Yachting Over For Season

The yachting season at Summerside is over for this year and the owners of the sailing craft have been busy last week dismantling their boats and putting them into their winter quarters. The yacht belonging to Mayor Leard of Borden made her last trip for this year on Sunday afternoon when Messrs. Lawrence Gerlevisen and Stephen Pond sailed her down to Borden, where she will be laid up for the winter. They made the trip in a little over two hours with a stiff breeze. There has been quite an interest in the different boat races during the summer and the season was a success from every point of view. The yachtsmen held another meeting on Saturday evening when matters of general interest were discussed. The matter of forming a club was postponed until a future date.

It was decided and agreed upon by those present that it would be necessary to have more than one class for next season's racing as there will probably be some larger boats built this winter. Classes tentatively adopted were as follows: Boats up to 20 feet in length; keel boats 20 to 25 feet, and keel boats 25 to 30 feet. There were a number of residents from Borden present and they informed the meeting that they had definitely decided to have a yachting club and that they would work in close co-operation with Summerside. Thanksgiving Day At Canoe Cove
Thursday last had a decidedly Sabbatic tinge about it in the Canoe Cove district, being as quiet and calm as the weekly day of rest. Schools were closed in the parish, also stores and post-office, and no mail came in or went out. Many attended service at the Kirk in the morning, where joyful praise exercises with the inspired Psalms marked the occasion. Dr. Lowry preached an appropriate sermon from Psalm 92:1-2, "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto Thy name, O Most High: To show forth Thy loving-kindness in the morning and Thy faithfulness every night." The preacher dwelt at length on the outpour of devout gratitude to God for all good of the temporal and spiritual blessings of life, for the privileges of the Gospel, and for the assurance of celestial immortality beyond this life. Dr. Lowry gave an interesting narrative of the observance of Thanksgiving Day in past generations. A similar service was held at Clyde River church in the evening.

Feast Of Christ

The King Offered On Sunday

The feast of Christ the King on Sunday was solemnly observed in St. Paul's Church. In the morning the Pastor, Rt. Rev. G. J. MacLellan, P.A., V.G., preached at all the Masses, his subject being "The Kingdom of Christ." In the afternoon at 3 o'clock, the members of the local unit of the Canadian Catholic Mission Crusade held a procession in honor of "Christ the King." The church was crowded to witness the youthful Mission Crusaders in procession, carrying their banners and singing, as they moved slowly around the church, their Crusade and Mission hymns. The sermon for the occasion on "Crusaders and the Missions," was delivered by Rev. E. L. Murray. Following the sermon all the boys and girls joined in the recitation of the Crusade Pledge, and finally Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament brought the service to a close. In the evening at 7 o'clock, Vespers were chanted, followed by the Rosary and Benediction.

AT MISCOUCHE

Special services were held on Sunday at St. John the Baptist Church, Miscouche, in honour of the Feast of Christ the King. It being also Holy Name Sunday, there was a special Mass at 7:30. At this Mass all the members of the Holy Name Society received Holy Communion. Rev. Dr. Monaghan, P.P., was the celebrant and also preached the sermon. At High Mass at 10 o'clock, Rev. Fr. Sullivan of St. Dunstan's University was the celebrant. He also delivered an inspiring address in keeping with the Feast of "Christ the King." The choir rendered special music at this Mass.

At 2:30, the children formed in procession outside the Church and marched to the church, where a special sermon was held, followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. At this service, Rev. Dr. Monaghan preached an eloquent sermon on Missions. The procession was arranged in the following order: Two little boys dressed as monks and representing Peter the Hermit; Three boys carrying the banner of the Cross; a small boy representing a Crusader. Two boys in Chinese garb; a group of older boys. Then came a little girl representing Madonna Bourgeois, Foundress of the Congregation de Notre Dame, with two little girls dressed to represent Japanese ladies. The remainder of the children brought up the rear. The children presented a very pretty picture in their costumes and white veils. As they proceeded they sang very sweetly their Crusade and Mission hymns. -S.

When Is Woman Indispensable?

(By The Canadian Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 - Is there really a woman who is indispensable? Apparently so, for Miss Mary M. O'Reilly's service has been extended by Presidential order beyond the retirement age. Miss O'Reilly is the cameo-faced assistant director of the mint whose quiet dignity and ready charm have made her a household name for 32 years. Officially, she is known as letter-perfect in her work. There is no case on record where she was ever forced to resort to a file for an answer concerning mint questions.

