Stage Set For Amateur Boxing Show Tonight

Officials last night announced that the stage is all set for the Prince Edward Island Amateur Boxing Championships which take place at the Armouries tonight at eight o'clock.

A competent group of officials have been appointed who will see that the bouts are run off without delays and that all contestants are properly matched so that no harmful injuries will be caused to those participating. The fights will be conducted under the rules by the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

A good list of entries has been received—totaling 22 names—and according to information received, four entries, whose names are not known, are in the mail.

In addition to the four unknown entries the following boys will show their stuff tonight: Willie Dunn, 90; Lester Taylor, 100; Dave McKay, 95; Shervie MacDonald, 112; Jackie Walker, 133; Max Murphy, 135; Charlie Huestis, 145; Maynard Cudmore, 145; Dave Tuplin, 145; Austin Pendergast, 175; Hughie Doyle, 135; William Pendergast, 178; Carl Baglole, 112; D. Blaquiere, 138; R. Wybou, 115; G. Warren, 118; L. Cook, 118; W. White, 90; D. Howatt, 130; K. Champion, 185; H. Ferguson, 143; Dave Bernard, 145.

All boxers, particularly those living in the City, are asked to weigh in at 2 p.m., and all competitors must be on hand in the Armouries at 7 p.m. In order to be dressed to avoid delays between bouts and also to receive the referee's instructions.

Wednesday's 3-3 tie between S. D. U. and U. N. B. makes the N. B.-P. E. I. senior rugby intercollegiate title look pretty bright for Mount Allison University, last year's Maritime intercollegiate champions, in the six game, home and home series between the three Universities.

The game at Fredericton Wednesday was the half way mark in the series, with the Mounties leading the series with two games to their credit against a loss and a tie each for U. N. B. and S. D. U., and if Mount A. comes through with a win against U. N. B. at Fredericton this Saturday, it will put the series in the bag for the Sackville University. On the other hand, however, if U. N. B. wins, anything might happen before the series winds up. S. D. U. will play their first home game in the series at the S. D. U. gridiron against U. N. B. next Wednesday, November 3rd.

Prince Edward Island hockey clubs were welcomed into the Central Hockey League of the M.A.H.A. at a meeting held at Sackville commemorating the 25th anniversary of that league on Wednesday. From among the four new teams in the league with two of the four being from this Province, namely Charlottetown and Summerside, although this does not necessarily mean that these teams will participate in the League, the franchise allows them entry if they wish to compete.

The Abegweit team held their first hockey practice session Wednesday afternoon at the Forum, with some 18 to 20 boys turning out for the workout. Quite a few of the older boys were in attendance at the session, as well as new material who are interested in lining up with the club. It is expected that even more of the older hands will take part at future practices when later playing times can be arranged which will permit them to take part after working hours.

Baz O'Meara, sports columnist for the Montreal Daily Star, in a recent interview of some of this year's exchange of players on the Hawk and Red Wing lineups in the N.H.L. quotes Dick Irvin, coach of the Montreal Canadiens, concerning some of these players.

Dick Irvin, who by the way, predicted Hawks would be a tough team to beat, says that Polie has the best of the deal with Detroit. He doesn't think Polie will help Wings much on the Big Olympia surface. In fact he thinks the minors' team ahead for who only last year got some coaches votes for the all star right wing berth.

He points out that Hawks get a good defence man in McCaig. But is he a good defence man? He broke his leg last year, maybe it isn't too sound yet. He didn't play his Saturday night so we can't give you a rundown on his recent form.

Jimmy Conacher, a good scorer and backchecker, is expected to offset the loss of Polie while Armand Guidolin may recapture some of the drive he showed with Boston. Charlie Conacher had him at Oshawa and tutored him for the big time, so he may be able to extract a lot of hockey out of the kid who is noted for temperament and turbulence.

George Gee should help Wings because his is cast of arrested development. The story goes that after his good rookie year, Gee was castigated by Bill Tobin for some errors or omission or something. Then and there something went out of his play which may be recaptured by Tommy Ivan who seems to have a way of getting the most out of his players.

Polie, a terrific shot, won't hurt Detroit any as they are stacked with good back checkers and his specialty can be utilized to the utmost. We wouldn't be surprised if Bodnar is the next to figure in a deal or Gaye Stewart who according to Charlie Conacher, isn't yet in condition.

