her attention, but is repulsed in his efforts to make her his own. Thaddeus, seeing this, slips a medalion, belonging to Flonestein, over Arline's neck. Flonestein, quickly seeing it, has her arrested as a thief, and taken before the Count of Arnheim, who recognizes her as his daughter. Arline, restored to her splendid home, does not leave the old love, or old friends. Thaddeus visits her. They are interrupted by the Count, who is furious at finding the low-born lover with his daughter. Thaddeus then discloses his real rank of Polish noble and explains why he has assumed a gipsy life. This explanation pleases everyone but the Gipsy Queen, who orders a Gipsy to shoot Thaddeus, but the weapon of death is turned aside by Devilshoof, who is there also, to rejoice in the good fortune of his friends.

The music set to this story is exceedingly bright and tuneful, abounding in beautiful melodies and, unlike Monty's opera, full of inspiring and sparkling choruses. The chorus of the Company took full advantage of their opportunity, and sang with surprising verve and vitality. They were a very evenly balanced body of singers, and were especially happy in their singing of the chorus "Silence! Silence!"

The cast of characters was slightly different from the production of "The Trovatore" on Monday night. Miss May Carlin, Mr. William R. Northway, and Mr. Phil Fein being brought into the cast with Miss Morrell, and Messrs. Joseph Sheehan and Bertrand Goltra. Miss Morrell, who as "Arline" substituted for Miss Eden with delightful and fairly captivated her audience last evening by her inexpressibly lovely voice and perfect acting. Anything more entrancing than her singing of "I dream that I dwell" could hardly be imagined. It was loveless itself! Mr. Sheehan, too, was in his happiest mood, and sang the beautiful aria "Then you'll remember me" with a tenderness and beauty of voice unsurpassable. His rendering of the second verse solo voice was one of the most thrilling things of the evening, while his rendition of "Fair land of Poland" aroused the audience to a great burst of enthusiasm—both of these two gems of song were

COALFIELDS OF ALBERTA TO BE OPERATED AT ONCE

Arrangements Completed by which Western Coalmines will Provide Sufficient Coal for Eastern Canada for Coming Winter.

OTTAWA, July 13.—Arrangements have been practically completed, it is learned tonight, whereby an adequate supply of bituminous coal will be secured from the coalfields of Alberta to meet the demands of eastern Canada this coming winter. Negotiations with this object in view have been in progress for the past couple of weeks and it is said tonight that the efforts made to overcome what heretofore was considered unsurmountable difficulties have been successful while there has been abundance of coal in the west for many years past the difficulty has always been that the long haul to Eastern Canada prevented the fuel being placed on the market in successful competition with the coal from the United States. It was said that if the Board of Railway Commissioners would fix a rate low enough to permit of the coal being hauled at a reasonable cost sufficient fuel could be shipped to make up any deficiency that might result from a shortage of coal in the United States since the Railway Board was given charge of the securing of coal. It has given in this phase of the subject further consideration and it is reported that it will fix a price that will make the shipment of coal to Eastern points commercially feasible.

INSPECTOR WILSON MAKES STATEMENT

ST. JOHN, July 13.—Rev. W.D. Wilson, Chief Liquor Inspector for New Brunswick, formerly of Charlottetown, returned to the city yesterday from Fredericton. He was interviewed by a Standard reporter on his views on the matter of Saturday's vote on the question of Prohibition, said that personally he feels deeply gratified with the result.

The people by a splendid majority have declared that they want Prohibition and that they are opposed to the sale of wine and beer. "This expression given by the voters on Saturday should set at rest any doubts that have been in the minds of men concerning this question."

"The path is now made plain for all who have to do with the law and its enforcement. The mandate given by the people on Saturday last should, in my opinion, be taken seriously."

"The results of the vote show that the people expect to see the law enforced, and that they will expect the officers to do so. "Taking the whole matter all in all, there can be no doubt but that the vote is deeply significant and ought not to be regarded lightly. "As the Chief Inspector, I am deeply impressed."

"As a member of the Temperance Alliance of New Brunswick making some small contribution for Prohibition, I am highly pleased because of the crowning victory achieved on July 10th."

STRIKES IN HALIFAX MARINE ENGINEERING PLANTS SETTLED.

HALIFAX, N.S., July 12.—In two of the marine engineering plants, the strike in force since June 1st, has been amicably settled and the strikers are returning to work tomorrow morning. These two plants are Flemming Bros., on Cabot Street, and Hills and Sons, on Kempt Road, in which the iron workers and moulders went out on strike in sympathy with the men from the shipyards. In these plants, the men were approached by the employers as individuals, not as members of the unions affected, and in both cases they agreed to accept the terms which have been offered, returning to work on Tuesday.

In the Flemming plant there were only ten men affected but these are to receive the same pay for a forty-eight hour week as they formerly received for a week of fifty-four hours, the company offering them shorter working hours rather than a larger weekly wage.