Miss O'Reilly has reached the retirement age of 70, but by special order of President Roosevelt she will be continued in service until Nov. 1, 1936, the extension was granted at the request of Secretary Morgenthau who said he regarded her services as indispensable that he needed her in her present position and that it would be difficult to proceed without her. Mrs. Nellie Ross, former Governor of Wyoming and Director of the Mint, was elated. "I profoundly appreciate the action of the President in extending Miss O'Reilly's tenure of service," she said. "Her abilities are unique."

CAREER IN BALLET FOR ENGLISH GIRL

(By The Canadian Press)
LONDON, Oct. 28 - A real career is open now to English girls in ballet and they are not forced to take Russian names before the public can be persuaded to regard them seriously. At least this is the opinion of Miss Lillian Baylis, manager of the Old Vic, expressed at a rehearsal for the ballet and opera season which has opened at Sadler's Wells. Miss Baylis is expecting great things from two young ballerinas, Margot Fonteyn and Elizabeth Miller. "Both are English," she said to a reporter, "but that does not mean they cannot dance. There is a real career open to girls who join our ballet school."

POTATOES PLENTIFUL

READLYN, Sask., Oct. 28 - Potatoes are so plentiful in this once-dried-out area this year they're being used to fatten up turkeys for Christmas. The spuds are boiled, mixed with grain and milk and fed to farm-yard inhabitants.

FASCISTS ADVANCE

Di Duca ordered them into "the front line of duty and sacrifice," to defend Italy against "the most odious injustice" of the "menace of economic siege, which history will regard as an absurd crime, destined to increase disorder and misery among nations."

He was accompanied by his Italian and three of his children, his secretary and servant. Mussolini's official foreign trade institute was working on a program to safeguard Italy's stock of many essential products and devise means of getting others, in anticipation of the possibility that League's sanctions may be really effective.

Gasoline, one of the essentials for war in the air, has already been heavily taxed. The price today is 85 cents a gallon.

If necessary, other restrictions such as limitation of the use of automobiles will be inaugurated if gasoline cannot be obtained abroad. Coal, two-fifths of which is imported from Great Britain, is being used less because of higher prices. Hotels plan coal economies, and one of the largest is considering heating its boilers electrically.

Posters demanding that Italians "buy Italian products" were posted everywhere. There was little of any buying for the future.

ENITISOTTO, ITALIAN OCCUPIED TERRITORY, Oct. 21 - (By Air Mail to Paris (A.P.)) - Emancipation of Ethiopian slaves in occupied territory in North Ethiopia constitutes one of the first acts of social service Italy promised to perform on entering the country. Between 15,000 and 20,000 slaves, estimated Count Gerardo Della Porta, Italian political commissioner for the Entico sector, have been liberated in the sector taken over by the first Italian advance.

The problem of social transition necessary before the new order of freemen can function properly has been almost entirely solved in the Tigre region, where the desire of slaves to continue working with the same masters, even if not paid a salary. In other sections of Ethiopia, where slaves engage more extensively in artisanship and small manufacturing, the problem will be more difficult. In fact, says Porta, a social revolution may be expected.

STEADY ADVANCE ON SOUTHERN FRONT

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland, Oct. 28 - (Delayed) - (A. P.) - The Italian southern army was reported here tonight to have established a front of more than 400 miles cutting across the southeastern section of Ethiopia.

With one column said to have pushed forward almost halfway into the desert lying between Italian Somaliland and the foothills of the Ogaden Province of Ethiopia. The thin line of Fascist troops was said to extend from British Somaliland to the junction of Kenya and the Juba territory. In the far south, an Italian column was reported to have advanced 40 miles from Dolo, on the border of Italian Somaliland, toward the Ganale Dorya River.

A slow but steady advance was reported by a body of troops marching in the valley of the Webbe Shibel River. Tanks and bombing planes led the movement into the desert, and tanks were said to have pressed 20 miles beyond Geledi, while planes bombed villages in that area.

Meanwhile the Ethiopian army under Ras Nasibu, governor of Harar Province, was understood to be lying in wait between Jijiga and Dalo, not far from the British Somaliland frontier and near Harar. Its position was said to be very strong. It was stated that the warriors were ready for an order for a general battle in that area, where the Italians would have difficulty fighting in rugged, high country with which they are not familiar.

