THE TITANIC QUESTION

NEW YORK, January 17—The entire question of the limitation of the liability of the White Star line, or the Oceanic Steam Navigation company, limited, for damage incurred thru the loss of the Titanic has been raised by an answer filed today with the federal district court to the petition of the Oceanic Steam Navigation company by Harrington, Bigham and Engler, as attorneys.
The question whether the White Star line comes under the British or under the American admiralty law, an issue which will also be raised in the appeal of A. Leonard Brougham, attorney for Mrs. Natchez, to the circuit court of appeals against the decree of Judge Hough finding him $200 for contempt of court in that he entered suit against the Oceanic Steam Navigation company in the state court, contrary to the injunction of the admiralty court.
It is of supreme importance to the claimants against the White Star line whether it be held that it is responsible under the British or under the American admiralty law. According to the former, the liability for loss of life from a marine disaster is limited to about $75 per gross ton of the steamship, which in the case of the Titanic amounts to about $3,000,000 for damages to property, to about $40 per gross ton. Under the American law the damages are limited to the passage money collected for the particular voyage and the value of the salvage, which in the case of the Titanic amounts to about $93,000.

THE BANK OF COMMERCE

The report of the proceedings of the forty-sixth annual meeting of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, together with the financial statement for the past year, appears elsewhere in this paper. It requires no explanation. The figures speak for themselves and tell a story of uninterrupted progress and prosperity. The Canadian Bank of Commerce has, in its forty-six years, grown to be one of the strongest financial institutions in the world and its growth reflects the utmost credit upon its management. The report of the meeting and the financial statement are both worthy of careful perusal.
In a "review of business conditions during the year 1912," a copy of which has been received by The Guardian, the following reference to Prince Edward Island appears: "Prince Edward Island has savings deposits of about $10,000,000 and is, per capita, probably the richest rural community in the Dominion. To its prosperous industries of Agriculture and

Rev. T. F. Fullerton, 20 Years Pastor St. James And, Mrs Fullerton Presented With Gifts

REV. T. F. FULLERTON, Charlottetown.

The annual meeting of St. James Congregation, Charlottetown, was held last night and was much more than the ordinary annual business meeting. Practically the whole congregation was present, not so much to study the financial affairs of the church, which have never been the subject of much anxiety, but to assist in fulfilling the beloved pastor, Rev. T. F. Fullerton, and his no less beloved wife, on the occasion of the completion of their twentieth year in connection with the congregation. And the surprise was complete. It was the first time in twenty years that the congregation deeded the pastor. He knew nothing about it until called upon to accept the address given below and the barrel of gold accompanying it. While recovering from his surprise another was added when Mrs. Fullerton was asked to submit to a similar ordeal at the hands of the ladies of the congregation.
The citizens of Charlottetown, irrespective of church connection, will (Continued on page five.)

CASTRO'S APPEAL IS WITH NAGLE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17—Gen. Cipriano Castro's appeal from the decision of the immigration authorities in New York barring him from admission to the United States, was received today by Secretary Nagle, who will give it immediate consideration.
The secretary will first take up the decision of the special board of inquiry which held that Castro's refusal to answer certain questions relating to his alleged connection with the assassination of Gen. Parades in Venezuela amounted to an admission of the commission of a crime involving moral turpitude or an obstruction to the legitimate efforts of administrative officers to ascertain facts to determine his right to enter. In a similar case, several months ago in which an Austrian immigrant refused to answer questions regarding a bank robbery with which he was said to have been connected, Secretary Nagle sustained such a ruling.
The case went to the courts, but was decided in the government's favor on another point. It is expected that Castro's case will reach the court and the far-reaching question involved will be decided judicially for the first time.

The crash occurred during a thick fog and the Auchenarden sank almost immediately. Although the LaBlanca also was badly crippled, she stood by and rescued the sailors of the Auchenarden and brought them into port.

(Special to The Guardian)

Of Inter-Balkan Territories Greeks Want Saloniki if Bulgarians Get Adrianople

(Canadian Press)
LONDON, Jan. 20—The Balkan plenipotentiaries are firm in their determination to prevent Turkey from postponing the settlement any longer than a week and already they are unofficially agreeing among themselves as to the delimitation of the Inter-Balkan territories.
The Greeks hope to get Saloniki if the Bulgarians get Adrianople.
It is understood that Rechad Pasha has been instructed to confer with Sir Edward Grey with the object of obtaining the direct intervention of the powers under the form of mediation or in some other way to spare Turkey the humiliation of ceding Adrianople at first hand.
The national assembly at Constantinople has been postponed till Wednesday. The Porte's reply notes, from the powers will be presented later.
The general belief is that Turkey is weakening in respect to the demands of the allies.
It is also expected that a settlement will be arranged between Roumania and Bulgaria before Feb. the 1st by an agreement providing for the rectification of the frontier.
Roumania, however, will not get as much as asked for. Bulgaria will cede the forts in the neighborhood of Silistria, but not the town itself.
LONDON, Jan. 17—The Turkish delegates to the peace conference do not know the precise intentions of their government with respect to the note, but they predict that its answer soon will be given and that it will afford no grounds for the accusations that Turkey is playing for time. The expectation among diplomats here is that Turkey will concede something to the allies with a (Continued on page five.)

DIGBY, January 17—The tern schooner Rebecca J. Moulton, Bridgewater for New York via Shelburne, where she put in leaking, arrived today in tow of the Yarmouth tug Hugh D. The Moulton is bound to St. John to go on the blocks, but adverse weather in the bay forced the tug into Digby for a harbor. The Moulton was put on the beach tonight for an examination of the hull before proceeding.
Councillor Harry Warner, of Plympton, who is here attending the January meeting of the municipal council, received word today that his schooner, the B. B. Hardwick, from Boston, for Port Gilbert, was ashore on Fuller's rocks near Poppam beach, Maine, and abandoned by the crew. Still later advices say that the crew was saved by the Huniwall's beach life-saving station, and that the United States revenue cutter Woodbury will attempt to save the vessel.
