U. N. B. EDGES OUT SAINT DUNSTANS

Local Squad Give Visitors Mighty Tussle In Game

Encounter Decided By Penalty Kick In Second Half Game Played In Downpour Of Rain.

Scoring their third consecutive victory in the Maritime Intercollegiate football series, western section, University of New Brunswick's rugby team Saturday defeated Saint Dunstan's on the latter's gridiron, by a 3-0 score, Art McLennahan's placement kick midway through the final half from 30 yards out giving the New Brunswick team the decision in as hard a fought game as has ever been witnessed on a local gridiron.

Played in a driving rain that had the field turned into a quagmire all through the second half the teams, covered with mud that made them hardly discernable fought tooth and nail throughout the seventy minutes of play. Both squads came within inches of scoring several times throughout the first half of the game but it was U. N. B. finally got the break after nearly twenty minutes of the second half had been played.

Lucky Break Decides Issue

Pressing continually and managing to keep play in Saints' territory U. N. B. were awarded a penalty kick 30 yards out from the S. D. U. line. With a ball made heavy as lead by the rain it appeared as if McLennahan's kick would fall short but the speedy three-quarter wing man of the visiting squad, taking loads of time booted the ball hard and fast. The twisting pigskin sailed towards the uprights; it hit the right post and here came the deciding break of the contest. The ball caromed off the upright and twisted in over the bar to give the U. N. B. team the only score of the game. It was a lucky break the way the kick turned out but nevertheless McLennahan's effort was a mighty one with a wet, heavy, sodden ball.

Saints pressed back mightily after the score and were within ten yards of a try at one time as Chris Gallant, hard-working forward of the Saints plowed his way for twenty-five yards on a spectacular run only to be hauled down by the U. N. B. fullback; Gallant was the outstanding player of the game and for a moment it looked as if he might make the line but U. N. B. halted the last dangerous attack of the Saints to earn their victory.

Saints however were glorious in defeat; against a much heavier and much faster team they more than held their own; throughout the first half they held a big margin in territory as led by Gallant and Connolly, plus some timely kicking by Somerlet Trainor, they were within yards of several tries. Three times during the session they were awarded penalty kicks in front of the posts and on each occasion they saw their kicker's efforts fall short by inches. So close were they in fact on their first attempt that many of the spectators thought the ball had split the uprights but the touch judge ruled that the oval had been inches wide.

Towards the close of the session U. N. B. started forcing matters and three times in the last ten minutes Saints, showing the fight they are noted for hurled them back from as close as the five-yard line. Dog-tired but still determined two teams trudged off the field at half time with zeros being chalked up on the scoreboard.

With no halt in the pelting rain the teams tore into each other as the second half opened. U. N. B. started a strong offensive that carried them into opponent's territory right from the start but timely kicking and dribbling by the Saints backfield plus some fast following by the forwards hurled the threats back. There was less than 15 minutes to play when the break came.

Battling at the Saints twenty-five yard line U. N. B. were awarded a penalty kick far to the right of the gridiron. It looked like an almost impossible placement due to the condition of the ball and the weather conditions under which the game was being played but McLennahan, stopped cold in his tracks all day by the sharp tackling of Connors of S. D. U. gave his team the win as his beautiful kick hit the left upright and then caromed in over the crossbar for three points for the visitors.

Saints made it plenty hot for their opponents in the remaining time but couldn't cross the line. Gallant's try was spectacular on his broken field 25-yard jaunt but he was stopped just 10 yards short of the line. After U. N. B. had pressed back again from their danger zone Saints forged right back to within striking distance once more but the final whistle went with the local University squad being gradually pushed back by the heavier U. N. B. squad.

But although the weather was anything but suitable for good rugby the teams waged a mighty struggle all the way. Rarely, if ever have two rugby teams waged a harder battle. Through rain and mud that made them hardly distinguishable after the first ten minutes they fought tooth and nail, fairly and cleanly and it was U. N. B. that finally got the break that enabled them to keep their season's undefeated record intact.

And it is not very often that an official gets any bouquets but this is one that is deserving. Jim McCallum referee of Saturday's game had one of the most difficult tasks a rugby official was ever handed but notwithstanding Jim handled the game remarkably so much so that he had not only the spectators applauding his work but after the game was over came in for commendation from both teams. Nice going, Jim, you handled a hard task, well.

Driving Rain Slows Football Over Weekend

(By The Canadian Press)

Driving rain slowed Maritime football down to a walk in games played Saturday. The wet, slippery pigskins were hard to handle and passing plays were done away with in favor of foot work.

At Antigonish, the St. Francis Xavier squad won the Eastern Nova Scotia Intercollegiate League. Playing against St. Mary's College of Halifax, St. F. X men slogged over their home field to win, 8-6. The round score was 11-6.

In the Prince Edward Island-New Brunswick League, the touring University of New Brunswick squad defeated the luckless St. Dunstan's fifteen, 3-0. The schedule calls for U.N.B to meet Mount Allison University next.

In the Cape Breton League, the powerful Caledonia team ran riot over Sydney to win 20-0.

A scheduled Halifax City League match between Dalhosie University and the Wanderers had to be postponed because of the rain storm. The sodden field was unfit for play.

Many Football Teams Survive Weekend Games

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—(CP)—Ohio State, Penn and Mississippie slipped off the unbeaten path Saturday but most of the other football powers in the United States survived to fight another day.

Ohio State, hailed as one of the country's greatest machines, fell before unbeaten Cornell 23-14 at Columbus. Penn was a victim of North Carolina's brilliant tar heels who piled up a 30-6 score as Jim Lalanne threw three touchdown passes and scored himself.

Mississippi was steamrolled by Tulane's powerful green wave, paced by Bob Kellogg who dashed 106 and 24 yards to touchdowns, Tulane won 18-6.

The east enjoyed another good day on the intersectional front. Not only did Cornell pull one out of a hat, but New York University stopped Georgia 14-13 in a game enlivened by some impromptu boxing matches.
