TRAGEDY IN WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, Feb. 10.—A double tragedy took place about nine this morning, when Harry Schwartz, a Galician, aged forty-six, shot and killed his wife, as she opened the door of their former home to him and then sent a bullet into his own body.
Schwartz returned from a visit to Galicia last night, and while there he discovered that his former wife had committed suicide, after he deserted her to come to Canada.
Last night his Winnipeg wife, Katrina, aged thirty-eight, refused him admittance to their old home on Stella street, and the shooting followed this morning when he knocked at the door and then fired four bullets into the woman's body.

CONFERENCE IN MONTREAL

ST JOHN, Feb. 10—Alderman McGoldrick, Baxter and likely, the committee recently authorized by the city council to interview the C. P. R. authorities with a view to negotiating for the sale of the wharves and warehouses at Sand Point, held a private meeting in the committee room at 3.30 yesterday afternoon.
When the committee was first appointed it was understood that they had authority to journey to Montreal and confer with Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, and others, but later the impression prevailed that Sir Thomas would return from England via this port and it was expected the committee might see him here. The C. P. R. president, however, upset this calculation by returning via New York and it is now possible the committee may go to Montreal. Yesterday's meeting was of a private nature and after it was over none of the aldermen present would give any information about it.

SEDITION IN INDIA.

CALCUTTA, Feb. 10.—The Legislative Council yesterday passed a bill for the government control of the press. Two native members recently admitted opposed the measure.
After the passage of the bill, the Earl of Minto, the Viceroy, astonished the Council by announcing the government had decided to release the State prisoners deported fourteen months ago in connection with the seditious movement. He said the adoption of the bill justified the government's confidence that the enlarged representation of the Indian committees in the Council would strengthen the British administration.

He was described as the handsomest man in the state.

$2,300 IN TROUSERS

A Collinsville, Ill., despatch to the New York Herald says: Twenty-three hundred dollars will be given to any one who applies for it at the Collinsville Bank. The reason for this peculiar state of affairs makes one of the funniest stories that Colinsville people have heard in many a day.
A resident of Collinsville returned home from a trip very late and entirely unexpected the other night. Thinking to surprise the companion of his joys and sorrows, he let himself quietly into the house with his night key. His wife had retired, and not wishing to disturb her by turning on the light he undressed in the dark and composed himself for rest. The lady, however, developed a violent headache.
"My dear," she said, "my head aches so badly. Won't you go down to the drug store and get some powders for it?"
Forthwith the dutiful spouse turned out of bed, groped about for his clothing and departed for the drug store. When he came to pay for the powders the surprised husband in the pocket of the trousers he wore found a roll of bills, which, being counted, was found to total $2,300. He had less than a dollar in currency when he had reached home a few minutes previously. Then he looked down at the trousers. They fitted very well, but the material was a trifle different in pattern from those he had worn.
He took the powders home, but did not turn on the light. Neither did he ask any questions nor make any remarks. He left the house, and has since been living with his mother. Friday he deposited the money in a Collinsville bank, where the owner or any one who claims to be the owner may have it on demand.

N.S. GIRL ELOPES

NASHUA, N. H., Feb. 10—The latest elopment sensation to New England's new Gretna Green since Jan 1 will interest all Eastern Canada. Henry E. Crane, of New York, driver of W. K. Vanderbilt's racing cars, and Miss Vera Geldert, an attractive young woman from Canada, were married here last evening by Robert A. French, a justice of the peace. Crane called at the city clerk's office in company with a Nashua man and his bride and asked for a marriage license. It was granted, and in payment for it Crane made a lavish display of money. He asked for and was directed to a clergyman, but instead had the marriage performed by the justice. Crane gave his birthplace as Chicago, and the bride gave hers as Nova Scotia. After being made man and wife the couple hurriedly left the city. As far as known they came here from New York. They took a train going north, and may be en route to the Provinces.

CANADA ASTUTE IN PLACING LOANS

LONDON, Feb. 9—The Financial News observes that nothing could be more eloquent of Canada's high credit than the fact that the recent loan under such close and straight conditions should have been so readily subscribed. In the last few years Canada has shown astuteness in borrowing which might well be studied by other colonies.

