W. C. T. U. at her memorial service spoke in part as follows:

We rejoice in this life that has been given to us and to the world. We thank God for what she has been enabled to accomplish for the world, we see in her mission the religion of Christ for she went forth along His work. During her last illness in speaking of the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ (which was the secret of her power) she said, tell the world it is a home religion, it is a religion of peace, it is a religion of love and a patriotic religion. In her life she honored Christ, she did not lose faith in Him. We look at her beautiful form and say "She is gone" but she has not gone, she will continue to be our leader and I believe from the battlements of glory she will watch our work. I believe she will still inspire, my sisters let us praise God this morning that we have been permitted to come into relationship with her beautiful spirit and then let us honor her by going out to do the work that she would exhort us to do faithfully. Let us in this divine presence pledge to her, pledge to God, pledge to each other that we will be more loving, more faithful, more self-sacrificing, more devoted, and that we will honor her by honoring the God she loved and the work to which she gave her life and which she has left to us. Degrees Of Errors Of Vision

As has been said, most persons have some degree of error of vision. It may be so slight as to be ignored, or so excessive that the individual is forced to seek aid in order to see at all. Between these two extremes are countless persons whose eyes need attention. It is to this class that our articles are especially directed.

EMERALD

Miss Lula Murphy of Conway has been visiting friends in Kinkora and Emerald, the guest of Mrs. Russell Deignan.

Mr. Aubrey Fyle of the Emerald hockey team was a visitor to Emerald on Monday and participated in the game in Freetown that evening.

Mr. John P. White has returned home after attending the funeral of his brother-in-law, Mr. Coleman Cameron, of Richmond, which took place on Thursday last.

Mrs. Joseph Hughes, of Emerald, returned home on Monday evening last after spending a few days in the city with her sister, Mrs. Charles Colony.

Mr. J. A. Hughes, of Norboro, who had his hand severely lacerated by being crushed in a barn door about a month ago, has recovered sufficiently to again attend to his farm work.

The death took place last week of Mr. Coleman Cameron, of Richmond, a highly respected resident of that locality. The funeral took place on Thursday at Wellington Cemetery and was largely attended by neighbours and friends.

Mr. Damien Duffy, who lost his dwelling house by fire last week, intends to rebuild as early as possible in the Spring, with the assistance of insurance on the building and the assistance of many friendly neighbours. He expects to resume his farming operations as usual.

Mr. Clair Greenan, of Kinkora, has purchased a nice farm property from his neighbour, Mr. James M. Greenan at a remunerative price. Mr. Greenan is a successful farmer and with optimistic view of the future considers land and property a

Dr. Wood's Don't Blame Mother For the Children's Colds

Despite all the mother can do the youngsters will run out of dozes not properly wrapped up, have too much clothing on; get overheat and cool off too suddenly; get their feet wet; kick off the bedclothes, and do a dozen other things the mother cannot prevent.

Mothers will find that a few doses of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is all that is necessary to check the colds before any serious trouble may develop.
