The Chief Superintendent of Education has appointed Friday the 24th instant to be observed as Arbor Day by the schools, which have summer vacation, and the earliest possible day after the pupils return from their May holidays by the schools which have Spring and Fall vacation. He trusts that this day will be duly observed by all the schools, and that the result will be a still greater improvement in the appearance of the school grounds throughout the Province.

A large and more than usually interesting meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held on Monday afternoon. The subject for consideration was "Where are the Y's?" and Mrs. J. T. Robertson strongly urged the great need of young men and women being interested, being trained, and taking part in this temperance and general reform work. In a few years the present W. C. T. U. workers must pass away and who is to carry on the work if the young girls of today do not come in and learn the work. It was resolved to make a strong effort to start a Y. branch here shortly and in the meantime to do all possible to work up an interest in the matter. All women are cordially invited to these meetings at 3.30, every second Monday afternoon.

Yesterday evening The Guardian's baseball team had their first practice in Victoria Park. Although unpracticed there was every evidence that most of the players have good eyes and the striking play of two junior members of the staff delighted the fans. A pleasant hour was spent. The first ball used was quickly put out of business from the hard blows received and was retired with a broken heart. It is thought the "cut" was made by one of the stereotype room men.
