

THE CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN

President, W. Chester S. McLure; Secretary, Lieut. Col. D. A. MacInnes, D. S. O. Editor and Manager, J. B. Burnett. Associate Editor, D. K. Currie. New York Representative—Ingram Powers, Inc. Chicago Representative—J. J. Power

SATURDAY, AUGUST 22, 1925

YOUR FURNACE

Needs good Coal in order to give you proper service. Why use inferior grades and run the chance of its burning poorly. Let us supply you with Coal and be assured of getting the best service from your furnace.

A. Pickard & Co. PHONE 240

Pickling?

CHECK THIS OVER

40 Cts. Pint

ESSENCE OF VINEGAR

-- THEN --

Curry Powder Mustard Seed Spices Whole Ginger Cloves Cayenne Buds

And Everything

THE 2 MACS

145 Great George Street Phone 315

Daily Selections FOR Guardian Readers

August 22, 1925 REFUGEE, ST. LEONARD, HELP:—God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble, Psalm 46:1. PRAYER.—May we trust Thee, O Lord, and not be afraid. August 23, 1925 KINGDOM IS WITHIN.—Neither shall they say, lo here; or, lo there! for, behind the Kingdom of God is within you, Luke 17:21. PRAYER.—May we this day enthroned Thee O God, most Merciful and Mighty, supreme in our lives, and the Kingdom of God may be in us and abound.

DON'T WORRY Don't worry if you cannot have The world as you desire But try to make the best of life And happiness inspire; A cheerful smile and sweet content. Add sunshine unto life And have the greatest power to E'er dispel its care and strife.

'Tis smiles that drive away life's gloom And not sad lamentation; So let our lives in happiness, Not discontent be spent. Look up to God, to find His light To brighten every day, And when the world seems to abuse Just look another way. And find the sunshine on beyond The clouds that intervene, Until the darkness passes by And you the light have seen. A sinner living shines, And when the sorrows of the soul God solace e'er combines. —Martha Shepard Lippincott.

Your Birthday

AUGUST 22.—You are self-reliant, modest, and amiable. You have winsome ways, and an off-hand way of doing the thing you want to do, and of avoiding trouble when most people would find it. You will inspire deep love and tender devotion. Don't become too fond of money. You will travel a lot, and make success late in life. Your birth-stone is the sardonyx, which means a happy married life. Your flower is the poppy. Your lucky colors are orange and red. August 23.—You have a keen, inquiring mind and are very fond of artistic things. You are strong and vigorous, fond of out-of-door life and sport, and skillful in any athletic contest. You are resourceful, large-hearted, and kindly form many dear friendships, love your home profoundly, and will be unusually happy with your mate. Beware of the green-eyed monster. Your birth-stone is the sardonyx, which means a happy married life. Your flower is the poppy. Your lucky colors are orange and red.

The Public Forum

This column is open for the discussion by correspondence of questions of interest. The Charlottetown Guardian does not necessarily endorse the opinions of correspondents.

DOES IT PAY TO PURCHASE FEED FOR HENS IN SUMMER?

Sir.—This question interests a great many. It all depends on the price of the purchased feed and the price received for the eggs. Results from many careful experiments tend to show that Leghorns require seven pounds of feed for each dozen eggs. Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, and the larger breeds, require 8 1/2 pounds, pullets-layers in either case, require somewhat less. At the present price charged me at the store for hen feed mixed grain, wheat, barley and corn, one would need to get 28c a doz, in the case of Leghorns and 31c a dozen in the case of the heavier breeds. It must be taken into consideration however, the having of the run of the farm in summer pick up considerable feed, bugs, flies, worms, grass, etc. A day or two ago the writer took six dozen eggs to the store to buy feed. The six dozen procured exactly 3 1/2 lbs. of hen feed. The mixture was an excellent one consisting of Indian corn, wheat and a little barley. That shows that one dozen eggs purchased 6 1/2 lbs. feed. I am, Sir, etc.

POULTRYMAN

Souris, Aug. 20th.

MARITIME MATTERS

Sir.—I see much in the papers re the Rights of the Maritime Provinces. The Maritime Provinces have a claim and a right which cannot be ignored. Has P. E. Island any rights? A question which has been asked and talked of for years but not settled, therefore as long as P. E. I. claims are not satisfied just so long will P. E. I. people complain and justly so.

I have for a long time been looking for a just claim of ours, but sorry to see that our claim has not been adjusted. We have no wealth in mines or forest or large domains of territories to annex. Our Garden Province is beautiful and suited only for agriculture, and the surrounding oceans are the best fishing resort in the season.

But the wealth of our surrounding waters is negligible. Fishermen are not anxious to fish as they get no encouragement. Foreign people came to our waters for an abundant golden harvest. But that is past.

There is another factor which is taking our men away, the harvest excursion. But there is a gap in that regulation. Men ship West to the harvest but the return is put off at least a week or more. Men fly from home and leaving him there; perhaps in some cases without enough money to get back. That state of affairs should not be. Conditions such as the above, our brave, energetic men are obliged to seek for a better country.

