The National Day of Repentance and Prayer. The church was filled with worshippers who took part in this solemn, humble and yet impressive service, offering their humble prayers for the favour of the blessings this favored land enjoys, and praying for intercession in the troubled areas of Europe and for world peace. Rev. W. C. T. U. presided. The church conducted the service. Rev. E. G. Davies, Rev. J. B. Wilson and Rev. Mr. Williams gave short addresses. Hymns of thanksgiving were sung and prayer was offered by the congregation. On Sunday in all the churches in the town special prayers of repentance and prayers for peace were offered by the ministers for the congregation.—S.

—HARRINGTON MACLEOD WEDDING—A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the rectory, Kensington, on the afternoon of September 22nd, Rev. B. Cream officiating. When Miss Margaret Sarah MacLeod daughter of the late Mr. Malcolm MacLeod and Mrs. MacLeod, Graham's Road, was united in marriage to Mr. James Ivan Harrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Harrington of Spring Valley. The bride looked very dainty in a dress of blue crepe with navy accessories to match. They were attended by Mr. Scott Moore and Mrs. Moore sister of the bride. Following the ceremony the young couple retired to Charlottetown and other points of interest in the province returning the same evening to the bride's home where a jolly crowd of relatives gathered to extend their hearty congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy wedded life. Before her marriage the popular bride was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given by her girl friends at her home. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Miss Emily MacLeod escorted the bride to the seat of honour to the strains of serenades and prayers sung by Mrs. Garnet Campbell, Miss Elizabeth Whitehead and Miss Marjorie Ferguson. Carried in the heavily laden baskets and opened the many beautiful and useful gifts. Miss Elva W. Moore read the accompanying verses. The Misses Miriam MacKay and Charley MacKay arranged the gifts on the table, Margaret being in her most capable manner thanked one and all for their lovely gifts and invited them to visit her in her new home, "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" and the remainder of the evening spent in music, song and social chatter. The happy couple will reside in Spring Valley. —H.

—RUSSIA BACKS

(Has news agency reported from Moscow that competent observers in the Russian capital believe Germany may seek to share control with Russia in possible Finnish strategic concessions to the Soviet Union.)

(Such German participation, however, said, may be demanded should Finland agree to Soviet control over the strategic Åland Islands, the small Lavangari Islands in the Gulf of Finland and possibly the Island of Hogaland. Some sources believed the Russians would even demand rights in the port of Hanko, in extreme southern Finland, Havas said.)

ARRIVE AT MOSCOW
The Finnish delegation, headed by Dr. Juho Kusti Paavikivi, Finnish minister to Stockholm, followed by representatives of Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia which like Finland, received invitations from the Kremlin for Moscow discussions. Previous conferences have resulted in sweeping naval and air base concessions by Estonia and Latvia as Russia vigorously pressed her campaign to regain the dominant position in the Baltic Sea she held before the first Great War. Soviet leaders have been in conference with representatives of Lithuania and Turkey. Other Soviet officials began discussions last Sunday with German delegates on ways of reinforcing the Reich's wartime economy.

50 YEARS IN CIVICS
NEW BARNET, England. (CP)—Walter Stutler, J. P., who took an active part in London civic politics for 50 years, is dead here, aged 80. Stutler was born in Charlottetown in 1812 City of London Club.

POULTRY

Buying live fowl every day. At this time of year, most of you can tell the poor layers from the good. Why not market the unprofitable birds at once? How about giving your growing chickens a noon time feed of boiled potatoes and crushed grain?

Fattening Chickens

Be sure your chicken is in good flesh before putting them up.
Pick out the birds for fattening that have their last coat of feathers fairly well grown in.
Feed in a pen for the first two weeks and in a crate for the second two weeks. Prepare your mash some hours ahead. Feed moderately at the start and exactly the same time each day.
Keep birds in a quiet place. Treat for lice. Pay particular attention to cleanliness.

terview the Australian and New Zealand missions now on their way to Canada, Britain is sending an air mission to Ottawa. It is headed by Lord Riverdale, the former Sir Arthur Balfour, British steel manufacturer.

Approves Daladier's Speech
Meanwhile Britain read with approval Premier Daladier's declaration that the Allies will fight on until a just and sure peace, secure from repeated threats of aggression, is attained.

