Mrs. Ethan Stewart had charge of the study book. A special feature was a quiz on events and outstanding missionaries. One who had overcome great and for many, insurmountable difficulties was Schneresckewsky, born and raised a Jew in Russia, and brought into the Christian faith by a Baptist pastor in New York. In 1858 closed doors in China began to open, and a year later he entered Shanghai. He set about learning the Chinese language. His plan was to translate the Bible. In June 1887 he asked to be relieved of his duties as Bishop in order to devote all his time making a translation of the Bible in Easy Wenli, the language of the literature of a quarter of the human race. The Mission Board expressed regret that they were unable to spare him, so he tried to fulfill these duties, and to carry on his own translation plans. However, weakened from overwork, he was stricken with poliomeyelitis which caused paralysis of the four limbs, and for a long time suffered loss of speech. Four years later he recovered his speech, and could use one finger with which he could type. He spent twenty-one years in a wheel chair, during which time he revised his translation of the Mandarin Old Testament, and translated the entire Bible in Easy Wenli, completed references in Bibles in both languages, and left the beginning of a Mongolian dictionary. Mrs. G. Nicholson is to review the study book for the next month. The meeting closed and refreshments were served by the hostess and committee, then a social half-hour was enjoyed.

TRAFFIC TRAGEDIES

More school-age boys and girls lose their lives in traffic accidents than by any other single cause. Public safety officers believe that the best way to combat this terrible toll of young life is by intensive education of both children and adults in common sense safety habits.

Each year in Canada some 15,000 children die in traffic accidents, many of which could be prevented by proper training of pedestrians and motorists. Parents, drivers and all public-spirited citizens have a responsibility in helping to save our children's lives.

In Memoriam

THE LATE C. H. POOLE

The people of Montague and the surrounding districts were called upon to mourn the loss of a well and favourably known citizen in the person of Charles Herbert Poole, who passed away at the King's County Hospital in Montague on Thursday, April 1st., in his 78th. year.

Because Mr. Poole had always been such an active and busy man, it came as a great shock to his relatives and many friends when his death followed such a brief illness. Only a week before he had attended the Curling Club and had enjoyed himself as usual.

He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John T. Poole of Lower Montague and a brother of the late Mr. W. L. Poole of Montague.

Except for a few years spent in the States Mr. Poole lived most of his life conducting a saw mill and a farm at Lower Montague where he and his wife, who were particularly well known for their fine hospitality had for some time catered to tourists in their attractive home. Through contacts made in this way they had enjoyed the acquaintance and the friendship of a great many people in Eastern Canada and the U. S.

It is interesting to note that quite recently he celebrated his fifty-seventh wedding anniversary at which time he and Mrs. Poole received congratulations and many good wishes for their future health and happiness.

Besides his wife who was the former Miss Etta Thompson, he leaves to mourn two daughters Misses Bessie and Martha.

Reverend A. S. Adams conducted the service at the United Church, Montague at 2.30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, April 3rd, when there were congregated many people, young and old to pay their last respects to one who had gone and who will be greatly missed.

The beautiful flowers, many and varied spoke of the high esteem in which Mr. Poole was held by all who knew him.

The hymns sung by the choir of the church were "Unto the Hills" and "Rock of Ages". Mrs. William Garrick sang very beautifully "In the Sweet Bye and Bye".

The pall bearers were Messrs Clarence White, Chessell Annear, Jack Annear, A. F. Campbell, William Johnston and A. C. MacKay.

Interment was in the Community Cemetery, Montague.

MACHINES OIL EGGS FOR TRIP OVERSEAS

REGINA, April 26 — (CP) — Giving eggs the old oil is big business in Saskatchewan which last year shipped 56,847 cases of oiled eggs, most of them to the United Kingdom.

W. W. Brown, a dairy produce manager, said the practice of oiling eggs as a preservative began three years ago at the request of British purchasing authorities.

Last year Canada as a whole shipped 669,229 cases — nearly 241,000,000 eggs.

The eggs are soaked in mineral oil which sinks into the porous shell of the egg without actually seeping through. This keeps the outside air from penetrating into the egg and retards both evaporation and spoilage.

Eggs going to England are oiled in the spring and put into storage until the fall when they are crated for shipment overseas. While in storage they are kept at an even 30-degree temperature, and usually drop one grade in the process.

Mr. Brown said all major egg shippers in the province have adopted the practice.

The eggs are oiled in a revolving machine which soaks trays of eggs in the bath of pure mineral oil. After passing through the bath they are lifted from the trays by lifters, which handle 30 dozen eggs at a time, and transferred to crates.

M. R. Mitchell, district federal poultry inspector, said there are about 30 egg-oiling stations in the province, all of them operating under federal supervision.

PRE-TRAVEL PROTECTION

Many Canadians are planning vacations or other journeys abroad and in order to protect these travellers from dangerous diseases found in many foreign countries, national health authorities are urging prospective travellers to avail themselves of immunization protection before leaving Canada.

They point out that health conditions in many foreign countries have deteriorated since the war and that immunization is a "must" for those travelling in the danger areas.
