LORD DUNDONALD MAY LEAVE.

OTTAWA, March 20—(Special)—It is understood that a difference of opinion has arisen between the men of the Militia Department and Major-General Lord Dundonald in regard to militia organization and the result may be that Lord Dundonald will shortly leave Canada.

HE WANTED LARGE EXPENDITURE.

Lord Dundonald, it is understood, wanted a capital expenditure of nearly twelve millions to completely re-organize the Canadian militia while the Minister can only give about one million.

THINKS GENERAL SHOULD CONTROL.

Lord Dundonald is also said to hold the idea of General Hutton and others that the General commanding for the Imperial Government and not the Minister of Militia and the Canadian Government, should control the militia.

THE BELOVED PHYSICIAN

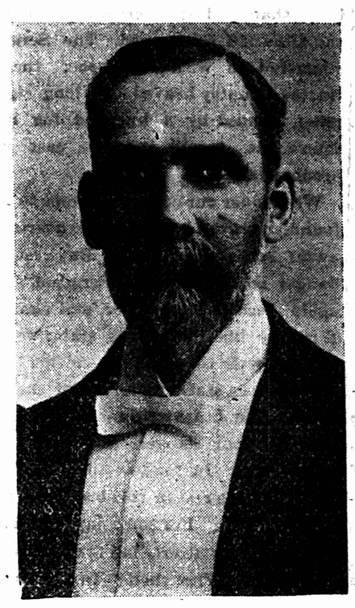
Tribute by Pastor Young to Late Dr. R. Johnson.

A Noble Life and Example tha Cheered and Benefited Many— The Medical Profession an Exalted One.

In the First Methodist Church yesterday afternoon at the funeral service of the late Dr. Johnson, the pastor Rev. G. M. Young took for his text Col. 4:14 "The beloved physician." He said :

We are gathered together as a congregation, and as citizens to pay our tribute of respect and esteem to the memory of one whom we had learned to love. And although this house was not reared for the glory, even of the best and the greatest of men, but for the glory of God and the spiritual edification of His worshippers, yet I feel that God is honored and man edified by a notice of one who in his life signally manifested the spirit of Christ, and won for himself in this community the title originally applied to St. Luke. Dr. Johnson by the blamelessness of his life, the elevation of his spirit, and the kindliness of his deeds certaintly had won the title of "the beloved Physician."

DOUGALD CURRIE,
The new elected member for West River District.



HON. S. E. REID,
Speaker of the Legislative Assembly.

All who have had opportunities of knowing him testify spontaneously that they knew no purer, nobler, human being. Some even think that, on the whole, he was the best man they had ever been privileged to know. Such a man may be spoken of, even in the house of God, where flattery is profanation, and God not man is to be adored.

Dr. Johnson was richly endowed from early life in the heritage of a godly home, and associations which in tender youth led him to know Christ as a personal Saviour. In young manhood he gave himself to the studies of medicine in Harvard College, but when his course was all but complete, a terrible experience which brought him near to the gates of the Unseen and Eternal, caused him to offer himself as a candidate for the Methodist ministry in 1857. He pursued with zeal and diligence his theological studies and in ordinary course was ordained a minister at the Conference held in the City of Saint John in 1861.

The great grief of his life came when through an affection of the throat, he was forced to lay aside the loved work, for which he had fitted himself and which was so suited to his fine intellect and clear spiritual sense. He took a year to rest in 1864, but though not in vigorous health, his ardent spirit could not content itself in idleness, so he proceeded to Harvard and finished his medical course, graduating M. D. the same year. Then finding himself still unable to do the work which was nearest his heart, he retired to take up new duties in another field of labor and usefulness, after seven years of faithful and honored service in the Christian ministry of the Church that he loved.

With all the ardour of a consecrated energy he gave himself to the work of ministering to bodies diseased. Next to the ministry of the Gospel stands the ministry of the medical profession. Christianity is the handmaid of medicine. The ancients put to death their aged and infirm, but it was left to Christianity to
