GOVERNMENT HOUSE

Sir.—His Honour Judge Stewart is at it again. In his recent address delivered before the Caledonian Club he seems to carry a chip on his shoulder throughout. He says: "It is sad to reflect that there are still some among us with so little appreciation of the fitness of things as to call this Island the baby Province of Canada." Why find fault with an innocent remark like this? Our Island is the baby Province of Canada in that it is the smallest in size, and we are proud of the fact that such a small province should have counted for so much in our nation's history.

His Honour next takes issue with the act of Governor Fanning in giving a deed of Government House Farm, and says that this farm had "been lawfully dedicated to the use of the public" before that. Now my knowledge of legal terms is not equal to His Honour's accuracy, how had this "lawful dedication" taken place? Was there a deed from the King to the public? A few sentences later His Honour says the land belonged to either the Town of Charlottetown or the King of England, and I think there is quite a difference between these, although the similarity may be clear to a man of law.

Then His Honour states that "the law does not permit anyone to grant to himself IN THE MANNER ATTEMPTED HERE." Why would any man want to grant land to himself? His Honour states as his excuse for giving this matter so much attention is that the Government now seems to think that the Governor owns the property. If such is the case the Government would be very foolish to spend money on another person's property, as they have been doing.

Referring to some act passed by the Bell Government and which Governor McKinnon disallowed, the Judge says "it was certainly a government measure promoted by the Premier."

A little later on he says the bill was supported by the whole legislature on both sides of the House. He says the Government should have resigned and run an election on the issue. Where was the issue, I would like to ask the Judge, if both parties supported the Bill? It would have been a tame election. In the closing paragraphs of his address, Judge Stewart refers to the lack of dancing space in Government House and suggests that an up-to-date hotel be installed there with a ball-room amply sufficient for the times. This seems like an anticlimax after the talk of Governments and Governments in the first of his speech. Or is this really the high point in his address, inspired by his interest in the Terpsichorean Art?

ELDON. Sixteen members met at the home of Mrs. L. A. Ross, when roll call was answered by a Valentine verse. The program consisted of several comic recitations and jokes by the members, which added greatly to the merriment of the evening. Two new members were added to the roll. It was agreed that the club go something to raise money for the Orphanage. Roll call for the next meeting to be answered by a "Limerick."

Happenings of The Week

The Queen Mary Needlework Guild met at Government House yesterday afternoon for sewing, and many lovely articles of clothing were added to the children's box.

Mrs. R. H. Sterns met with a very distressing accident a few days ago when she tripped in her home, breaking her leg.

Mrs. Ernest Duchemin was also unfortunate enough to fall in her home, breaking her arm.

Word was received this week of the death of Mr. Egerton McNabb, of St. John's, Nfld., who with Mrs. McNabb spent several weeks here and at New Perth last summer, seeking renewed health.

Bermuda correspondents continue to tell of the delights of the season there. Mrs. Worrell has been entertained by numerous friends. P. E. Island friends are glad to hear of her complete restoration to health. The Archbishop is expected in Halifax Wednesday of Holy Week.

Mrs. N. E. MacKay, of Halifax, with her sister, Mrs. Fred Nash, left on Tuesday for Boston.

Dr. E. S. Notting is making a good recovery after his recent operation for appendicitis.

Golfers here will be interested to know that Mr. Charles H. Read is the newly elected President of the Amherst Golf Club, with Mr. W. W. Baird as vice-president, while the executive is composed of Messrs. W. H. Tennant, Don MacDonald, W. E. Learned, Mrs. W. M. Manning, and Mrs. Norman C. Rodger.

Some smart Easter bonnets were shown at the several millinery and spring openings on Thursday, and it would be difficult to say whose display was the nicest. That it is not too early to buy was freely demonstrated as one after another of the pretty hats disappeared.

The new colors are as attractive as their names imply—and here are some of them: Date brown, wheat, horizon blue, Canton blue, marine blue, tern grey, pigeon grey, cedar, green, almond green and reseda green.

New hats have the brims pressed to give a lift over the eyes, and the broken line, which is very smart.

Straws will vie with fabrics for hats as the season advances, but some of the smartest sport models will be designed of satin or silk.

Nowadays a place of definite importance is held by the scarf in the accessories for a modern wardrobe. It may be a thing of grace on an evening gown, or it may add note of smartness to the sports costume.

In its new version the scarf may be either a large square or a triangular piece of fabric that has much the appearance of the square. In many instances, the new scarf is of material matching the hat or frock, and lends itself to numerous ways of arrangement. It may be folded to conform to oblong lengths, folded on the triangle and draped over one shoulder, tied in back or front, used for a bandana, given cravat lines about the throat, or be adapted as a bib or knotted at one side with long labor ends.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. PETER McISAAC.

