AMONG WINNERS.—Miss Mary Gillis, 23 Grafton Street, was among the winners of the Children of Mary and the Notre Dame Alumnae lottery, referred to yesterday not Mrs. Gillis as appeared.

GAZETTED.—In the list of officers and men of the 2nd Balfour P. E. Coy., 414941 Gnr. McAskill, Parker, Henry, should have read P14341 Gnr. McAskill, James Russell.

SOCIAL EVENING ENJOYED.—In referring to the farewell presentation given Messrs. Sterling and Alex McLeod at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Penna Moore, New Perth, on January 12th it should have been stated that the hours were passed in social intercourse and not dancing as inadvertently stated.

FUNERAL SERVICES.—The funeral of Mrs. Rebecca Hume Robertson formerly of Belle River, who passed away on Saturday, was held yesterday afternoon from the McLean Funeral Home where service was conducted by Rev. H. Bishop who also conducted service at the grave. Interment was in the People's Cemetery.

SOCIAL GATHERING.—A most enjoyable evening was spent on February fifteenth at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Newson, Kingston, when the members of the male choir, their wives, and other friends, gathered for an evening of social and amusement. There was quite a surprise for the guests to learn after their arrival that it was Mr. and Mrs. Newson's twenty-ninth wedding anniversary. However, the evening was very pleasantly spent by playing games, singing old familiar hymns and songs. Instrumental music was also capably rendered by Mrs. Everett Messrs. Golden Graves, Chalmers Newson and David Ward. A very dainty lunch was served by the hostess, after which Mr. Stephen Clark, on behalf of the bride and groom, and thanked them for the hospitality they had been treated and expressed their sincere congratulations. All pointed to Messrs. Golden Graves, Chalmers Newson and David Ward. Sea View And Vicinity

Mrs. Reginald Mountain entertained the members of the Darnley W. I. at her home in Darnley on Saturday evening. There was a good attendance of members. The usual business discussion followed the opening with the Ode and Creed. The evening was spent by all busily engaged in knitting for the Red Cross. Those ladies have already completed a large amount of knitting and other work for the Canadian Red Cross. A beautiful lunch was served by the hostess assisted by the committee in charge and a pleasant and profitable evening was spent.

The many friends of Mrs. William Cousins are sorry to learn of her illness. All trust to hear of a speedy recovery.

Mr. Auden Donald has returned to his home in Sea View after spending the past few weeks in Charlottetown attending the Short Course in Agriculture which closed on Saturday.

Mrs. James Wall entertained the members of the Balfour W.I. at her home on Wednesday evening. Those ladies are busily engaged in knitting for Patriotic purposes. The true spirit of patriotism is being displayed by the Institute members in all the rural communities both in working and making contributions from time to time in purchasing supplies for carrying on this work while task for the comfort of our soldiers in their great need.

The many friends of Mrs. Loring Raynor (nee Margaret Pickering) are pleased to learn of the arrival of a baby girl in Prince County Hospital. Heartly congratulations are extended to both Mr. and Mrs. Raynor at this time.

A most enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Woodside on Wednesday evening in the form of a Valentine Social under the auspices of the Y.P.U. There was a large gathering of both old and young and the evening was whittled away with progressive crokinole and parlor games of all kinds. This was also followed by a sing song of old favorites which was greatly enjoyed by all lovers of music. Prizes were awarded to all those who won in the crokinole game, Gentlemen: first prize won by Frank Craig; second by James McKay. Ladies: first prize won by Mrs. Preston Green and the second by Miss served by the ladies in charge after Clark. A beautiful lunch was which a social hour followed. The thanks of all was extended to the host and hostess for their kind hospitality. A splendid sum was realized and all felt they had a good time.

A number of the young people from this community attended the Community Club at Irishtown on Wednesday as visitors to the weekly gathering. A most pleasant evening was spent in music and games of all kinds. The young people of Irishtown are to be congratulated on their efforts in organizing this Club which so far has proven to be an evening well spent both as a social and an evening of entertainment for all.

Mrs. William Adams is spending a pleasant visit in French River, the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paynter.