There are wealthy men in P. E. I. if they would pool their money and make their wealth out of the ocean and land our young men would stay in their native land.

I see that some people advocate Maritime Union. It must never be. I hope such views are not general. P. E. Island has had a governor since ever it became a Province and to consent to taking our governor from us is tantamount to taking away the little independence we have. It must never be said that P. E. Island cannot rule itself; to say that we should have no governor of our own is saying that we have no men fit for the job. I am confident that P. E. Island has produced good clear headed men fit for the best gift in any government.

Now Sir, I must say let us keep what independence we have and look for more. Maritime Union is all right to a certain point but no more. I am, Sir, etc.

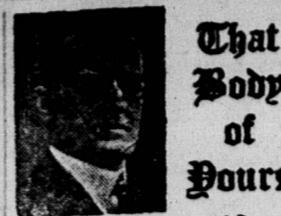

NOTES BY THE WAY

Advertising against crime is the latest device to be used to check the crime wave in the United States and establish honesty, peace and order. The great city of New York leads the movement and with prospects of success. And why may it not be crowned with success? Great is the power of advertising in the sale of goods and merchandise, in promoting business enterprises, political causes, and so on. Publicity and propaganda are admittedly potent agencies for promoting almost any undertaking, good, doubtful, or bad, in the way of lawful and useful business or recreation. Wherefore not use these agencies for the sale and distribution of honesty, peace and order?

That is the big idea behind the movement to impress upon the criminal community the futility of pursuing a dishonest course. As the movement is taking shape, there are warning cards displayed on every elevated railway and surface car in the city and in all the commuters' trains, pointing an effective moral to any real or potential criminal who happens to be on board. Here is a typical card: "You can't win! The cleverest stick-up in New York police history is now old and broken, with twenty years yet to serve in Sing Sing."

Along with the printed warning is an impressive illustration of a hold-up man covering before a huge policeman with a drawn pistol. Another illustration shows a murderer being led to the electric chair. Of course, the work so far is largely experimental, but based on hopes of good results. Time

(Continued on Page 5)

Dr. W. Barton, M.D. MAKING IT SAFE

A Chicago physician at a recent medical convention, gave some very encouraging news to his professional brethren, and to the whole community. Some of the bitter experiences of our best surgeons, because of performing a brilliant operation, succeeded in every way, and yet the patient dies within a few hours or the next day, due to something entirely apart from the operation.

Sometimes the surgeon is himself to blame, because he hasn't concerned himself sufficiently with the past history of the case. Sometimes also he has not had the family physician "in" on the case, with the result that trouble has developed that might have been avoided.

However our Chicago friend, who is an anaesthetist, tells us of a method whereby the patient is actually tested out before the operation. This is done by the examination of the pulse, the blood pressure, and so forth. If they show the patient to be not just ready for the operation, then appropriate treatment is instituted, and the patient reports some weeks later for the operation, if the operation is not of the emergency type, such as an acute appendix, a strangulated hernia, and other similar conditions.

Further, even if the operation sets under way, the anaesthetist watches the pulse and the blood pressure, by means of an instrument which records them as lines running parallel to one another on the apparatus. Should the lines diverge or lead away from one another, it is a signal of trouble, and measures are at once adopted to counteract the condition.

Sometimes the signal is evident at least one hour before there is real danger, but you can readily see that much can be done within that hour.

This discovery is going to be of great help to patients who find it hard to make up their minds to undergo an operation, it is no light matter for anybody, and a very grave matter for many, to submit themselves to operative treatment. The surgeon it will give much tranquility of mind, that will mean much to his skill or technique.

And our old friend, the family physician, will come into his own because he will have the say as to whether or not the patient is in a condition to undergo the operation.

Now Sir, I must say let us keep what independence we have and look for more. Maritime Union is all right to a certain point but no more. I am, Sir, etc.

KINGS CO.

Loveless Marriage Is Suicide Cause

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—A marriage without love, but which she declared was entered to please her parents, today led to the suicide of a seventeen-year-old Mrs. Antoinette Compagna. Mrs. Compagna was married two months ago.

Notes By The Way

Advertising against crime is the latest device to be used to check the crime wave in the United States and establish honesty, peace and order. The great city of New York leads the movement and with prospects of success. And why may it not be crowned with success? Great is the power of advertising in the sale of goods and merchandise, in promoting business enterprises, political causes, and so on. Publicity and propaganda are admittedly potent agencies for promoting almost any undertaking, good, doubtful, or bad, in the way of lawful and useful business or recreation. Wherefore not use these agencies for the sale and distribution of honesty, peace and order?

That is the big idea behind the movement to impress upon the criminal community the futility of pursuing a dishonest course. As the movement is taking shape, there are warning cards displayed on every elevated railway and surface car in the city and in all the commuters' trains, pointing an effective moral to any real or potential criminal who happens to be on board. Here is a typical card: "You can't win! The cleverest stick-up in New York police history is now old and broken, with twenty years yet to serve in Sing Sing."

