WASHINGTON, April 15 — Great Britain intends to buy approximately 2,000 war planes in the United States, a highly authoritative person said today. Most of them will be high-speed bombers with medium range, this person said, expressing the belief United States factories will be capable of filling the order without interfering with the war plane building program of the United States army and navy.

(It has been officially announced in London that exploratory steps have been taken in regard to purchase of aircraft in Canada and the United States. Negotiations are said to have been started with three Canadian firms. One newspaper has advocated the construction of new plants at Windsor, Ont., for large-scale production.)

Varied Weather Across Canada Good Friday

(By the Canadian Press)

New Easter finery had its preview largely in western and central Canada yesterday, while on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts would-be paraders met rain and foggy weather.

Bright sunshine and rising temperatures prevailed on the prairies during the Good Friday holidays, but in British Columbia the weather was cloudy with showers.

Ontario and Quebec were generally fair, with a few light sprinklers of rain in scattered areas, but Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island reported overcast skies and chill winds.

Church services throughout the Dominion had as their theme the story of the crucifixion.

Clear, warm weather in the Ottawa Valley followed a violent wind and rain storm which caused thousands of dollars damage and resulted in one death. Stuart Carruthers, 10, was killed when a tree fell upon him as he worked in his father's sugar bush near Morewood, Ont., early Friday.

Old Country Soccer League Race Tightens

LONDON, April 15 — (CP) — Cable)—The English Football League championship race tightened today when the leading Arsenal squad was defeated 2-0 on its own ground by Brentford another London team. The Gunners margin was cut to one point when Wolver-Hampton Wanderers and Preston North End won clear cut victories.

The Wolves turned in the highest score of the first division this season, swamping Leicester City 10-1 while Preston won at Chelsea 2-0. The victors are tied for second place in the league table with 44 points.

Sheffield United overcame Tottenham Hotspurs 2-1 at White Hart Lane to go to the top of the second division over Aston Villa, idle today. Sheffield now has 48 points, one more than the Villans and two more than Manchester United, beaten 1-0 at Burnley.

TORONTO, April 15—(CP)—Eldon D. Rathburn, 21, of Saint John N. B., won the $700 scholarship of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, ofefred by the Canadian Performing Rights Society for musical composition, it was announced tonight by Sir Ernest MacMillan, chairman of the selection board.

Each entrant in the Dominion-wide competition was required to submit two musical compositions, one of which had to be a song. The winning compositions were "Silouette For Two Pianos" and a song, "The Wandering Cloud."

"Eldon Rathburn showed an underlying harmonic sense and a distinct promise in his creative ability," said Sir Ernest, principal of the Conservatory. Originality and the composer's strong harmonic sense were responsible for his winning.

Easter Flowers

MONTREAL, Que., April 16 — With flowering plants and cut flowers in much demand by floral shops during the Easter period, shipments of these by Canadian National Express have been very heavy during the past few days and have reached their peak movement at the present time, according to G. E. Bellerose, General Manager of the company.

"The rich, showy orchid is regarded by many as the elite of the flower world, but Easter Lilies, roses, carnations, tulips, daffodils, snapdragons, sweet peas and many othr beautiful varieties are brought here in huge quantities to supply the local demand for floral decoration at Easter time.

Many of these arrive as potted plants while others reach the city as fresh cut flowers for home or church decoration. Montreal with more than its share of fine cathedrals and churches is noted for the grand display of flowers in its many religious institutions at Easter time.

"The desire of the ladies for fashionable clothes is also responsible for heavy traffic at this time of the year", stated Mr. Bellerose. "Every year for several weeks before the Easter holiday, the volume of express traffic in wearing apparel steadily increases in volume until the approach of the holiday."

Another commodity that moves in large quantities at this time by express are fresh eggs, while last minute shipments include candy, cut flowers and Easter plants as gifts.