MEDICOS MEET

The mid-winter meeting of the P. E. Island Medical Society met yesterday morning, the President Dr Goodwill in the chair.
Those present were Drs. Conroy, McLaughlin, Simpson, Carruthers, Jenkins, Johnson, Dewar, Goodwill, Yeo, Warburton, A. A. McDonald, Delaney, Kelly and Murchison.
After routine business an instructive paper was read by Dr Dewar on Parotitis with Hyperpyrenia. The paper was discussed by a number of the members.
The amendments to the P. E. I. Medical Act, so as to comply with the requirements of the British Medical Act were introduced by Dr Jenkins and after discussion passed. The chief changes asked for included changing the period of study from four to five years, the holding of professional examinations in July only instead of April and October, and providing for the election of a representative to the proposed Federal Council of Canada.
In the afternoon a paper on "The Inspection of Certain Food Supplies" by Dr S. R. Jenkins, and on "Disease of the Blood" by Dr Jardine, on "The Physician's Duty to his Tubercular Patient etc." by Dr McLaughlin, and one on "Strangulated Hernia, by Dr Conroy, were read and discussed at length.
In the evening Dr Carruthers read a paper on "New Surgical Treatments." A committee was appointed to wait on the local Government and Municipal Authorities to impress the necessity of the construction of a sanitarium for tuberculosis in incipient cases and a hospital for those in the advanced stages of the disease.

KING EDWARD TO TRAVEL TO ESCAPE SEVERE COLD

LONDON, Feb. 10—King Edward has announced his intention to leave for Biarritz on March 3. Some surprise is expressed at his intended absence at the time when the constitutional crisis approaches the danger point.
The reason is simple. The King's health, normally excellent, is the subject of serious danger every spring from the cold northeast winds. Last year an attack of violent coughing, threatening suffocation, was only overcome by the free use of oxygen. This alarmed the court, and it was recognized as indispensable in the future that he must seek a warmer climate as soon as Parliament opened. It is most unfortunate, but inevitable.
The King opens Parliament February 21 and the King's speech will be debated until February 23. Then comes the tug of war. The original intention was to suspend the standing orders and pass the old Budget, unaltered, in a single day, through the Commons and present it for acceptance to the Lords. Now difficulties have arisen. The Radical contingent raises the cry of grievances before supply and refuse to pass the Budget until the Lords' power of vetoes has been dealt with. If this militant policy is persisted in the King may be face to face with a ministerial crisis just when he is starting for Biarritz. If he is detained in London and the weather is inclement the danger to the King's health might curtail fatal results.
Possible complications that might ensue are most serious. A change in the occupant of the Throne occurring at the same time as an acute ministerial and constitutional crisis, would aggravate every conceivable mischief. King Edward is not a genius, but he is a Sovereign of consummate tact, of recognized impartiality and is personally popular. His probable successor possesses none of his father's great qualities. He is not tactful, does not pretend to impartiality and has vehement prejudices, both personal and political, which he does not attempt to conceal. To the contrary, he is given to airing them when prudence would counsel reserve.
The royal heir is not in favor of tariff reform and is furious against the attack on the House of Lords. While he is not disliked by the masses, who know him little, he has no personal magnetism. He is in short a miniature George the Third, with indifferent health. For such a Prince to ascend the throne when the Lords and Commons are entering upon a life and death struggle would be an Imperial disaster. Hence the probability that the crisis will be staved off long enough to permit the King's departure.
The radical will be propitiated by a promise to raise grievances before supply when the second Budget comes on for discussion in April, and the last Budget will be passed at once. The compromise is the more probable, because the Budget was one of the leading issues of the elections. The Liberals pledged themselves to pass the Budget and limit the Peers' veto. To postpone a realization of the former, which is within grasp, to a combat over the latter, which may or may not be won, is doubtful policy. The Budget once passed, the field will be cleared for a battle royal over the next Budget.
By that time the King will be home again. The pressure in favor of carrying Budget No. 1 and refusing to pass Budget No. 2 until the Lords have their teeth drawn and their claws clipped will be very strong. Financial necessity will tell very heavily, also the natural instincts of the party to retain office instead of abandoning their posts to their opponents, who would have the vantage ground of their position as the King's ministers to appeal to the country against the coercion of the sovereign by radical despots.
Two questions, home rule and unemployment, will have to be dealt with at the price of maintaining a solidity of the ministerial coalition, for henceforth England will be governed by coalitions and the leaders of the Labor and Nationalists groups although outside the cabinet, will have to be propitiated if the ministry is to remain in office. Of the two, unemployment is the most serious, for the opposition by promising work for all and higher wages, have given a dangerous impetus to labor demands.

