McKENNA-KILBRIDE WEDDING—A quiet but pretty wedding took place in St. Malachi's Church, Kingston, Oct. 31st, when Lucille McKenna, youngest daughter of Michael McKenna, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Ferdinand Kilbride of Conway, Lot 11, Rev. M. J. Smith officiating. The wedding march was most beautifully rendered by Mrs. Peter McMahon who also sang several suitable hymns during the ceremony. The bride wore a tailored suit of navy blue broadcloth with hat to match and was attended by Miss Erna Murphy while the groom was ably supported by Mr. James McKenna of Conway. After partaking of a dainty breakfast served at the home of the bride's father, the bridal party motored to Kensington, Summerside and other points, returning at one o'clock for dinner, at which were present the nearest relatives of the bride. The afternoon was spent in music and songs. In the evening the party motored to the home of the bride, groom where a reception was held. The many useful and valuable presents received, including a hundred dollar cheque from the bride's father and a beautiful set of furs from the groom's father, testify to the popularity of the young couple. Their many friends join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Kilbride many happy years of wedded life.

THE WHITE SHARK OF THE CARIBBEAN

This shark gets to be thirty-five feet long and weighs two thousand pounds. He is called white, but he is really gray in color on the back, although white enough underneath. His head is large, and when he opens his mouth, to speak mildly, it is enormous. His body is stout, and his teeth are the most perfect pincers that a human being ever looked at and he can snap a man's body in two places at a single bite. This fellow is the true man-eating shark, and in some cases when he has been cut open a bull's head with horns complete has been found in his stomach.

This shark will follow you day and night after you have thrown your first garbage; you will see that triangular fin just above the surface, until it gets on your nerves. We got one on a big hook with a piece of salt pork and hoisted him on to the deckload of lumber on a schooner, and his odor was so bad that he was put overboard, giving him the hook and twenty feet of line as a present, and the deckload smelled to high heaven of him until it was able to get on to land, and even then the thought of that smell interfered with my meals for ten days. This gentleman (?) has a very keen sense of smell, and will follow his hoped-for prey untiringly.

PERSONALS.

Messrs. N. Doyle and E. F. McDonald, Halifax were among the passengers on the mail train last night.

Messrs. Stanley Campbell, and Edgar Hogan, motored from New Annan to town yesterday and remained over night on business.

Mrs. Phillip Tremblay and M. Jean M. Tremblay, Riviere du Loupe, are among the guests registered at the Queen.

The many friends of Mr. W. J. Robertson, Borden, the popular commercial man, will regret to learn that he is quite ill at his sister's home in St. John.

Dr. Martin McGuigan and Mrs. McGuigan who were here attending the funeral of the former's father, George H. McGuigan, left last week on return to their home in West-boro, Mass.

Mrs. Catherine MacInnis and daughter Miss Anna J. MacInnis of Charlottetown, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Woolner, North Rustico, where they bade goodbye to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. MacDonald who are leaving for their home in Petaluma, California after spending a delightful summer on the Island.

IN MEMORIAM
CAPT WM. A. MILLER

It was a great shock to the people of Stanley Bridge and the surrounding districts, when the sad news reached them of the passing away of Capt. Wm. A. Miller of Stanley Bridge, when he and all the crew of the good ship Annie MacDonald were lost at sea, on the night of the terrific gale 21st Aug. when the ship was broken up on the rocky coast of Prospect, Nova Scotia. Capt. Miller was well and favorably known in many of the business centres throughout the Maritime Provinces, for several years being master of vessels carrying produce from the Island and bringing back coal and lumber; but for sometime was master of ships sailing to and from foreign countries. Capt. Miller was a very capable seaman and was at the work he enjoyed most, when in command of his ship.

Capt. Miller was twice married, first to Louisa MacEwen daughter of the late Arthur MacEwen of Stanley Bridge, who predeceased him, about 11 and a half years, by whom he had one son and two daughters. James who is now at home, Emily teaching at Eldon and Mrs. Horton living in Halifax. 10 years ago he married Lois Kennedy of Mahone Bay, Nova Scotia, daughter of the late Rev. C. Kennedy (Baptist Minister). She lives now at Stanley Bridge. Besides his own family he leaves to mourn two brothers and one sister. Capt. Dan Miller of Alberton and Capt. Albert Miller in the United States. Mrs. MacLeod of Tignish. Much sympathy is felt for the family and relatives in their sad bereavement.

Flour Price Drops

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The recent decline in wheat has caused a drop in the price of flour of about 25 cents per barrel. The evidences of pronounced weakness in the cash wheat situation with supplies piling up at the terminals and the fact that buyers of wheat abroad have shifted their demand from prompt to a forward basis led to the belief that importing countries have supplied their most urgent requirements. Furthermore, a good many traders were of the opinion that after three months' advance, with gains of 25c to 45c per bushel in the price of wheat, a great many bullish factors had been discounted and it was quite evident that in some quarters at least there was a strong disposition to anticipate a change in general sentiment after election.

New export operations were limited, although it came to light that a steamer had been chartered for carrying 25,000 barrels of Canadian flour from Port William through the lakes to Antwerp or Hamburg.

EARLY RAILROAD FLIERS

When the first passenger railroad ever built was opened in England, in 1825 the train traveled from one end of the line to the other, a distance of twelve miles, in two hours, and Wood, one of the best known writers on the subject of railroads at that day, wrote as follows:

"Nothing can do more harm to the adoption of railways than the promulgation of such nonsense as that we shall see locomotives traveling at the rate of twelve miles an hour."

Today, with locomotives traveling at the rate of seventy-five miles an hour, one can look at Wood's warning with a feeling of amusement.

In 1829 a locomotive was introduced in this country, and in the following year Peter Cooper experimented with a locomotive on the B. and O. railroad. The flues on the boiler were made of gun barrels. The boiler was about the size of a flour barrel.

Cooper related with considerable satisfaction how the trial trip of this wonderful machine passed a gray horse attached to a wagon.

A happy man or woman is always welcome, their very entrance into a room is as if another lamp had been lighted.

Photograph for Christmas

A delightfully youthful frock designed for wear in the late afternoon and evening is sketched above.

The material is robin's egg blue chiffon, and the dress is simply made, using deep bands of ecru lace for trimming. The fullness is confined to the front by shirring, and the dressers mark either side of the girdle.