O'Meara thinks Detroit got somewhat the best of the deal as they do have McCaig, an expected two forwards who can be polished into high scorers if their best talents are utilized to the limit.

Canada Hopes To Win Speedboat Title

TORONTO, Oct. 28—(CP)—Canada hopes to lift the British International Trophy—a symbol of world-wide speedboat racing leadership—from Gar Wood, Detroit speedster who has held it for 26 years.

Canadian boatmen are banking on Ernie Wilson, Ingersoll, Ont., whose Miss Canada, III, won the silver cup at the Detroit International regatta last August.

The Motor Boat Club of Canada, formed here yesterday, plans to seek affiliation with the Union of International Motor Racing and hopes for changes in the rules to permit Wilson to challenge for the trophy in 1949.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

In talking about the players on the Summerside All-Stars, proud winners of the Maritime Baseball championship, we mentioned only those who took part in the last game, as if they were the only ones responsible for bringing the championship to our town. This was a mistake. There were other boys who, though not appearing in this last game, contributed much to the final victory. After all, you never get a chance to play the final game, let alone win it, if you don't win a lot of games before that one.

Hank Landry didn't appear in the final contest. But Hank was in there battling most of the way along the play-off trail, and the little short-stop certainly did his share to bring honor to his native town. We must not forget he kept a home run up his sleeve all through the season to explode it finally in the faces of the Charlottetown All-Stars and practically salt away one victory. His fielding was sparkling right up to the last game he played, and when you stop to consider he got out of bed to play that one, he can easily be excused for a few bobles.

Cece Powell did not get into the final game. But Cece's bat cracked against the horsehide more than once during the playoffs at opportune times. Only for an unfortunate accident towards the end of the season, Cece would have been helping Joe Bernard and Pony Dalrymple to the playoffs, and it would have been so much worse for the enemy if he had been able to help the other boys. Powell won the batting championship of the town league, and it was a popular win among the fans.

Pete Mickus was not called upon to help in the final 9-0. Pete did help a lot during some of the series games, however, and the fans are grateful for what he did. For one timely hit in Summerside alone, we can feel thankful that Pete was a member of the Maritime Champions.

Henry Gallant's name did not appear in the box score of the final game. But Henry was in there swinging in the other games. His bat and his flying feet played a large part in the final victory in Charlottetown. Nice going, Henry. We're really glad you were a member of the team which has probably been Summerside's finest baseball team.

Frankie Oatway didn't get the nod in the final contest. Only because Summerside started away out in front and stayed there. If the team had needed a run very badly in the later innings, we feel sure that Frankie would have come through with that little willow in the pinch. There just didn't happen to be any pinches that day, but Frankie had already contributed his full share to victory so it didn't matter.

Gordie MacKay was probably poring over a Latin book when that great final victory was chalked up. But Gordie had also done his bit. The way he played in Dartmouth was enough to put his name on the roll of honor. Not that Gordie, but every inch a top-notch athlete.

Let us tell you something. Not only is Summerside Maritime Champions but in our humble opinion Prince Edward Island has the two best intermediate baseball teams in the Maritimes. We've seen Chatham Head and Woodside Intermediate Combines, and we don't think either ball club is as good as the Charlottetown All-Stars. We hurdled our most difficult obstacle when we defeated them last night. In the case of Woodside we scored 4.5 runs per game and 3.25 runs were scored against us. Playing Chatham, we scored 4.5 runs per game, and 3 runs were scored against us. In the case of Woodside we scored 4.5 runs per game and 3.3 runs were scored against us. Beating the Capital City boys 8 to 1 would have been a pretty tall order.

About turn! Let's talk about hockey. Our All-Stars have had two practices so far and seem to be shaping up pretty well. Young Farmer looks like a good prospect, and the newcomers Garth Gay, Frankie Oatway and Bennie "Dynamite" Brady are going in high already. It is expected that George Walker will be around this year to bolster the defence.

Pep 1-to-3 Favorite To Retain World Title Tonight

(By Jack Hand)
 NEW YORK, Oct. 28—Wille Pep, as consistent as Citation, is a 1-to-3 favorite to whip Sandy Saddler, lean Harlem challenger, in a 15-round defence of his world featherweight boxing championship tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden.