Mrs. James Harding, Darnley, is attending the Short Course in Agriculture at Charlottetown which is being held in Charlottetown.

Mrs. Harry Crozier and little daughter are spending a pleasant visit in French River, the pleasure of Mrs. Crozier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seller, Wheatley River.

Mrs. Nettie Frander has returned to Sea View after a prolonged visit with friends in Malpeque.

Mr. Joseph Shean, Kensington, was a business visitor to Sea View on Tuesday.

The popular game of Crokinole is being widely played in this community and has become quite popular both by old and young. Some have indeed become especially adept at this interesting game.

Scout News and Notices

To Canada's 100,000 Boy Scouts, the tragic death of His Excellency the Governor General, Lord Tweedsmuir, comes as an almost personal loss.

As Chief Scout for Canada, Lord Tweedsmuir had invited Scout gatherings from coast to coast and the majority of Scouts had enjoyed the honour of being close to him at such times. Many had talked to him; not a few had shaken hands with him. By all he was beloved and respected, not only as the representative in Canada of His Majesty the King, but as a man who had made a great personal contribution to Scouting and all the Scouting stands for in the national life of the Dominion.

On February 24th, at Toronto, on the occasion of the National Service Dinner, the Canadian General Council of the Boy Scouts Association, His Excellency was to have broadcast over the national chain of the CBC. His message was to be addressed to the Scouters and Boy Scouts of the Dominion.

One one occasion at a dinner of the Canadian General Council of the Boy Scouts Association, Lord Tweedsmuir made a fervent appeal for achievement of the first 100,000 of Boy Scout membership in Canada "before I leave this country." He said there had been an increase of 14 per cent since he became Chief Scout on his arrival here as Governor General in 1935 and he asked for 14,000 more boys and 1,700 more leaders to bring the total up to the 100,000 mark.

That 100,000 mark was reached late in 1939—strangely enough, it would seem, before His Excellency "left this country".

Always noted for his active interest in the welfare of Canadian youth, Lord Tweedsmuir had always taken a very special interest in the work of the Boy Scouts of the Dominion. Despite the fact that the circumstances of his high post as Governor General made unceasing and all-too exacting demands upon his time and energies, His Excellency was never too busy to fulfill engagements that had to do with the furthering of the Boy Scout movement.

His Excellency's own personal habits, indeed, smacked of Scouting to the nth degree. He loved the outdoors, long tramps in the hills, excursions that took him even into the far northern reaches of the Dominion.

And so today, from Vancouver to Halifax, from Lake Superior to Hudson Bay, 100,000 Boy Scouts are mourning the loss of their Scoutmaster and one who had made himself beloved and respected throughout the movement.

Fifteen Windsor, Ont., Rover Scouts took the blood test and were on the free blood transfusion list of Grace Hospital.

On the outbreak of war a camp site being prepared by the Scouts of New Zealand for a big jamboree was taken over by the Government.

One of the mementoes on the walls of the "Chief Scout's Room" at London headquarters of the Boy Scouts is a decorated hatbox presented to Lord Baden-Powell by Polish Boy Scouts at Gdynia in 1933.

A colony for the instruction of Boy Scouts in modern agriculture has been established in Upper Burma. The venture will follow the lines of the successful experiment on a fifty-acre site at Kalutara, Ceylon.

In some communities the Christmas tree has been played, such an important role in family festivities are indifferently thrown out with the garbage. The Scouts of Hespeler, Ont., decided this was not appropriate, so gathered over 200 pounds of old trees and made a big beacon "cremation" on the ice.

BOY SCOUTS "CARRY-ON" CAMPAIGN

Help to Keep the Homes Going

To enable the Boy Scouts Association to Carry-On during the war an appeal is made for $5,000. The expansion of the work has been great during the past year and there is still much to be accomplished before the benefits of Scouting are fully enjoyed by the rising hopes of this province.

Lord Baden-Powell, recuperating from a serious illness in far away Kenya, sent us the following Christmas and New Year Message which speaks for itself.

Hitler does not seem likely to give us a Merry Christmas, so if we are to have one at all we must make it for ourselves. One way to this end is to double our Good Turns usual at this season, and to inspire our boys to do the same.

