NOW IN BELGIUM. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gallant, Egmont Bay have received word from their son Pte. Eric Gallant stating that he is now in Belgium. He fought through the campaign in France and being able to speak the language of the people, had many interesting conversations. He says that the allied troops received a wonderful reception from the people and that many of them told him that all the cruelties that one hears of the Germans are true. Another brother Flying Officer Gus Gallant is now in British Columbia having served a tour of operations overseas. He has just completed a course in instruction at work in Ottawa.

Pte. C. A. McPhee Of S'side Dies From Wounds

Word came yesterday to Dr. and Mrs. J. A. McPhee, Summerside, that their son, Pte. Charles Adolphus McPhee, had died of wounds. They had previously been advised that Pte. McPhee had been wounded on Sept. 13 and was dangerously ill.

He was twenty years of age. He went overseas in the April of 1943, shortly after he joined up, and had been serving in Italy. In June of this year Dr. and Mrs. McPhee were advised that Charles had been killed in action, but this later proved to have been an error.

Besides his sorrowing parents there are left to mourn six sisters and three brothers. A twin brother Ernest is in England; Lance Cpl. Jack is in Italy, having fought through the Sicilian campaign and the Italian campaign to date; a younger brother Donald is at home.

The sisters are: Lieut. (Nursing Sister) Heleer overseas, Mary, Mrs. Smith in Western Canada, Jean, E.N. in Halifax and Joan, Janet, and Dorothy at home.

Dr. McPhee is at present in Halifax. He is expected home tomorrow evening.—S.

Savage Sky Battles Fought Over Germany

LONDON, Sept. 28 (CP)—Savage sky battles were fought over Germany again today as the Luftwaffe sought to stem the mass allied aerial assault which carried through its fourth consecutive day and cost the United States 8th Air Force 46 heavy bombers and 12 fighters.

Planes of every sort swept across the continent in widespread attacks against German industrial and supply targets, but the day's principal blows were struck by more than 1,000 heavy bombers and 700 escorting fighters of the 8th Air Force against Magdeburg, Kassel and Merseburg in Central Germany.

R.A.F. heavy bombers, meanwhile, blasted Cahais twice, viciously and flak was heavy at many points as the American bombers carried out their attacks. A communique said some of the missing American fighters may be the figures announced brought the two-day losses of the 8th Air Force to 91 heavy bombers and 19 fighters.

Thirty-six German fighters were shot down today, 26 by American fighters and ten by British bombers bringing the two-day scores of air battles to 77 enemy planes lost.

Allies Occupy 7 Italian Towns

ROME, Sept. 28 (CP)—Seven strategic towns have been occupied by allied troops advancing up both coasts of the peninsula. In the rugged central sector where troops of the British-American 5th Army were 12 miles from the important Nazi sector, allied headquarters reported today.

British and Canadian troops in the Adriatic sector enlarged their bridgehead over the Rubicon to a two mile depth along a 10 mile front. Italian patriots seized the town of Emar, seven miles beyond Rimini, and held it until Canadian forces rushed in and cleared small pockets of resistance.

Trinity Church Woman's Ass'n Assumes Work

The opening meeting for the fall and winter months of the Women's Association Trinity United Church was held on Thursday afternoon in the East Parlor, Hearst Memorial Hall, with a good attendance.

The president, Mrs. MacAusland, was in the chair. A short devotional period led by Mrs. Jasper Pickard and Mrs. Craswell with the members all taking part, opened the meeting. Routine business was attended to and plans were for the months ahead.

A fitting tribute was paid to the work of a dearly loved member who had passed on in the person of Mrs. Geo. Gardiner, for many years a very active member of this Association.

Aklavik Is Boom Town

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 (CP)—Aklavik near the mouth of the Mackenzie river in the Northwest Territories, is booming. There is a money changing hands nowadays than ever before, but even at that there's not a bank in the community.

Dr. L. D. Livingstone, back in Ottawa after being government medical officer at Aklavik for six years, estimates that there is a ways $500,000 in currency around the place—much of it in the hands of Eskimos. The riding of the crest of a bountiful fur season.

One merchant showed me a bundle of bills that had $10,000 in it, he recalled. "That was the biggest lot of money in one bundle I ever saw."

Aklavik is a great trading post for the Eskimos who trap in the Mackenzie Delta for muskrats and on Banks Island in the Beaufort Sea for white fox.

There are four important firms in Aklavik which buy furs and it is not uncommon for an Eskimo family to drop in with $5,000 worth of furs, representing a year's catch. It requires a lot of ready cash to handle the riding of muskrat, especially when eight or ten families travel together.

The trapping industry is largely reserved for the Eskimos and the Indians. Few white men are granted licenses. The Eskimos, particularly, are growing rich as they are not so wasteful as Indians. But they aren't hoarding their money, either.

"They spend a lot on their equipment, the kind of Eskimo Doug How, Canadian Press War Correspondent said.

After the bitter resistance of the last few days, the German offensive little active opposition to Ontario and Maritime troops pressing on from the Rubicon bridgehead, How wrote.