The bout, marking the return of boxing to the Garden after the month-long rodeo, has been catching on at the box office. Some 12,000 fans are expected to pay $65,000 to see this first title venture of Harry Markson, new sporting director of the 20th Century Sport Club.

Neither the 26-year-old champion from Hartford, Conn., nor Saddler is expected to have any trouble making the 126-pound class limit. Both will weigh in at noon tomorrow at the offices of the New York State Athletic Commission. Pep was 126 when he finished work and Saddler 125 1/2.

Despite the heavy odds on Pep, there is strong support for the stiff-punching Saddler who has been coming on fast in the last two years. Pep has been accused of ducking Sandy, a tall thin operator with reach and height in his favor. The challenger is five feet, eight inches tall while Pep is five feet, 3 3/4 inches.

The Saddler boosters point to his superior hitting power as attested by his record of 63 knockouts in 93 fights. However, he has been beaten six times, once last June 30 by Chico Rosa in a disputed split decision at Honolulu. Another loss, this in 1947, was to Humberto Sierra, the capable Cuban who was stopped by Pep at Miami last February.

Saddler, originally handled by the late Jimmy Johnston and now managed by Jimmy's brother, Charley, is as much at home in Central and South America as a native. Caracas, Havana, Aruba and Cristobal have been regular points of call on his rounds of meeting local champions and contenders.

Now, at 22, he is supposed to be "ready" for Pep.

Dartmouth Arrows In 7-2 Win Over Beavers

HALIFAX, Oct. 28—(CP)—Dartmouth Arrows forged into second place in the Maritime Senior Hockey League tonight by knocking over last-place Saint John Beavers 7-2 in a druggy contest.

Beavers, as in the previous night started strong and got weaker in the knees as the game went along. They scored the first goal, as in their game with St. Mary's Wednesday night, then watched Arrows tie them and go so far ahead they didn't be caught.

Saint John play their next game at home Saturday against St. Mary's, one point ahead of them in third place.

Beau Jack Wins

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—(AP)—Beau Jack, former Augusta, Ga., bootblack, put on a "killer" demonstration tonight to top Eric Boon of London by a technical knockout in one minute and 21 seconds of the third round of a scheduled 10-round boxing match.

Jack weighed 143 1/2, Boon 144.

Was Leading Jockey At Turn Of Century

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask., Oct. 28—(CP)—A jockey whose name 40 years ago was a byword on European and United States race tracks lives today with his trophies on a 2,000-acre ranch in the Mervin district near this northwestern Saskatchewan city.

For Canadian-born Al Cormack, nearing 64 years of age, the mid-Edwardian era seems a long way back as he talks of the Vanderbilts, the Rothschild brothers and their son and other top-flight racing men then.

At 18 Cormack started riding in his native Woodstock, Ont., and travelled through several American states before he won his first big race in 1904—the Washington handicap—won by President Theodore Roosevelt watching.

It was then he met the Aga Khan, George Cohan, "Boss" Crocker of Tammany Hall and others.

But his annual return to Canada's Capital Bowling Alleys has started his schedule. A good many new team names have made their appearance but the personnel of the teams haven't changed much. Trinity United, the team that won the championship last year, are rolling 'em down the alleys under the name of George's Boys. The City Blickers is a new team and looks pretty strong, getting four points the first night. The Hot Leads is a group of High School boys, none of whom has ever played in this league before. They captured three points from the Pioneers so must have been on the alleys once or twice before.

Remember When

By The Canadian Press

Vince Dundee pulled out a 13-round victory over Lou Broddard for the world's middleweight boxing title at Boston 15 years ago today. The French-Canadian fighter had won the title two months earlier via a knockout route over Ben Jey at New York in seven rounds.

ads for the winter lasted after 1922 and he finally came west to buy the ranch he now occupies with sons and a daughter. Aberdeen Angus cattle and a few work and saddle horses are his stock.

Joe Louis To Fight At Detroit Nov. 19

DETROIT, Oct. 28—(AP)—Heavyweight champion Joe Louis will make his first home-town exhibition appearance in four years here Nov. 19 when he goes south with Vern Mitchell, route over Ben Jey at Olympia Stadium.

Olympia's matchmaker, Nick Londea, said negotiations were closed today for the 34-year-old Louis to appear here during his exhibition tour of the midwest.

Louis flattened Johnny Demos of Indianapolis in two rounds here in a 1944 exhibition and hasn't appeared in a Detroit ring since.
