—COME to the hot chicken supper in the Cape Traverse Hall under the auspices of the Carleton Women's Institute on Wednesday, September 16th. Supper served from 5 to 8 P. M. 8673-9-14-31.

—FINED $50 AND COSTS—The Customs case, in connection with the seizure of liquor on Central street, Summerside, last Friday by Customs Officer McDonald and Constable Keir Mann, of the Provincial Police, was concluded on Friday afternoon and the accused found guilty and fined $50 and costs or one month in jail. The case was tried by Messrs. H. J. Massey and F. W. Cannon, J.P., at the Court House, Summerside—S.

—CORRECTION—Owing to stenographic errors in the copy supplied to The Guardian there were one or two mistakes in the report of the judgment of the "Book Case" in Saturday's issue. The reading "Plaintiff's Claim" should have read "Defendant's Claim" and the opening paragraph under this heading should also have read "The defendant claims." In the last paragraph of the first column, before the heading (Case Reviewed) it should have read in regard to defendant and not plaintiff. Also in the paragraph headed "Erroneous Information", the word "plaintiff" should have read "defendant" and also in the first paragraph of the third column the same word is used, where it should have read "defendant."

—CELEBRATES 80TH BIRTHDAY—Over one hundred guests were present to extend their felicitations to Mr. Charles Read, of Coleman, on his attaining his eightieth birthday on Thursday, September 10th, when a banquet was presented in his honour that day at his home in Coleman. Relatives were present from all over the Island. A number from Tignish, Summerside and Rustico. Mr. James Rayner, of Tignish, acted as chairman for the evening and congratulated Mr. Read on his health and vigor and hoped that he would enjoy many more such occasions as the present one. Mr. Read's only daughter, Mrs. James Stevenson, of New Glasgow, then read an address from the family congratulating their father on his birthday. Telegrams and greetings were read from members of the family who could not be present. Among them were messages from his absent sons in the West of Canada, Ephraim Stewart and Edward. The gifts brought by the guests and many others sent from a distance were opened with fitting ceremony and the accompanying verses read. Speech making was next in order and many fine expressions of goodwill were showered upon Mr. Read and his good wife. Among those present, who added congratulations was Mrs. W. A. Brennan, of Summerside, a niece of Mr. Read's, who said how delighted she was to have returned to the Island, after an absence of some years in time to be present on this occasion. Mr. Read in replying to the many expressions of good will and in thanking those present for the many gifts he had received, said it was a wonderful thing to feel that he had so many real friends in the evening of his life. Love in the family and true friendship were after all the things that mattered most in this life and it gave him the utmost pleasure to clasp the many hands that friendship was extending to him and his life's partner this evening. An enjoyable program of music made the time pass pleasantly and some excellent vocal and instrumental numbers were contributed by several ladies and gentlemen. A feature of the evening was a step dance, by Mr. Read, who in spite of his eighty years kept the dance going for almost ten minutes. A bounteous turkey supper was then served in the dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Wilnot Read acted as host and hostess, with Mr. and Mrs. Read, who occupied the seats of honour at the head of the table. Mr. Read has resided in Coleman for the past thirty years and is a very successful farmer. He is a native of Wilnot Valley, the last surviving son of the late Ephraim Read. He is a brother of the late Capt. Joseph Read, former head of Jos. Read and Company, of Summerside. Mr. Read before going to Coleman was associated with his brother in the firm. He is a man of many fine characteristics and many friends in Summerside will be glad to know that he is still hale and hearty and going strong. Before leaving, the company bounced the guest of honor and wished him many happy returns of the day.—S.