Harar had been completely evacuated by the Ethiopian soldiers. It was reported, except in a small group of irregulars which remained to police the city. An Ethiopian army commanded by Ras Desta Denu was in the Ogaden hills after falling, during an expedition into the valley, to negotiate a turning movement against the soldiers of Rome.

WILL HOLD RECOUNT

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
BOISEVAIN, Man., Oct. 28 - A recount of federal election ballots in Souris constituency will be held here Wednesday before Judge Armstrong of the county court. The recount was applied for by E. F. Willis, Conservative candidate, defeated by seven votes by George MacDonald, Liberal.

DESTROYERS ENROUTE

incial conference, Prime Minister King stated tonight, following a long session of Cabinet Council. He expected to arrange the meeting in November.

Considerable progress had been made on the numerous tasks facing the Government, Mr. King said, but he was not ready to comment on various matters which had been under consideration today. Queried as to the departure Friday of Senator Raoul Dandurand for England, Mr. King said the Government leader in the Senate was on a purely private mission and his visit to Europe had no political significance. Senator Dandurand had planned the trip for September and had postponed his departure until after the election.

The Prime Minister was not yet in a position, he said to comment on such outstanding questions as the Canada-United States trade treaty, the trade dispute with Japan, a future of the Canadian Wheat Board or provincial financing. Finance Minister Dunning was in his office today for the first time since he was sworn in with the Government last Wednesday, and he spent part of the day familiarizing himself with the staff and the quarters which he occupied for less than a year in 1929-30. It will be his responsibility as Minister of Finance to take up the matter of trade negotiations with United States which were interrupted by the general election and have not yet been resumed.

Mr. Dunning will also be called upon to deal with the knotty problem of loans to Western Provinces and to administer the Housing Act, Farm Loans, Farmers Creditors Arrangement Act, and the Bank of Canada. Cabinet sessions will be held almost daily while the Government is engaged in dealing with current problems and initiating new policies. (By Joseph E. Sharkey, Associated Press Foreign Staff)

GENEVA, Oct. 28 - Austria was regarded in League of Nations circles tonight as the only possible serious leak in an economic barrier against Germany around Italy. This gigantic net was reinforced by the adherence of Russia today to an economic boycott.

Japan and Germany have indicated they would do nothing to embarrass the League's boycott. Switzerland will apply the arms embargo and restrict her purchases of Italian goods to an amount equaling the value of her exports to Italy.

Despite Austria's opposition to sanctions, an Austrian spokesman told this correspondent that his country was not likely to sell much to Italy because of Italy's probable inability to pay. Little hope of an early peace is held by diplomats here. The general impression is that the demands of Premier Mussolini and what the League and Ethiopia could grant are so wide apart that peace negotiations have little chance now of succeeding.

China, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Luxembourg and Switzerland announced tonight an arms embargo against Italy and the complementary lifting of the embargo from Ethiopia. This makes 40 countries backing the arms embargo.

Twenty-three countries have subscribed to financial sanctions. However only 13 have adhered to the economic boycott. In a telegram Moscow announced the Soviet would impose an embargo on the exportation of key products which can be used for making munitions and also an embargo on all importations into Russia from Italy.

The League, however, expects additional adhesions to the economic boycott between now and Oct. 31, when a committee of 52 nations meets to fix a date for enforcement of the economic interdiction.

PEACE PLAN DRAFTED

(Copyright 1935, By The Havas News Agency) (C.P.-Havas)

(By Guardian's Special Wire)
LONDON, Oct. 28 - Usually reliable sources indicated tonight that British and French colonial experts have drafted a plan aimed to meet Premier Mussolini's territorial ambitions. It is understood, however, that it would deprive Di Duca of his desired protectorate over Tigre Province and of a link joining Eritrea and Italian Somaliland. The proposal was understood to include these points: 1. Appointment of an Italian adviser to Haile Selassie, under whom an Italian governor would administer virtually the entire southern half of Ethiopia in the Negus' name. 2. Frontier revision in Tigre and Danakil Province, these territories to be administered by the League of Nations. 3. An Ethiopian outlet to the sea by a strip of Ethiopian territory leading to this port. 4. Foreign legions commanded by Italian officers to patrol the border territories adjoining Eritrea and Italian Somaliland, disarming the natives, abolishing slavery and maintaining law and order.