A Star Is Born

EASTER ATTRACTION AT CAPITOL, S'SIDE

"A Star is Born" the very latest in technicolor pictures, is the Easter attraction at the Capitol Theatre, Summerside, tonight, and tomorrow. This charming Selznick production brings to the screen the vivid colourings of Hollywood. Actual places frequented by "stars" of the movie world are here depicted in all their beauty. Such places as "The Hollywood Bowl" world famous concert theatre, "The Hollywood Legion Stadium," The Brown Derby, famous eating house of stars, and the much talked of Hollywood boulevard and Vine Street in the heart of movie land are thrown on the screen for the first time in all their gorgeous colourings. The picture starring Janet Gaynor and Frederic March, portrays the rise of a little country girl to Hollywood stardom. In the picture the audience shares with Esther Blodgett, portrayed by Miss Gaynor, the heartaches and happiness, the gaiety and despair, that go into the ultimate crowning of a motion picture star. And in her travels she visits many of these famous spots.

The setting used for the David O. Selznick picture scene is a copy of the Bi tmore Bowl, and is the same exact size. A 15 piece orchestra, conducted by Manny Harmon, was engaged for the music, while more than 250 dress extras, men and women, were used to duplicate the gaiety of the annual award dinner.

"A Star is Born" was directed by William A. Wellman and is released through United Artists.

This picture is being shown tonight and Tuesday. Don't miss it.

Easter Church Services At Summerside

The Easter services in the churches at Summerside, yesterday were very largely attended. The flowers were very beautiful and were a real touch of spring.

The music specially prepared for Easter was of a very fine order and was very much appreciated by the large congregations.

AT ST. PAULS CHURCH

All the services on Easter Sunday were largely attended at St. Paul's Church

At High Mass the men's choir rendered very effectively the "Resurrexit" at the opening of the service.

Leonard's Mass in B flat was sung, Mr. Edgar Houghton taking the solo parts in the Gloria. In the Regina Coelis by Webb, Mr. LeBlanc was the soloist. Rev. Fr. Kelly was the celebrant. Rev. Mgr G. J. MacLellan, V. G. preached inspiring and eloquent sermons with a special Easter message for the congregations.

At nine o'clock Mass, the Girls Choir sang the responses. Mrs. Roy Silliphant was the organist for all services.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH

The pretty church of St. Mary's was filled with a large congregation for the choral Eucharist at 11 o'clock. Rev. G. R. Harrison was the celebrant.

Fosters setting was used for the music of the Communion and sung by a full choir. Miss Dorothy Wyatt taking the solo parts in the Communion. The anthem was by Simper. In the evening a full choral service of song was beautifully rendered by the choir.

Rev. Mr. Harrison preached inspiring sermons at both services and gave a special Easter message to the children at their service on Sunday afternoon.

The flowers on the altar which were very beautiful were gifts from members of the congregation.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. Mr. VerWolf pastor of the Presbyterian Church Summerside, preached inspiring sermons both morning and evening on the Risen Christ.

The senior choir took part in the special arrangement of music for the day.

The senior choir sang the anthem "He is Risen" the solo parts being taken by Miss Alice Coffin and Mr. J. C. Mountain; also the hymn. To the place came many weeping. The children's choir under the direction of Mr. Lowell Hancock, Mrs. Whalen and Miss Georgie Huestis, sang very sweetly. "Jesus Christ is Risen today." The anthems for the evening, sung by the senior choir were "The King of Kings" and "when the Sabbath is ended." Mr. Amos Hubley was the organist.

UNITED CHURCH

At the United Church a large congregation took part in the Easter service and the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Rev. L. E. G. Davies conducted the service and Professor Emslie presided at the organ.

The children's choir of 36 voices assisted with the music in the morning, singing the Anthem, "Angels Around Us." The Church choir sang the anthem "Hallelula He is Risen".

The choir was in splendid voice and their singing added much to the joyous Easter service. S.

ITALO-FRENCH PACT SOUGHT

Exchange Of Views Begin Next Week.