Along with the printed warning is an impressive illustration of a hold-up man covering before a huge policeman with a drawn pistol. Another illustration shows a murderer being led to the electric chair. Of course, the work so far is largely experimental, but based on hopes of good results. Time

(Continued on Page 5)

Happenings of The Week

"I'm getting old," said Betty Jane. When she was only twenty. And so she bought a jar of rouge and smeared it on aptly.

"I'm growing old," sighed Betty Jane. When she grew plump and forty. So she massaged her double chin and tried to look real sporty.

"I won't grow old," snapped Betty Jane. When time had turned her fifty. She went right out and bought a hat. To make herself look fifty.

At ninety Betty's scalp was bare. Her mouth could boast one tooth. But clothes and bonnets thrilled her still. She had perpetual youth!

A woman is never old until she ceases to fret about clothes! As long as she is interested in making herself attractive she has a spark of youth in her heart that years cannot extinguish.

When Queen Mary sets a fashion—which is very rarely—she invariably catches on with the smart set. The latest vogue which the Queen has started is the wearing of small real jewels in her hat. Several society women at the recent race met followed the fashion, but on a larger scale, the jewelled ornaments being in the shape of valuable brooches.

The King and Queen left Buckingham Palace last Saturday morning to visit Princess Mary, Viscountess Lascelles, and Viscount Lascelles at Goldsborough, over the week-end. From Goldsborough their Majesties will proceed to Balmoral Castle, where the court will remain until the first week of October, and will return to London in time to receive the Prince of Wales upon his return from his extended tour.

The Duke and Duchess of York already are at Glamis Castle, the ancestral home of the Duchess. They will join their Majesties later at Balmoral Castle.

The Earl and Countess of Mar and Kellie will sail for Canada this month to attend the marriage of their son, the Hon. Francis W. Erskine, to Miss Phyllis Burstall, at Quebec on September 24. They have been at Kellie Castle, their Scottish seat in Fifeshire, for a few weeks and will take up residence at Alloo House early in October after their return to England from Canada.

Mr. Arthur Thomson, who is very kindly remembered here and who has been connected with the Cunard S. S. Line at their office in New York for the past several years, has been transferred to their Paris office, and left for this week. Mrs. Thomson and son are at present visiting in Scotland.

Mr. Acton Burrows, of Toronto, President and Managing Director

Is there Something you Want to Buy? IF it is worth buying, it is worth saving for. TRY putting a little more in your Savings Account on your regular deposit days. You will reach your objective all the more quickly. THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE Capital Paid Up $20,000,000 Reserve Fund $20,000,000 Charlottetown Branch C. Lomer Miles, Manager of the Canadian Railway and Marine World who has been spending the past two weeks at Brackley Point, P. E. I. left Saturday on return home. Many relatives and friends here will be interested in the engagement announced this week of Miss Mary Jane Hendry, of Boston, to Reginald Heber Wiggins, M.D., C.M., son of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Cecil F. Wiggins, of Sackville, N.B. The Golf tea hostesses today are Mrs. W. S. Grant, Mrs. J. A. S. Bayer, Mrs. J. J. McKinnon and Mrs. W. F. Taylor. Mr. A. G. Putnam of the Royal Bank at Sackville, is spending his holidays with his family at Eldon. The relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. S. Hemming, of Montreal, were sorry to see them depart for their home on Monday after an enjoyable two weeks holiday visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Palmer. Though this was Mr. Hemming's first visit to the province he expressed himself as so delighted with the beauties of the island, and many hospitable kindnesses received that it is confidently expected by their friends that they will have an opportunity of welcoming him and his wife again next summer. August days of heat and sunshine are speeding by all too quickly for campers, visitors and holiday seekers and already regretful farewells are being said. Week-end parties are making the most of (Continued on Page 5)

Harness Your Power Water running free steam let loose in the open air, electrical energy unconfined, have their parallel in the uncontrolled earning power of a man. All must be harnessed to achieve any beneficial result. Harness your earning power to a Great-West Life Insurance policy and it will provide immediate protection for your family should you die, or an assured competence for old age if you live. Write for particulars of our profit-sharing policies. Hyndman & Co., Ltd. Provincial Managers The Great-West Life Lower Queen Street Charlottetown

Pianos With a Guarantee WHEN SELECTING a piano, remember that you are making a purchase intended to last a life time. Inferiority in make will be a source of dissatisfaction that will increase with every passing season. You secure lasting satisfaction and permanence of tone quality when you choose any of the following Heintzman Sherlock - Manning Mendelssohn "Pianos Worthy of the Name" Have some musical friend test any of these for you. Get his opinion upon the rare singing tone, the rich bass notes, full round middle register and bell-like upper scale. Thousands of these instruments are today giving the utmost satisfaction in homes throughout Canada. Miller Bros. GREAT GEORGE STREET