Rev. Mr. Nicholson, North Bedque, exchanged pulpits with Rev. W. A. MacMillan on Sunday by request of the Presbytery, both speaking on behalf of the Missionary and Maintenance Fund. Mr. Nicholson was accompanied by Mr. P. N. Profit and Mr. MacMillan by Mr. John Simpson. Both Mr. Simpson and Mr. Profit are representatives of the Layman's Movement in connection with their congregations.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Wall, Baltic, was the scene of a happy gathering when their friends and neighbors met to welcome Mrs. Wall. There were also present friends from Charlottetown and St. John's. The evening was pleasantly spent in all kinds of music, both instrumental and vocal, and thoroughly enjoyed by all. A dainty lunch was served by the ladies.

P.E.I. Hospitals Approved In U.S. And Canada

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28 - "One out of every 17 persons went to the hospitals of the United States and Canada last year," declares Doctor George Crile of Cleveland, chairman of the Board of Regents of the American College of Surgeons, which is opening its twenty-fifth annual congress here today. "But this is much less than one decade ago, when one out of 10 went to the hospital annually. Twice this number attended the out-patient clinics of hospitals where they received ambulatory treatment." Continuing, he stated, "Despite economic conditions, I believe this is a good index to the health of our people, the effectiveness of scientific medicine, and the progress of disease control. These were the chief objectives the American College of Surgeons had in mind when it promulgated the Hospital Standardization movement."

At the opening of the congress before several hundred surgeons, hospital delegates and others, Doctor Malcolm T. MacEachern, associate Director of the American College of Surgeons, who has charge of the Hospital Standardization movement, called attention to the completion of more than 24,000 individual surveys of hospitals by the College during the past 18 years, with an increase in the number surveyed from 692 in 1918 to 2,868 in 1935. He also pointed out that when the first survey was made in 1918 only 89 hospitals met the requirements, whereas now 2,523 are on the approved list. He stated, "It will be of interest to know that now there is an approved hospital within 20 to 30 miles of 96 per cent of the population of the United States." "This," he said, "means much, not only in the care of emergencies but in the combating of all diseases to which the human body is subject. The voluntary hospitals have played their role nobly despite the most trying economic conditions in history. Notwithstanding greatly reduced income and vastly increased load or free work without government subsidy, they have not only kept their doors open but have improved the service to the sick and injured, as reflected in the lower morbidity and mortality rates."

The approved hospitals in this state are named in the following list:

Prince Edward Island
Charlottetown Hospital: General, Church, Sisters, 85.
Prince Edward Island Hospital: General, Community, Trustees, 101.
Provincial Sanatorium: Tuberculosis, Province, Sanatorium Commission, 54.

Summerside
Prince County Hospital: General, Community, Trustees, 70.

SHOWING HOUSE OF POISON PIN
(By The Canadian Press)
LONDON, Oct. 28 - The Cabinet of 1000 Crimes, a grim relic of the days when potentates "bumped off" their enemies with a simple dose of poison, cunningly administered, has been on exhibition in a department store in London. The box was once the treasured possession of one of the Borgias—a gift from Caesar to his sister Lucrezia, who later became the famous Duchess of Ferrara.

Built as a liqueur and wine cabinet, but with dozens of secret drawers in which important documents were hidden, the cabinet could be unlocked only by the use of a poisoned key. Enemies and thieves, unfamiliar with the key, set a spring in motion as they turned the lock, a poisoned needle pricked the user's hand, and he died within a few hours. The original key was shown with the cabinet—but without the poison. Knowing the secret of the hidden needle, however, it was surprising how many experimenters pricked their fingers at the preliminary view.

Inside the cabinet, but still undiscovered, is the formula for the "waterclear" poison which sent so many people to their death. Three hundred years after Lucrezia's death the cabinet was given by Cardinal de Medicis to the Russian Tsar, Alexander. It stayed in Russia till recently smuggled to Poland to become the property of Baron von Landauer.

bonds and treasury bills, shows an increase of $60,000,000 in the 10-year period, 1923 to 1933. This is exclusive of similar boosts in municipal indebtedness which in some cases have had to be assumed by the provinces. Possibility of a national scheme of debt refunding, accompanied by some plan of supervision of future financing may form a subject for the financial experts at a conference.

