Georgetown and Vicinity

Mr. Donovan underwent a serious operation in the hospital only two months ago and was just getting around when this accident happened.

Mrs. John R. O'Brien was a business visitor to the city last week.

Mrs. John Lepierre and daughter Ella were visitors to the city last week visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruddle O'Hanley were visitors here on Monday from Souris to vote. They remained overnight.

Mrs. Ernest Bambrick, who spent the past week with her sister here has returned to her home at Head of Hillsboro.

Mr. Robert Belanger, who came here from Quebec to reside some years ago and later returned to his home port, has arrived back in Bristol for a visit.

Mrs. Robert Belanger arrived here last week to spend some time with her parents. Her three children are with her. She was Alice Lepierre before her marriage in Quebec some years ago.

Once more we call attention to a one-mile stretch of highway between Lot Forty and Morell that is getting worse every day and unless this is attended to at once, someone is going to be hurt in a car smash.

Thursday of this week marks the end of the lobster season and what will be done they by the fishers and those in the packing plants will do then remains to be seen. A lot of people expect to be out of work.

It was expected that all new seats would be placed in the Little Flower Church last week owing to the men who are to do this work still working on a church at St. Marguerite. The job here is to follow that one and will be done anytime now. The seats were on order for a year or more.

Some one entered the old store of the late Leo Roach last week after breaking the windows. All the counters and everything but the wall were taken out. The property is owned by Mr. Dave Roach who resides in Halifax and who has been in the hospital for a long time. No doubt the interior was taken for firewood.

Mr. Charles McCarthy is having a new and modern barn erected. At present the new barn will replace several smaller ones of the old-time style, everything under one roof. This great barn will be the third in this vicinity. Chester McCarthy built one last year and Mr. Ephraim Malone has one well underway that is seventy five feet long.

Friends here, especially the old timers, will learn with regret of the death of his home in Lynn, Mass. of Mr. Robert Mooney. He left here many years ago to reside in the States and when this writer visited him last summer, his sole desire was to visit his old home once more and see old friends. Friends join in extending sincere sympathy to his family.

A welcome visitor here after many years absence is Mr. Jarlah Baker from New Jersey, U.S.A. Mr. Baker retired from the fishing industry some years ago and went to Roy who operates a service station in New Jersey. Jarlah says he is only seventy eight now and is in prime health and expects to stay around until the warm weather is over and make a few trips to the old fishing grounds he loves so well.

The funeral of the late Miss Catherine Hughes who died in Portland, Maine, a short time ago was held from the residence of her nephew, Mr. Harold Murphy to the Church of the Little Flower here on Wednesday morning where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. P. McKenna who also conducted service at the grave. The older class member Miss Hughes. She was a sister of the late Mrs. Peter Murphy and visited here mostly every summer. She resided with another nephew, Mr. Charles Murphy in Portland who came home with her remains. Mr. Murphy is a railway engineer in Portland and his home is a stopping place for many a traveler from this vicinity on the way to Boston.

The Requiem High Mass at the Little Flower Church for the late Mike Flynn was celebrated on Monday morning, not Sunday, as reported last week.

Mr. F. R. Sinnott and son, carpenter, have completed the big job of re-roofing the Church of St. Laurence at Morell Rear; also the house and outbuildings.

Mrs. Gus MacDonald, who is getting into the strawberry growing on a larger scale has set out a mighty lot of two thousand plants. These plants will not bear any fruit this season. Growers report the extreme dry, hot weather hard on the fruit.

Friends of Miss Margaret Findley will be sorry to hear she is a patient in the Charlottetown Hospital following an accident at her home here on Thursday evening. Miss Findley was doing some work around the outside of her home when in some manner she lost her balance while up on the ladder and fell to the ground, breaking her leg. Mr. Sterling McEwen rushed the injured woman to hospital where she will be confined for some time. She had only arrived home from Boston a short time ago for the summer months.

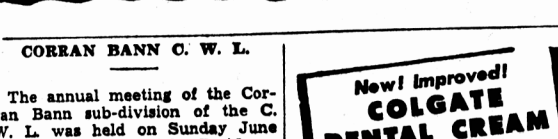

Friends of Mrs. Joe Donovan will be sorry to hear she fell injuring her back on Friday while visiting her niece, Mrs. James McCormack, in the city. She stepped into the open cellar hatch and received quite a shaking up along with a cut leg and injuries to her back. She is able to be around but reports herself as very stiff and says she will be re-roofed.
