Largest Crane In the World

(By British United Press)

LONDON, Dec. 6. — An immense crane now being erected in connection with the Metropolitan Railway's new $3,750,000 building, is the largest of its kind in the world, and differs entirely from the three legged type now familiar to Londoners.

It comprises a single "leg" nearly 150 feet in height and is surrounded by a steel lattice-work jib 100 feet long, while protruding from and running down the centre of the "leg" is a great steel pivot which enables the crane to revolve in a complete circle without difficulty.

A feature of particular interest in connection with the crane is that it is so constructed that when left unattended it will automatically rotate, in the manner of a weather vane, and so adjust itself to any adverse wind pressure that may arise.

The area covered by the crane is more than 30,000 square feet. It is of English construction throughout, and is electrically operated by one man.

VALUE OF DOG TEAMS IN FAR NORTH

What the camel is to the desert and the motor car is along macadamized roads, the "huskie" is to travellers over the snows of Northern Canada. The efficiency of the dog team as a means of travel is shown by the fact that a trained team can make a distance of 40 miles a day, and maintain this speed for days together.

INSIDIOUS EYE STRAIN

We use this adjective advisedly.

Sufferers from Eyestrain may have perfect vision and therefore do not suspect the presence of any eye defect.

The motive power of the entire human organism is Nerve Energy.

Normal eyes, it is computed utilize about 20% of this Nerve Energy, but when Eyestrain is present, a much larger proportion is required. Hence defective eyes, through their consumption of an excessive amount of Nerve Energy may seriously affect the functioning of other organs of the body and produce ill health.

Motion of Censure Is Defeated

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Dec. 7.—A motion of censure moved in the House of Commons against Premier Baldwin for his failure to participate in the coal debate on November 16th was rejected by 347 to 142. The vote of censure was moved by the Labor Leader, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, and a seven hour debate ensued. The prime minister, in the course of his remarks, explained the manifold tasks imposed upon him, and intimated that the duty of leadership in the House would eventually have to be delegated to some other minister.

DARK AFFAIR — Wed. evening a lively time occurred among the crew of a steamer in port. It seems a colored member of the crew, who was ashore during the afternoon returned too late for supper and found no provision had been made for him. One word led to another and finally the late comer was set upon and badly beaten up by his shipmates. He reported the matter to the Police, and it is understood through their efforts he received his wages and left for his home in Sydney yesterday morning.

NEW CLERKS AT BRUNSWICK —Mr. Roy Amirault, who for several years was clerk at the Victoria Hotel in Charlottetown, has accepted the position of day clerk at the Brunswick Hotel here, succeeding Mr. Jack Delahunt, who recently secured a civil service appointment in the Postal Department here. Mr. Amirault besides being well known is a general favorite with the travelling public and will doubtless prove an acquisition to the staff fo this popular hostelry. He has already assumed his new duties here. The position of night clerk has been taken by Mr. Theodore Burke, of Amherst, who is no stranger to the hotel business, having been engaged in this capacity in the neighbouring city for some time and comes well recommended.—Moncton Times.

Australian Aborigines and Movies

(By British United Press)

SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 6. — A federal commission that is inquiring into the motion picture industry in Australia heard James R. Beckett say that after close study of the effect of the movies on the minds of primitive people, such as the natives of this country and New Guinea, he had come to the conclusion that it was detrimental.

Aborigines, said Beckett, could not easily understand what was not natural. When they were able to form a reasonable idea of what movies told, they thought that they might be a true rendition of what white men did. They saw in movies white men and women robbing, murdering, warring, lying, getting drunk and committing every sin and crime possible without getting punished for it. Movies rarely showed the punishment, they only inferred it, and the aborigines wondered why what was wrong for him to do should not be wrong for white men.

"After having seen Tom Mix shooting up towns on horseback" declared Beckett, "my own aboriginal 'boys' took my revolvers mounted my horses and raced around the bush shooting up Kangaroos and emus and firing into the air when they could not get better targets."

"Australian aborigines are not salacious" said Beckett in further evidence, "and they merely get bored by love scenes but other episodes have more serious effects. They learn to get cheeky, to get drunk and to steal. My opinion is that they should not be allowed to see any movies that is not specially selected for them."

In Favor Of Rules Of C. A. H. A.

SAINT JOHN, Dec. 5. —Tuesday, Dec. 27th, was selected as the opening date for the southern section of the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association at the annual meeting here Saturday afternoon. On that date Moncton and the Saint John Fusiliers will meet on Moncton ice. The schedule is divided into two series of twelve games each.

A resolution, favoring the adoption of playing rules of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association by the M.A.H.A., even if the latter was not affiliated with the Dominion body, was passed. Harold G. Ellis of Saint John, was elected president of the southern section for the ensuing year.

There are four teams in the league. They are Moncton, Fredericton, Sussex and Saint John.

FAVORITE HYMNS AND THEIR WRITERS

By Rev. Archer Wallace

No. 6

"I AM SO GLAD THAT OUR FATHER IN HEAVEN"

The author of this hymn, Mr. Philip Paul Bliss probably wrote more hymns that are in general use to-day than any other American hymn-writer, with the possible exception of Fanny Crosby.

Philip P. Bliss was born in Clearfield County, Penn., U. S. A., on July 9th, 1838. The home was a humble log house and when Philip was small the family moved so frequently that the lad attended school very little. From his earliest days he showed a passion for music and even manufactured crude instruments which gave him great pleasure whatever feelings they stirred in other folks.

Philip was ten before he heard a piano. One day when passing a house, he heard the strains of the piano and became so fascinated that he entered the house and stood at the parlor door. When the lady who was playing turned around, she was amazed to see the barefoot lad standing there. "Oh lady! play some more," he said. The lady was not touched by this burst of genuine appreciation. "Get out of here with your great feet," she said.

When only eleven years of age, young Bliss was sent out to work on a farm. All his belongings were tied up in a handkerchief. He worked for two years, long hours and hard work, for nine dollars a month. Later he worked as assistant cook in a lumber camp and after that labored in a saw-mill. By this time the intelligent lad had begun to realize how much of a handicap the lack of education was and although often tired in body, he attended evening classes and made considerable progress.

During a religious revival in 1850 Philip made public profession of his faith and became a member of the Church. It was in 1855, when he was able to spend a whole winter in school and such good use did he make of his time that a year later he taught in a small school himself. During all these years he was studying music and showed such remarkable aptitude that soon after his marriage he became a music-teacher and met with immediate success.

He began to write hymns for evangelistic meetings and many of them had and continue to have, a most remarkable vogue. Among the best known of his hymns are: "Hold the Fort"; "The Light of the World is Jesus;" "Let the Lower"; "Pull for the Shore;" "Down a Light in the Valley;" "Whosoever Will;" "Only an Armor-bearer"; "Pul forl the Shore;" "Down Life's Dark Valley We Wander;" "Almost Persuaded;" "Danfel's Band;" "I Will Sing of My Redeemer," and many others. Judged by their fitness to touch human hearts the hymns written by Philip Bliss have few equals

In December, 1876, Mr. and Mrs. Bliss were in a railway accident near Ashtabula, Ohio. The train was wrecked and caught fire. Mr. Bliss escaped through a window but immediately crawled back in an effort to rescue his wife. Both perished in the flames.