In the drive for new revenues Dominion and municipalities have been tapping new fields of taxation and in some cases confusion and inequality are said to have arisen. Premier Hepburn of Ontario has announced his intention of imposing an income tax and has suggested that the federal government might collect it for the province in order to avoid duplication of effort. The merits of this suggestion and the possibility of extending it to other provinces will be considered.

Mr. King has called attention to the varying taxes imposed on mines in the different provinces which he regards as an obstacle to the development of the industry. An attempt will be made to reach an agreement upon a uniform mining policy in all provinces, accompanied by uniform rates and methods of taxation. The gold bullion tax imposed by the Dominion for one year drew protests from some of the provinces.

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

Unemployment relief is a problem in the financial class. Mr. King's policy calls for the setting up of a representative national commission to handle all relief and all projects whose chief purpose is the providing of work. He hopes provinces, municipalities and other agencies will participate in and co-operate with the work of the commission and the work-out of this policy will require discussion at the conference.

Definite practical financial import is a settlement of the proportion of relief costs to be borne by each government and the method of accounting for expenditures. At present this is covered by agreements between the province and the Dominion calling for payment of lump sums from the Dominion to each province. Mr. King has described this method as unsatisfactory.

Questions of housing schemes and rural credits will also find a place on the agenda. Parliament enacted a housing law last session which may come up for review. The Federal Farm Loan Act was extended greatly and the provinces have been less active in this field than at one time.

The Darnley and Sea View Auxiliary of the W.M.S. held their autumn thank-offering in Sea View Hall on Thursday evening last. The hall was filled with an attentive and appreciative audience. Rev. Mr. MacMillan presided and led the devotional period, after which a splendid program was carried out. This program consisted of readings and a play entitled "Hanging the Sign" by nine members, representing nine different nations in traditional dress, suggestive of each where mission work is being carried on. The Long River male choir, who were present by special invitation, furnished several selections. Mr. Ernest Dunning and Mr. Murdoch MacLeod were the accompanists. A pleasing diet was also given by Mrs. MacGregor and Mrs. MacNutt with Mrs. Campbell as accompanist. A practical and helpful address on Thanksgiving was given by Rev. Mr. MacMillan. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to all who so kindly contributed to the program and graciously acknowledged. At the close a lunch was served by the ladies in charge. The free will offering was most satisfactory to all concerned. -M.

Historic Link With Ethiopia

REGINA, Oct. 28 - (C.P.) - Regina has a direct and historic link with the present Italian-Ethiopian conflict. They are contained in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police barracks here and are used as ornaments before the memorial to members of the force killed in action. The discovery was made recently by Assistant Commissioner S. C. Wood after examining a news picture showing an Ethiopian soldier engaged in firing an ancient cannon. He recognized it as exactly similar to three pieces at the barracks.

A search through the records revealed that the field guns had been used by Lord Napier of Magdala in his expedition to Abyssinia, as Ethiopia is better known and had hurried shells at mountain warriors lurking in the passes.

The fact of Britain's conquest of Abyssinia are not generally known. In 1888 King Theodore of Ethiopia threw the British ambassador and other Europeans into prison, without giving any explanation for his action. After unavailing efforts for their release an expedition was ordered.

The force consisted of 12,000 men, mostly engineers, and after a short campaign Magdala, then the capital, was stormed by the British troops. Theodore was found dead under a pile of slain at the main gate, scene of the fiercest fighting. Emperor Menelik, then a provincial governor sympathetic to the British, succeeded him. When Napier evacuated the country the guns were returned to England and later sold to the Canadian government, forming a part of the armament of the North West Field Force in the Riel rebellion.

DOCTOR EXTOLS SCANTY DRESS

(By The Canadian Press)
LONDON, Oct. 28 - During a discussion on his annual report, Dr. Milton Jones, Medical Officer for Llanfyllin Rural Council, said he found girls under 20 were less susceptible to tuberculosis than boys under 20 and said the reason was that girls wore scanty clothing, which allowed sunlight and fresh air to get to them. Women, too, were less susceptible to tuberculosis than men because they wore less clothing.

HOSEIERY TURNING GREEN OR BLUE
The importance of color in accessory fashions this season cannot be over-emphasized. While classic blacks and browns are recurrent, the attention given dark wine tones, greens of the blue and the yellow cast and the lighter ginger tones of brown are noteworthy. Hosiery as well as bags, hats and gloves reflected this new interest in color, appearing in rich jewel tones.