PARIS, April 15—(AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier and his cabinet advisers laid plans today for a Franco-Italian agreement.

Sources close to the foreign office said conversations would be started next week to reach an accord along the lines of the Anglo-Italian pact to be signed tomorrow in Rome.

The proposed agreement would be designed to do double duty by:—

1. Settling Franco-Italian differences.

2. Bringing France a closer assurance of British help in event of trouble in Europe or North Africa.

Daladier's associates said that first, however, he must get 160,000 strikers back to work.

A step toward ironing out the labor problem was taken by the executive committee of the metal workers union, representing the strikers, which accepted a six-point government proposal as the basis for possible immediate solution of the strike wave.

Express Concern Re Freedom Of Press

BRIGHTON, England, April 15—(CP-Havas)—Freedom of the press was the prime concern of the National Union of Journalists whose annual convention opened here yesterday.

F. P. Dickinson discussed demands made by Germany for suppression of anti-Nazi newspaper articles. He cited with satisfaction the statement by Prime Minister Chamberlain that the press would not be muzzled.

"I cannot help having the feeling," Mr. Dickinson added, however, "that the political and diplomatic representatives of those newspapers whose criticism of Hitler and Mussolini has been most outspoken will find it increasingly difficult to carry out their daily work efficiently."

It Happened This Week!

PAID ONLY $62 FOR FORTY YEARS LIFE INSURANCE PROTECTION

Another true story of remarkable results from Mutual Life policies came in this week's mail. The writer bought a $1,000, 20 Pay Policy (No. 37,320) in 1898 when he was only 21 years of age. During the next 20 years he paid $474 in premiums and left the dividends with the Company to accumulate. At the end of the 20 years his policy was fully paid up and he withdrew in cash the dividend amounting to $194.

During the next 20 years he received additional dividends of $218 on the paid-up policy.

Summing the matter up, he has actually paid only $62 for forty years' protection and today his Mutual Life policy has a cash value of $669. The policy will continue to pay dividends as long as he lives and at his death will pay his family $1,000.

For information regarding the Mutual Life of Canada, its policies and actual results (the Mutual Life divides all its surplus earnings among policyholders), call our nearest representative or write to our Head Office at Waterloo.

GREAT BRITAIN

torical spots such as the parliament buildings, Westminster Abbey, the Tower of London, Trafalgar Square and Kew Gardens.

The weather was far from being in its best holiday mood. Although intermittent spells of sunshine brought thousands on parade with their Easter finery, frigid blasts brought many topcoats out of storage.

In many parts of the United Kingdom temperatures approached the freezing point and snow flurries were reported in some areas. Crowds paced the seaside promenades with quickened steps and beaches generally presented a deserted appearance. The wind approached gale force in the Straits of Dover and heavy seas buffeted small craft.

Frost added to the worries of farmers who have had no rain for nearly two months. Orchards have been hard hit, with some crops seriously damaged. There is even a possibility there will be no berries for gooseberry pie at Whitsuntide, June 5.

MAGINOT LINE

Munitions, enough for many months of warfare lie in deep isolated caverns, with underground electrically-driven railroads to bring them to the guns. Complete Maginot Line divisions lie beneath the fields.

Frenchmen living their civilian lives in or around the Maginot area know that when war comes they will be the first called and, within a few hours, will vanish into "the line."

Behind the Maginot area lies the "invisible defence"—rebuilt roads, tunnels driven through mountains for better rail transportation, telephone lines laid underground parallel to existing lines, any number of peace time "improvements" built with war time in mind.

The French High Command, ready for any emergency, has elaborate plans for invading Germany as well as for defending French soil against German attacks.

Within less than an hour's flight from the Maginot area are the great German industrial centres of Essen and Dusseldorf. Berlin is less than two hours away.

Sending aid by land to Czechoslovakia is impossible, but if France makes war on Germany to aid her ally the Franco-German frontier is a war frontier which France could cross. That's where the Maginot Line comes in.

