Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

are not a new and untried remedy—our grandfathers used them. Half a century ago, before Confederation, they were on sale in nearly every drug or general store in the Canada of that day, and were the recognized cure in thousands of homes for Constipation, Indigestion, Biliousness, Rheumatism and Kidney and Liver Troubles. To-day they are just as effective, just as reliable as ever, and nothing better has yet been devised to

Cure Common Ills

SAYS "LAMBS DO THE MILKING"

Two interesting statements by farmers are published in a recent number of The Rural New Yorker, and while both are extremes there is food for thought in them.

They read: "at a farmers' institute one man said that he was the same as in the penitentiary with his big herd of cows. The same job every day, the same long hours, and: not much more pay than if he wore stripes. Another man told of his flock of ewes nearly all raising twin lambs, that sell from $10 to $12 per pair at weaning time. "The lambs do the milking," he said, "and I clean the stables when I get ready, and market my product when it gets fat."

Often it has been said that a flock of ewes of the right pattern, well cared for, and raising lambs to be sold fat at an early age, will return a larger dividend on the investment than a well-cared for dairy herd, and this herd can be considerably above the average, too.

KEEP DRY AND WELL FED.

Shelter with dry footing and good roof is more important than well matched siding and closed doors and windows. Keep them dry and well feared. Of course very young lambs must not be exposed to cold blasts. The writer of the article had raised many lambs in zero weather in plain sheds by putting a blanket on the youngster. This sounds foolish and bothersome to some folks, he adds, but it is easily and quickly done. Fresh air and pure water both winter and summer help to make mutton. Rains in summer do no harm. It is the wet fleece in cold, windy weather that makes the sheep lose flesh and get catarrh.

A HANDY GARDEN TOOL.

Take an old hoe, the wider and larger the blade the better. From a piece of pastboard cut a portion the size and shape of hoe blade, then space this off so that from four to six narrow blades or tines are drawn with the pencil similar to a rake, only the tines should be from ½ to ⅝ inch wide. Cut out clean the intervening spaces, place over the hoe blade and trace with an awl or file shank the outlines of the pattern upon it. With a heavy, sharp, cold chisel cut away the steel as indicated and afterwards file away all the rough edges and shape it to suit. Various formed rakes, scuffle hoes, weeders, etc., may be thus easily and quickly made to suit the fancy and kind of work required.

ROAD BUILDING.

Start with a system and keep to it.

Take the worst place first.

Keep a good cross slope on all of your roads.

Grade the hills and protect the ditches.

Put in permanent bridges and culverts.

Use the best and most durable culverts obtainable, and put them in wherever there is a possibility of the water lying for any length of time by the side of the grade.

Grade up the roads in the flat or low-lying places as much as possible.

Give the earth road drag a fair trial, and use it every time you get a chance—oftener if you can make it.

Put clay and sand together; they do better than by themselves.

Never put sod on the travelling way.

Encourage first yourself and then your neighbor to buy wide tired wagons.

Forget who voted for you or that you will run again. Build roads, not a political machine.

After the road is once built don't stop there, maintenance is then the most important factor. Keep the road constantly in repair. A few hours' work spent in repair when first needed will save endless trouble in travel and days of repair work later on.

What you do, do well.

GALL STONES, KIDNEY AND BLADDER STONES AND OTHER KIDNEY DISEASES

ARE NO LONGER INCURABLE

One of the greatest, if not the greatest discovery of modern times, has been that of SANOL, a remedy that POSITIVELY CURES Gall Stones, Kidney and Bladder Stones, and all diseases of Uric Acid origin.

SANOL has passed the experimental stage. Many of the most prominent physicians are using it exclusively in their treatment of kidney troubles. SANOL is also used in many hospitals for kidney treatment.

The success of SANOL has been remarkable for the comparatively short time it has been on the market. Thousands have been cured of kidney diseases, and druggists everywhere will tell you of the great demand for SANOL, and in many cases those buying it will say "a friend recommended it."

SANOL WILL CURE

We have hundreds of unsolicited testimonials telling of the wonderful cures effected by SANOL.

Following are extracts from a few of the letters received, the originals of which may be seen at our office.

"Sanol is really wonderful. I was troubled with my kidneys for five years, and after trying several kinds of medicine, and several doctors, had nearly given up hope when I saw your ad. The fifteen bottles you advised have completely cured me, and I feel fine."

"For some years past I have suffered with my kidneys. I decided to try Sanol, of which I had both read and heard. When I had taken eight bottles I felt better than I had done for eight years, for my kidney trouble had entirely left me. It is now about three months since I finished with the medicine and I am enjoying the best of health."

KIDNEY DANGER SIGNALS

Have you backache in the region of the kidneys, puffy swelling under the eyes, feel tired out, dizzy, swollen feet and limbs, excessive and painful urination,—rheumatic pains darting through your body and limbs? Then your kidneys are not doing their duty. SANOL KIDNEY REMEDY strengthens your kidneys and enables them to throw off the uric acid poisons with which your system has become charged.

The above are the symptoms or danger signals of the kidneys.

SANOL will conquer and cure all of them.

Remember, an operation only acts as a respite in most cases. SANOL WILL CURE.

For sale at all druggists. $1.50 per bottle.