VICTORY FOR THE BLUE AND WHITE

The Victorias added another victory to their credit last evening by defeating the Crystals by a score of four to one.
Even though they had beaten Summerside in a playoff in their own town there were many wise ones who predicted a surprise when the second game between these two teams was played. But the fast skating and really good team work of the Vics won for them a game which if fought with other methods than those taken by the Vics last evening might have resulted differently.
The Crystals put up a stiff fight and at the beginning they rushed the puck to the Vics end. The first of the succeeding series of combinations relieved the situation here and Strong had one or two shots to meet which he handled with care. One especially by P. Burns from wing was a hot one and was neatly stopped. R. McDonald was treated to a rest for unbecoming tactics, a feature of his game throughout though not quite so prominent in the second half. The play at this juncture was particularly fast and combination and individual rushes enlivened the game from a spectator's point of view. Cornfoot at times was a busy man and he proved himself a splendid coverpoint—whose cool, deliberate work won the admiration of all. The play in the Crystal's territory was broken by the good work of Allan and Gillis, the former especially showed up strong when wanted most. The Vics centre man, Percy Rodd, finishing a nice run, found the net first for his team after eight minutes work. A minute later Pius Burns repeated the trick.
Vics—2. Crystals—0.
A pretty run by Davy, whose work in defence was particularly good was followed by good combination work. Deegan was given two minutes, and in his absence Rodd and Rattenbury combined, the former netting the puck.
Vics—3 Crystals—0.
The Crystals here made a strenuous effort and in the work around the Vics goals McAskill made three nice stops, all of them fair on the net. Cornfoot got two minutes.
Here the Judge of play came in for some rough treatment from the players, being floored, presumably in a mistake. Not long later Rosy was similiarly treated—to make things even. Allan and Deegan of the Crystals were on the penitent bench simultaneously but the remaining five allowed no scoring in their absence. Rattenbury's runs were splendid and at this time he was especially dangerous. Burns went the length of the rink but overskated. McDonald and Deegan combined and Davy was on the spot to stop them.
The second half opened at 9.31 and all through the play was not nearly so interesting, excepting the last few moments. Four minutes after the half began E. Perry scored the Crystals' only goal. This was followed by good play, fast rushing and cool defence work showing on both sides.
Rattenbury got a brief rest for tripping and later Rodd secured the puck behind the Vics goals and went the length of the ice in a beautiful run. He fell just before shooting. Perry and Deegan were noticeable in great efforts to score but perhaps the prettiest play of the game was the combination work of Rodd, Rattenbury and Burns which resulted in the last goal for the Vics just at 10 o'clock, a minute or two before the bell rang.
The line up was as follows:

CRYSTALS (1)		VICTORIAS (4)

CANADA LIFE'S RECORD YEAR

Largest Assets — Greatest Surplus—Important Announcement as to Profits.

All along the line the Canada Life made gains in 1909, and in several important items previous records were broken.
The announcement of special interest to policyholders is that in this, the dividend year, over $2,000,000 will be allotted in profits to policy holders.
The year's operation resulted in over $10,000,000 of paid for new business, bringing the total business in force up to nearly $125,000,000.
The gain in assets of $2,972,000 was greater than in any previous year, the total assets now standing at $39,686,000. The responsibility of finding safe and profitable investment for these large funds will be realized when it is considered that they are increasing at the rate of almost $10,000 for each business day of the year.
In view of the increase all along the line in the Canada Life's business, a decrease in the expense of management as compared with 1908, which in turn showed a reduction as compared with the expenses of 1907, is highly creditable to the management, and indicates that care in the conduct of the company's affairs which has rendered possible the splendid statement now presented.
Although the Canada Life is now sixty-four years old the vigor of its management and the organization it has built up will doubtless enable it to go forward to even greater success than is shown in the present report.
In Prince Edward Island the Canadia Life has a very large amount of the insurance carried by the leading business and professional men and to such the present splendid position of the Company means a great deal in the way of increases in their insurance by way of bonus additions. W. K. Rogers, who has been with the company some sixteen years, is the manager of the P. E. Island Branch and with him are associated Lewis H. Beer, as field manager; Horace Brodie, as special soliciting agent; W. P. Callahan agent for the western part of Prince County; Miss Amy G. Burrows agent at Summerside and A. F. McQuaid representative at Souris. Needless to say this staff of representatives are very enthusiastic over the annual statement and are out for an increased volume of business. If you dont want to insure keep out of their way.

At a recent conference between representatives of the union and general managers of the railroads, an increase in wages was refused. The switchmen say that they do not wish arbitration, but it is generally believed by the railroads that the question will be settled by that method and that there will be no strike.

WILL ROOSEVELT IMITATE FAIRBANKS?

ROME, Feb. 9.—Ex-Vice-President Fairbanks has received many cablegrams from the United States congratulating him on his attitude toward the Vatican.
The Tribuna, in commenting on the incident, says:
"Ex-President Roosevelt also has been invited to speak before the Methodists. We shall see if he prefers the Methodists or the Pope."
Several visions of the incident are in circulation, but Mr Fairbanks gives the following:
"When on Sunday I reached the American College Monsignor Kennedy said that he advised from the Vatican that it would be impossible for me to have a papal audience if I delivered my contemplated address at the American Methodist church. I replied that I had agreed to make an address and was obliged to keep the agreement.
"I spoke to the students of the American College along patriotic and moral lines, giving the Catholic church a full share of the credit for the great work accomplished by all the Christian churches. The subject of the papal audience was suggested again by Monsignor Kennedy, a little later. He had received further instructions in the meantime and said that if I did not speak at the Methodist church the audience would hold good. I replied that I appreciated the intended courtesy, but the alternative was impossible. I would speak as announced, and thus be obliged to forego the audience with the Pope. When I advised Dr Tipple, the pastor of the Methodist church, he said that he was ready to release me from the engagement, but I answered that that was impossible. Under the circumstances I felt obliged to speak in fulfilment of a promise made before the papal audience was arranged."