Never was there so opportune a time. Every here our fellow-countrymen are suffering anxiety or sorrow—under the additional hardships of winter. If we seize this opportunity to give them a hand our Christmas will be a happier one for us as well as for them.

So with all heartiness I wish your Christmas may be happier through happyfying others. To those of our Brotherhood who have gone on service in the cause of freedom and justice, I wish success, a happy issue out of all their afflictions, and safe return.

Also I hope that the New Year may bring with it wider goodwill and the restoration of God's peace in the world.

BADEN-POWELL of GILWELL.

A GOOD TURN SERVICE FOR EVERY SOLDIER'S HOME

In the January Scout Leader, in response to many calls "for leadership," there was promised the announcement of a national Scout Wartime Service effort that could be taken up simultaneously in every part of Canada as Scouting's distinctive contribution toward meeting the "home front" problems of the war.

Study almost at once made it clear that there could be no one single major activity, undertaken "for the duration"; that this would mean the possible exclusion of other Scout national good turns of equal importance. In other words, the ready adaptability of Scouting to varied services, its genius for good turns large and small, dictated the plan of giving special attention in turn to a succession of Wartime Service tasks, developing and establishing them, then—looking for something else to develop and establish.

This broadly is the plan of Wartime Service leadership laid out by the special Wartime Service Committee of the Executive Board at Dominion Headquarters.

For the first job we are taking on, in every Scouting community in the Dominion, the doing of all special home good turns possible for those who are making or facing the greatest personal sacrifices. That is, the wives, the children, and the mothers of men who have left or will leave their homes for active military service.

All Scouters, assisted by their Group Committeemen will proceed at once to get in touch with every soldier's family in their community, and discover in what ways these may be served.

WHERE NO MENFOLKS LEFT

In numbers of cases the only male adult at home has "signed up." In such instances the women of the household will have assumed those home duties ordinarily performed by the father, or son, or brother: Snow-shovelling, bringing in the coal or wood, carrying out the ashes, putting on or taking down storm windows; in rural or semi-rural communities, taking care of poultry, perhaps pigs, a family cow and horse.

These are the type of tasks that Scouts appropriately assume, plus in many cases the "running of chores" to the store, specially during bad weather.

NOTHING MORE APPRECIATED BY SOLDIERS

While these activities may not at first sight appear a "big thing," it will readily be realized that nothing is more appreciated by the soldiers themselves—the knowledge that the folks at home are thus being looked after. The mothers of Scouts also appreciate the value of this "homely" help, and will be glad to co-operate.

Help the Boys to Help Others and so Help to Win the War.

LORD BADEN-POWELL

In Memoriam

Our deep sympathy goes out to Mr. Macdonald of this City in the loss of his youngest son, Pte. Urban Joseph Macdonald, aged 18 years of Prince Edward Island Highlanders Black Watch, who met his death by accident while on sentry duty at Darlington, N. S., on January 22nd.

His Chaplain Rev. W. J. Enright, C. S. R., writes of him: "He was an exemplary boy, good soldier and a real Christian. He was held in high esteem by his Military Superiors, beloved by his fellow soldiers and well respected by us all. He was a manly type, a soldier who was temperate and clean spoken." The military funeral given him at Halifax was very impressive. Flags were half mast, the whole army turned out, the old soldiers were on parade, two bands played, the school children marched. The casket draped in the Union Jack and covered with wreaths, was taken home by Lieut. John Macdonald and six Pte. soldiers. Arriving here the casket was given in charge of Undertaker Hennessey and conveyed to the home of Mr. Wm. Somers, Queen Street. A military procession followed as was a multitude of citizens who came to pay a last tribute of respect to the soldier boy.

Flags were half mast the entire day and a steady procession of old

Fortunes!

How eager your friends are to hear about the cards have to say about them! And how your stock goes up when you reveal such a fateful fortune as "A dark-haired man loves you, and some day soon you'll marry!"

How do you do it? Easy when you know meanings of important cards, relate them to the name card with a fascinating story.

The name card, which is YOU, would be the Queen of Hearts if you are brown-haired, have blue or gray eyes. And if the Jack of Spades (a dark young man) is next you and the Eight of Hearts (marriage) is nearby—a wedding's in store!