Part of the force is a "super-army" of trained veterans ready to move into action at any one point with equipment to carry on as an attacking unit.

Of France's army, about 750,000 strong, some 100,000 are garrisoned in the Maginot Line with about 300,000 other troops in continental France. Within 48 hours after war is declared, it has been estimated in some military quarters, about 250,000 civilians with a year or two military training behind them could report for duty in the forts.

GALT, Ont., April 17—(CP)—Winnipeg Olympics sprang a surprise here Saturday night by holding Preston Rivulettes to a 1-1 draw in the first of a two-game goals-to-count series for the Canadian Women's Hockey championship and the Lady Bessborough Trophy.

Olympics showed improved form over last year when they lost to Rivulettes for the title. They gave a great display of defensive strength to hold their more highly-rated opponents to the tie. The teams play the second game here tomorrow night.

Both goals came in the first period, G. Pitcher scoring for Preston and M. Gault for Winnipeg.

Budget Debate In Legislature

books on this subject are being made available.

Visual Education

During the winter the Department of Education entered on a new field, that of visual education, a system involving the use of projection machines and film slides, which can be operated economically for school or study club work. Mr. McGuigan saw great possibilities in this movement, when it would be possible to keep the film slides for distribution in the public library. He hoped some day to see these machines in the schools.

A new type of rural leadership, he said, is being developed by the adult education movement.

Mr. McGuigan also reviewed in detail the progress made by the credit union societies, and emphasized their important function of inculcating thrift.

Dealing with health activities, he said there was no cutting down in these activities by the present Government. The savings had been effected by salary cuts. "The first salary reduced was that of the Minister, which was cut in two, and the total salary savings amounted to four or five thousand dollars."

Increased work in connection with laboratory services, etc., was reviewed. Besides a technician, a pathologist is now needed in that department.

The province had, fortunately, no serious epidemic during the year.

The Sanatorium requirements last year were $33,000, due chiefly to the fact that a large percentage of patients came from homes which are not able to contribute towards their support. "We have reached the point where we must make more provision for fighting tuberculosis, or we will lose the advantage of the progress we have already made," Mr. McGuigan said, after citing the per capita death rate from this disease for the various provinces. We should have to double our bed accommodation at the Sanatorium to meet what is regarded as the minimum requirement of two beds per death from this disease.

Mr. McGuigan outlined the proposals for relieving the situation, already mentioned in the Premier's budget speech. A building for housing the staff would cost $20,000 plus $2,000 furnishings. This would give some relief but it is suggested as a second stage in the development plan that a convalescent home be built. This would cost about $20,000 and would give additional accommodation for 20 or 30 patients.

"Too much stress," Mr. McGuigan said, "cannot be laid on health work. I feel that no matter how much it costs or where the money comes from, it will have to be provided, and the Province will be the gainer in the long run."

He then reviewed the work of the old age pensions department. This year the cost would be $240,000, with $18,000 for pensions for the blind, Ottawa's contribution being 75 per cent. He was afraid it would not be long before the total amount was $300,000.

Reference was made to a recent conference at Ottawa on old age pensions, called by Finance Minister Dunning, which was attended by Mr. McGuigan and the superintendent of old age pensions for this province.

One difficulty in pensions administration was establishing the question of age. The onus is now definitely on the applicant to produce proof of age, Mr. McGuigan explained. This sometimes worked a hardship but there was nothing the provincial authorities could do about it.

Another important requirement, as to length of domicile in the province and in Canada, was dealt with.

The Minister also explained the Federal requirements governing pensions for the blind.

Unbalanced Budget

Discussing the Government's failure to balance its budget, Mr. McGuigan said this was true of a great many other provinces and municipalities. He pointed out that unemployment relief in this province is charged up to ordinary account.