THE GREAT WEST LIFE

The Great West Life Assurance Company, which has its headquarters in Winnipeg, is a comparatively young company, but is thoroughly imbued with the vigor and progressiveness of the West. It has excellent opportunities for good paying investments close at hand and claims to have received an average rate of over 7 per cent on its investments during the year. The seventeenth annual report of the Company, which appears in other columns of this issue, makes a capital showing throughout and will repay perusal by any one interested in insurance. The business of the company shows an increase of over six millions in 1909, bringing the total of insurance in force up to very nearly forty-six millions. The payments to policy holders for claims, natured endowments, surrender values, annuities and profits amounted to over $1,000 per day for the 365 days of the year. Messrs Hyndman & Co, Ltd., are the Provincial Managers for the Great West in Prince Edward Island.

THREE VICTIMS OF LIVE WIRE

VANCOUVER, Feb. 11—Lee Weaver was instantly killed today and J. Dempster and H. Smith badly injured by the breaking of a wire carrying thirty thousand volts of electricity to Vancouver from the Lake Burtsen plant.

MONTREAL EGG MARKET

MONTREAL, Feb. 10—Canada is compelled to import eggs from Russia for home consumption.
Incredible as it may seem in a country of the characteristics of Canada it is nevertheless a fact.
The first consignment of Russian eggs ever imported into Canada reached the city today from Riga, Russia, having travelled a distance of over six thousand miles.
Messrs. Gunn, Langlois & Co., on account of the probable shortage of the supply of eggs in Canada, some time ago ordered 6,000 dozen from Russia as an experiment for future guidance. Today the eggs arrived, and they will be sold at current prices at a profit.
The eggs were packed in long, heavy cases altogether unlike the packages used by the trade in Canada, containing 120 dozen each or four times the quantity of the Canadian egg-case. The boxes were 6 feet long, 2 feet wide and 1 foot high and are known to the English trade as "coffins." The pasteboard packing which dealers here employ is not used in Russia, a smooth white wood shaving, smoother than excelsior, separating the eggs so effectively that the breakage en route amounted to little or nothing.
That the Canadian hen should be compelled to call upon her Russian sister in supplying the needs of the Dominion is a remarkable evidence of the neglect she is subjected to in Canada at the present time.

TRIALS OF THE ATLANTIC.

HALIFAX, Feb. 11—Nineteen days from Liverpool, after the most sensational voyage ever experienced by an ocean liner to this port, the Furness liner "Almeriana" made her way into Halifax harbor. The liner had battered her way through many gales and mighty seas from the time she left England. On February 1st, in the height of a gale, her cylinder cap blew off, and for fifty hours the engines were stopped. During this time the steamer was at the mercy of the seas, and was driven far off her course.

SETS THREE ENGINES LOOSE.

TRINIDAD, Col., Feb. 10.—By coupling three locomotives together and sending them down the main line at full speed, P. A. Chapman, a discharged brakeman, tried to tie up the Colorado & Southern railway today. He stole the engines while the roundhouse crew was at breakfast. The switches were open, but the engines kept the rails, and as soon as he struck the main line Chapman opened the throttle and jumped.
A train was due in twenty minutes, but the dispatcher had it sidetracked 10 miles out, ordering all trains sidetracked and sent a handcar crew after the runaways. They were found nine miles out, the light head of steam having exhausted.

SEND THEM TO BED WITH A KISS

O mothers, so weary, discouraged,
Worn out with the cares of the day,
You often grow cross and impatient,
Complain of the noise of the play;
For the day brings so many vexations,
So many things going amiss;
But, mothers, whatever may vex you
Send the children to bed with a kiss.

The dear little feet wander often,
Perhaps from the pathway of right;
The dear little hands find new mischief
To try you from morning till night;
But think of the desolate mothers
Who's give all the world for your bliss
And as thanks for your infinite blessings,
Send the child to bed with a kiss.

For some day their noise will not vex you,
The silence will hurt you far more;
You will long for the sweet childish voices,
For a sweet childish face at the door,
And to press a child's face to your bosom,
You'd give all the world for just this:
For the comfort 'twill bring you in sorrow,
Send the child to bed with a kiss.