Seldom have the people of Alberry Plains received such a shock as on March 17th, when it became known that the angel of death visited a highly respected resident of that place, in the person of Mrs. Peter McIsaac. The deceased has been in excellent health until five days previous to her death, when she was stricken with that dreadful disease, pneumonia. All that devoted care and medical skill could do were un-

the progress of the fatal disease. Her pastor, Rev. P. D. McGuigan was hurriedly called in, who on seeing she had not long to live, administered the last rites of the Roman Catholic church. In the closing hours of her life she exhibited the same calm and composed spirit as ever characterized her throughout the struggles and the conflicts of life. The late Mrs. McIsaac was a person of an exemplary character and a very pious christian, and was honored and esteemed by all who knew her. She seemed to have a natural gift of winning affection, and that smile for everyone and that smile seemed to be infectious, for to be in her company meant to be happy. The late Mrs. McIsaac was formerly Mary Ellen Christian, of St. Georges. There are left to mourn the loss of a devoted wife, a sorrowful husband, and adopted son, two sisters, Mrs. Angus Johnston, Primrose; and Mrs. A. W. Hermans, Detroit, who have the sympathy of the whole community. The funeral which took place on Sunday afternoon to Vernon River Church, where all that was mortal of a kind and loving wife, was laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery. May her soul rest in peace. Roger Babson on Canada
Q. What is Roger Babson's opinion on Canada?

A. Roger Babson, the well-known statistical authority on conditions in America, says—"Canada to-day possesses the opportunities which the United States possessed 50 years ago, and this specially applies to the four western provinces which contain an area equal to about one-quarter of the entire United States, abounding in great virgin forests, rich deposits of coal, iron, copper, zinc, lead, gold and silver; millions of acres of the finest wheat-growing land in the world.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN

There is nothing that touches the heart of humanity as much as the sight of crippled children. There is always a willingness to do what is possible to lighten the burden of their affliction and to brighten their lives. This is a commendable spirit as it gives evidence of man's regard for those who are not so fortunate as he is himself. There is also behind it the feeling that every child should have a chance in this world.

It is unfortunate that, to the majority of people, a crippled child is one who is deformed physically or who has lost part of a limb. These make up only part of the group. The child who has a damaged heart or whose organs are deficient in any way is just as much a cripple as is the child whose bones are twisted.

It is right and just that suitable and extra attention should be provided for these crippled children. Because of their handicap, they need special care and guidance in their education.

While this is true, our chief concern should be to prevent any child from becoming crippled and, as a result, handicapped in life's venture. It is a fact that the condition of many of these children could have been prevented by care and proper treatment at the right time.

Many damaged hearts result from diseased tonsils and teeth which are not properly and promptly treated. Much permanent damage results from such diseases as scarlet fever and measles.

If we wish to protect our Canadian children, then it is our responsibility to support the work of health departments and health organizations which seek to prevent the conditions that cripple children; which bring to the attention of parents the need for early and proper treatment; and which seek to spread knowledge concerning prevention.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered by letter.

Questions as to diagnosis and treatment will not be answered.

YOUR MISSION

If you cannot go on the ocean sail among the swiftest fleets. Rocking on the highest billows. Laughing at the storms you meet—You can stand among the sailors. Anchored yet within the bay; You can lend a hand to help them. When they launch their boats away

If you are too weak to journey up the mountains steep and high. You can stand within the valley While the multitudes go by; You can chant in happy measures. As they slowly pass along; Though they may forget the singer. They will not forget the song.

If you have not gold and silver Ever ready at command, If you cannot toward the needy. Reach an ever open hand; You can visit the afflicted. O'er the erring you can weep; You can be a true disciple. Sitting at the Saviour's feet.

If you cannot, in the conflict. Prove yourself a soldier true; If, where the fire and smoke are thickest.

There's no work for you to do; When the battlefield is silent. You can go with careful tread. You can bear away the wounded. You can cover up the dead.

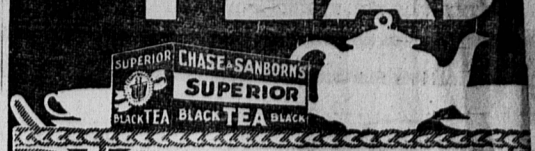

If you cannot in the harvest. Garner up the richest sheaves; Many a grain, both ripe and golden. Which the careless reaper leaves. You can glean among the briers. Growing rank against the wall. For it may be their shadow. Hides the heaviest wheat of all.

Do not, then, stand idly waiting For some great work to do; Fortune is a lazy goddess. She will never come to you. Go and toil in any vineyard. Do not fear to do or dare; If you want a field of labor. You can find it anywhere.
