—FULLY EXONERATED.—The many friends of Mr. Colin Millican, Summerside, will be pleased to learn by the report of the proceedings in the Supreme Court elsewhere in this issue, that he has been fully exonerated from the charge laid against him. The absurdity of charging him with wrong doing in a house in which he was a total stranger and while his wife and daughter were sitting in an automobile at the door was apparent to everyone and nobody believed the story. Mr. Millican has been a life long resident of Summerside where he has been in business for the past thirty years and where he and his family are highly respected people in the community. There has never been a suspicion of doubt as to his innocence in this case among those who knew Mr. Millican has ever borne the reputation of being an honourable, honest and most innocent man as to his prey of any designing person, male or female, while the latter may escape scot free if they fail to prove their case. Meanwhile the innocent victim and his family are obliged to stand under the shadow of an alleged crime to say nothing of the expense and annoyance incurred.

—WEDDING BELLS.—On December 20, 1922, Mr. Preston Toombs Long River, and Miss Sarah Pearl Goss, Kensington, were married in the Methodist Manse, Kensington, by Rev. Geo. Ayers. The comprehensive part of the ceremony being performed, the party returned to the Commercial Hotel and sat down to a daintily served supper, in which the intimate relatives of the contracting parties participated. After supper the happy couple were introduced to a most attractive display of beautiful and useful presents which the admiring friends showered upon the youthful pair to show the sincerity of their good wishes. When the event had been adequately amplified by appropriate reception, the festive party, satiated with an exuberance of good wishes, departed for their future home in Long River, where they were warmly welcomed by their many friends and where they will enjoy the pleasures and advantages of life so auspiciously begun.—Y.

S. S. MAJESTIC BREAKS THE ATLANTIC RECORD

NEW YORK, Jan 9.—A new record for the New York-Cherbourg run has been established by the White Star liner Majestic, the world's largest ship. The official time for the run is five days, six hours, thirty minutes.

As the world's largest ship, the Majestic has a claim to distinction apart even from that of her celebrated associates, while the proportions and elegance of her passenger accommodations are in consonance with her size and dignity. In luxurious splendor, the Majestic is unsurpassed. A century of experience in steamship building is wrought into the magnificent hull. She represents not only the greatest size among the ocean borne palaces of the age—her interior space equals 400 eightroom houses—but also the highest standard of excellence in equipment and facilities for service long exemplified by the White Star Line in construction. The Majestic embodies as great an advance in the art of shipbuilding as the present generation is likely to see. She is 965 feet long, 100 feet wide, 102 feet deep from bridge to keel. She is a 56,661 tons gross, and her displacement (weight) is 64,000 tons. She is an oil burner, and smoke, soot and cinders are absent during a voyage. She has forty-eight boilers, with 240 furnaces that supply steam to four turbine engines, which drive quadruple screws with a maximum of 100,000 horsepower.

The Majestic has capacity for 4,100 passengers. There are 1,245 staterooms, of which 472 are in first class. Each of these latter is fitted with a bed, there being no upper berths in first class. Many of the first class rooms are in suites that approach the size and equal in luxury the finest apartments on shore. The largest, two regal suites, embrace eight rooms each, including three baths.

EXPERIMENT WITH PILOTLISS PLANE

PARIS, Jan 9.—In the last few days experiments with an airplane flying without a pilot and guided by means of wireless telegraphy have been carried out at Villers-Marmery, near Etampes, under the direction of M. M. de Marcey, Bouche and Percheron. Flights were made without a pilot on the first day of the tests and on the following day other experiments were made with a pilot in the machine, although he used, instead of the ordinary machinery of steering and engine control, the gyroscopic stabilizer and the steering motors which will eventually be worked by Herizian waves directed from a station on the ground. A Voisin airplane with a 200 h. p. motor was used and Captain Arbancere was the pilot.

YES, HE WAS FIRST CLASS

Bart Kennedy, chief deck steward of the "Aquitania," tells this one: "One morning between 6 and 7 o'clock a second class passenger climbed over the first class promenade to enjoy a stroll on the long deck. He did some lively walking and some fancy calisthenics. A sailor was scrubbing the deck, and feeling that he should not permit the rules of the ship to be broken even at that early hour, intercepted the passenger and asked: "Are you first class sir?" The passenger laid his hands on the sailor's shoulders and replied: "I never felt better in my life."

"I Wonder Often What the Vintners Buy One Half So Precious as the Stuff They Sell."

So sang Omar Khayyam, and so you'll respond as you enjoy the gentle glow of well being brought by a cup of Blue Bird Orange Pekoe Tea.

But although Blue Bird gives one of the least costly of drinks (four cups for one cent!) its goodness cannot be measured in money. Like the air, like the sunshine, like good health or the breath of a June garden, Blue Bird Tea is not an expense, it's an experience. For

Miss Braine's Recipe

Miss Helen Braine, Canso, won the Second Prize of $20. in our recent contest with the following recipe for Escalloped Finnan Haddie:—

Cover Finnan haddie with cold water and bring to a boil. Repeat 3 times. Remove skin and bones.

Rub 2 tablespoons each of butter and flour to a smooth paste. Add 1½ cups of milk and boil to consistency of thick cream.

Place a layer of fish in baking dish, then of sauce and alternate, leaving sauce at top. Sprinkle with bread crumbs, salt and pepper. Dot with bits of butter and bake in hot oven until browned. A few drops of lemon juice improve the sauce.

Dealers everywhere are stocking delicious mild-smoked National Brand Finnan Haddie. Ask your grocer for it by name and try this prize winning recipe.