"Did the Dominion Government balance its budget?" he asked. "It didn't do it for the year ending March 31, 1937, and from all that we can find out it has not done so for the year ending March 31, 1938. Do we find people criticising the Dominion Government very severely in this matter? I do not think that they have. Or have members of that Government lost faith in themselves or faith in the people because they have not balanced the budget? Has Mr. Dunning lost faith in himself and the Government of which he is a part, because he has not been able to balance the budget? No! On the contrary he has not, and he has implicit faith that if conditions are anywise favorable he will balance the budget; that he will do as well in the years to come as the King Government did in the years 1921 to 1929. In like manner I say that if conditions are in any way favorable, we will yet balance the budget and do it without impairing in any way the efficiency of our public services."

HON. MARIN GALLANT

Following Mr. Jones in the debate, Hon. Marin Gallant, Third Prince, complimented the Premier on his exposition of the financial standing of the Province. He contrasted the deficits incurred under Conservative administration and maintained that it could not be shown that the Liberals, since coming into power, had not practiced careful economy.

He commended the road paving projects, which he was confident would be carried out in a fair and just impartial manner.

He also commended the Minister of Agriculture, and referred with special approval to the efforts to rehabilitate the fishery industry.

The progress made in fish curing was traced by Mr. Gallant to the educational campaign initiated some years ago.

Discussing education, he said he believe the elimination of Latin, algebra and geometry from the schools would be a mistake, but study of these subjects should only be exacted from the students when they enter grade 10. He heartily concurred in the Premier's remarks with regard to the need for restoring the old grammar schools. He could well remember this system, and cited instances of how it worked out. We cannot afford to establish high schools in this Province, but the grammar or 'first class" school would be feasible and would no doubt be of great benefit.

Mr. Gallant also congratulated the Premier on the brief submitted to the Rowell Commission. He hoped the Commission would make recommendations along the lines suggested, and that the Dominion Government would take action accordingly, to the end that the finances of this Province may be satisfactorily adjusted "and we may be able to make revenue and expenditure meet, and even have a surplus."

MEN WHO FEEL OLD
Get Back New Youth, Energy, Vitality

Too many men to-day feel tired out all the time—can't work, hate to get up mornings, haven't the vitality to do the things they used to do. A weak unhealthy liver caused by modern living, soft foods, lack of exercise, is the chief reason. Your liver is the storehouse for glucose or the "energy part" of the food you eat—it supplies energy to muscles, tissues and glands. If it is not strong and active no wonder you feel old! Take "Fruit-a-tives", it will build up your liver like nothing else will. You'll be surprised how young you soon feel. 25c., 50c., all Druggists.

Italy To Withdraw Combatants From Spanish War until the peacetime strength of possibly 30,000 men should be reached.

6. Both countries reaffirmed their Suez Canal convention of 1888 which guarantees use of the Suez Canal at all times for all powers.

7. Italy reaffirmed guarantees regarding Lake Tsana, Ethiopian source of the Blue Nile, in a clause of the accord in which Egypt participated.

8. Both countries agreed not to use propaganda against each other.

9. Both reaffirmed the gentlemen's agreement of January, 1937, and the Mediterranean status quo which that agreement involved.

10 Italy abandoned all claims to influence in Arabian territories bordering the Red Sea and across from Eritrea and Italian Somaliland. Both agreed to respect the integrity of Saudi Arabia and Yemen, independent Arabian states.

11 Both agreed to exchange information of major prospective movements of armed forces in the Mediterranean, Red Sea, Gulf of Aden, the Sudan and other regions. They agreed to notify each other in advance of any new naval or air bases in the eastern Mediterranean, the Red Sea and the approaches to the latter.

12 Boundary issues and related matters in the East African region are to be negotiated.

13 Italy was granted certain rights in the British Aden protectorate.

14. Italy reaffirmed her June, 1936, assurance to the League of Nations that natives of East Africa would not be used for military service except for local policing and defence. In other words, Italy will not raise a black army in Ethiopia.

15. Italy promised British Nationals full religious freedom in East Africa and agreed to allow British missionaries to continue their work there.