Should you fear a Queen of Clubs near you? No, she's a friend. The Three of Diamonds says she'll give you good news.

As easily you weave stories from other cards. Here are some important ones: the Seven of Clubs (a quarrel about money), the Two of Spades (a happy surprise), the Five of Hearts (marriage), the Nine of Diamonds (money earned).

And fun to learn other ways to tell fortunes! In our 32-page booklet you find complete instructions for reading fascinating fortunes in dominoes, dice, cards, tea leaves. Gives a horoscope for each month, tips on "crystal-gazing," fortune games.

Send 20c in coins for your copy of Fun With Fortune-Telling to the Guardian Home Service. Be sure to write plainly your Name, Address, and the Name of booklet.

Legion's Education Courses Being Well Attended By Troops

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—A strong appeal for the generous support of the Canadian people in connection with the campaign for $500,000 is being made this week by the Canadian Legion War Services, made over the network of C.B.C. by Walter S. Woods, chairman of the War Veterans' Allowance Board and Deputy National Chairman of the Legion's education branch.

"The functions of the Legion's wartime organization," Mr. Woods emphasized, "are to provide education, personal services, entertainment, recreation and sports for our men of the naval, land and air forces, here and overseas. These undertakings are now successfully undertaken."

Mr. Woods, who served in the ranks of the Canadian Field Artillery in the last war, stated that the Legion's primary aim is to provide for the welfare and morale of fighting forces to be them, first, win the war, and secondly, to prepare themselves for their ultimate return to peace-time conditions.

Dealing with the Legion's education program Mr. Woods said that hundreds of classes are now running in barrack rooms and vocational schools throughout the Dominion and thousands of men have already embarked on courses of study. He stated that classes in bookkeeping, shorthand, typewriting, wireless, and technical subjects, such as drafting, mechanics and electricity are being well attended.

The Legion's overseas education services are also well under way and many members of the Legion have been enrolled for study. The work abroad is in charge of Robert England, M.A., M.C., of Winnipeg, overseas director of education, and his associate, Lieut.-Col. H. de Martigny, of Montreal.

I'LL SHOW HIM I CAN BE THE KIND OF A GIRL HE DOESN'T LIKE

NOW LISTEN, YOUNG MAN—FLATTERY DOESN'T GO WITH ME—I DON'T LIKE IT, I WON'T HAVE IT

NOW, DON'T COME BACK UNTIL YOU'VE GOT THAT THROUGH YOUR HEAD

I'M SORRY

GEE, TILLIE, YOU DON'T KNOW HOW BEAUTIFUL YOU LOOK WHEN YOU'RE ANGRY LIKE THAT—WOW, THOSE FLASHING EYES

Legion's Education Courses Being Well Attended By Troops

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—A strong appeal for the generous support of the Canadian people in connection with the campaign for $500,000 is being made this week by the Canadian Legion War Services, made over the network of C.B.C. by Walter S. Woods, chairman of the War Veterans' Allowance Board and Deputy National Chairman of the Legion's education branch.

"The functions of the Legion's wartime organization," Mr. Woods emphasized, "are to provide education, personal services, entertainment, recreation and sports for our men of the naval, land and air forces, here and overseas. These undertakings are now successfully undertaken."

Mr. Woods, who served in the ranks of the Canadian Field Artillery in the last war, stated that the Legion's primary aim is to provide for the welfare and morale of fighting forces to be them, first, win the war, and secondly, to prepare themselves for their ultimate return to peace-time conditions.

Dealing with the Legion's education program Mr. Woods said that hundreds of classes are now running in barrack rooms and vocational schools throughout the Dominion and thousands of men have already embarked on courses of study. He stated that classes in bookkeeping, shorthand, typewriting, wireless, and technical subjects, such as drafting, mechanics and electricity are being well attended.

The Legion's overseas education services are also well under way and many members of the Legion have been enrolled for study. The work abroad is in charge of Robert England, M.A., M.C., of Winnipeg, overseas director of education, and his associate, Lieut.-Col. H. de Martigny, of Montreal.