16. Extension of full British tradin facilities to Ethiopia and a promise by Britain to prevent raids into Ethiopia from neighboring territory.

Settlement of Anglo-Italian differences appeared to clear the way for an early Franco-Italian understanding which, with Germany working with Italy, might mean a line-up of four nations in Europe. Officials here indicated Italy was ready for negotiations with Paris, and usually well-informed sources said Count Ciano already had outlined this stand to France indirectly.

(A Paris dispatch reported Premier Edouard Daladier called a cabinet meeting for Wednesday to decide definitely on offers to be made to Italy, which would include appointment of an ambassador to Rome and recognition of the Ethiopian conquest.)

Immediately after the accord was signed, Mr. Chamberlain informed Il Duce of his hope that when it actually became effective it would "dispose of all outstanding points of difference between us."

That the agreement would not come into effect until after the Spanish question has been settled" was set forth as a condition by Great Britain in a letter written by Lord Perth to Count Ciano.

The protocol itself stated it would become effective "at a date the two governments will fix in common accord."

Mussolini in his telegram to the British Prime Minister declared the agreement put Anglo-Italian relations "on a solid and durable basis." He asserted he was convinced "there can now be opened between the two countries a new period of confidence and friendship."

As Count Ciano and Lord Perth squiggled their signatures on the various instruments under a battery of protegraphers lights, a great crowd demonstrated outside the Chigi Palace. The cheering men and women, gathered in the Corso Umberto I and Piazza Colonna, showed a spontaneity rarely seen here.

The crowds shouted for both the Italian and British statesmen and when Lord Perth departed his automobile was besieged by the throng and happy faces pressed against the car windows.

There were two copies of each agreement—one in English and the other in Italian—bound in blue leather and blazoned with the royal arms of each nation.

NEW RECOVERY PROGRAM FOR U. S. LAUNCHED

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

WASHINGTON, April 15 — The Roosevelt Administration determined to take a slice of public jobholders'salaries and income from future United States government securities to help pay for its proposed $4,500,000,000 program of lending and spending to combat the depression.

President Roosevelt disclosed at a press conference he would send these taxation proposals to Congress, along with recommendations for strengthening the laws against monopoly.

A flurry of activity at the Treasury immediately after the conference indicated no time would be lost in pushing the taxation program. Experts went hurriedly to work preparing estimates of probable revenue for the new taxes.

EXTEND BANK CREDIT

While Mr. Roosevelt's lieutenants on Capitol Hill arranged for what they hoped would be early passage of the lending-spending program, the Federal Reserve Board hastened to carry out a major phase of the administration's plan to expand potential bank credit in the hope of stimulating business.

The Board added $750,000,000 to the lendable funds in the banks of the United States by reducing the percentage of deposits the institutions must place in reserve for the protection of depositors.

Yesterday, the Administration carried out another phase of its credit policy by "de-sterilizing" $1,392,000,000 worth of gold lying unused in government vaults. Altogether, it was estimated by officials that the two actions increased the possible expansion of credit to about $38,720,000,000.

EXPECTED TO CO-OPERATE

Whether banks and business men would take the cue and avail themselves of the credit opportunities was a question only the future could determine. Administration men hoped, however, that their action would have psychological effects immediately.

The Roosevelt tax proposal involves the removal of tax exemptions from all future issues of government securities—federal, state, municipal, etc. The Federal Government, which taxes salaries of its own employees now, would levy upon salaries of employees of other governmental agencies. States, in turn, would be expected to tax federal salaries.

Roswell Magill, Undersecretary of the Treasury, recently estimated that the Federal Government could raise $15,000,000 a year by taxing state and local public salaries. He figured the government could garner a total of $155,000,000 annually if all existing federal, state and local securities and salaries were subject to tax.

HEARINGS NEXT WEEK

The House Appropriations Committee announced today that hearings on the $4,500,000,000 spending-lending program would begin next Wednesday.