A direct answer by the British Government to Hitler's "peace proposals" made last Friday was postponed on Wednesday to Thursday to give the dominions full voice in added consultations. Then Prime Minister Chamberlain will state Britain's position in his weekly war report to Parliament.

The Air Secretary said Britain now is producing fighters superior to the German Messerschmidts and said production plans envisaged doubling the number of fighters "recently found in possession of German prisoners."

He listed as R. A. F. accomplishments the photographic mapping of the Siegfried line from heights of only a few hundred feet, 34 attacks on submarines "some of which were undoubtedly successful" and distribution of propaganda leaflets, a number of which were "recently found in possession of German prisoners."

London watched for signs of whether the Russian gains in the Baltic area helped or hindered Hitler and many believed the German aim of expansion in eastern Europe which he expressed in "Mein Kampf" seemed "definitely thwarted."

Clement Attlee, leader of the (Labor) opposition, called upon Hitler to "show it by deeds" if he wants peace in western Europe.

"The people of this country are ready to take any opportunity," he said, "of ending the present war provided we can get real and lasting peace without sacrificing the cause for which we entered it." Mr. Attlee said in a nationwide broadcast.

Awarded Flying Cross
The London Gazette announced that it had awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross to flying officers Kenneth Christopher Doran and Andrew McPherson "in recognition of gallantry in flying operations against the enemy since early in September. This was presumably the Kiel Canal and Wilhelmshaven raid of Sept. 8."

The announcement was that it renewed criticism of the Government's Information Services in the House of Commons and the press. Sunday it was announced the King had decorated Attlee with a denial of the Admiralty on Monday; the Ministry of Information cancelled the denial and then cancelled its own cancellation.

Sir Arnold Sinclair, Liberal leader, asked Sir Kingsley whether, in view of these confusing reports, any decorations had been made. Sir Kingsley said they had and that the announcement was being made.

In reference to the incident, Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard said: "Thus do censor stop the good stories. What do they give us instead? They tell us the whole truth in the report of Sir John Simon's visit to some camp cookhouse."

SUGGESTS BONFIRE
The newspaper suggested a "Bloomsbury bonfire" to make an end to such bureaucracy, institution of a small panel of civil servants to say yes or no and brains not to say both at the same time, and a propaganda department staffed only with journalists except for one civil servant to pay their wages, file the letters and cook the afternoon tea.

The admiralty in a communiqué said that the German air attacks on units of the home fleet in the North Sea Saturday afternoon resulted in not a single hit on British ships while several bombers were believed to have failed to return to Germany.

It stated that a destroyer and a cruiser engaged aircraft in distinct engagements, that bombs dropped on a city were missing by more than 200 yards, and that "reports from neutral countries" indicated some German machines did not get home.

LITTLE AIR FIGHTING IN FRANCE

The official "eye-witness" in France reported the western front had seen little air fighting lately. Behind the Maginot Line have had an air raid warning.

Announcement was made that the British contraband authorities seized 26,000 tons of petroleum products, destined for Germany in the week ended Oct. 7.

This brought the total quantity of goods seized as contraband in the first five weeks of war to 315,000 tons.

at the recent meeting of the Public Utilities Commission.
The question of having a snow plow stationed at Montague was under discussion. The matter would be pressed further, it was decided.
A resolution was passed asking to have the link between the Charlottetown-Montague paved road and the sub-graded road to the Wood Islands ferry completed this year.
The Board also passed a resolution urging the government to either pave the road at Southport this fall or at least to have the final coat of gravel applied and rolled in. If such work was not carried out the board felt the three miles of road at Southport would not be passable during the late fall.

Burglars Get Loot In Break At Hampton

Burglars broke into the General Store of Morrison & Co. at Hampton in the early hours of yesterday morning, and carried away a quantity of merchandise and cash to the amount of $300.

The thieves transported their loot in bags. It is reported. Royal Canadian Mounted Police are working on the case.

Two Injured In Crash At Cherry Valley

Martin McDonald of Heatherdale and Durrell Bell of Abney are patients at the King's County Hospital the former with a broken arm and the latter with a broken leg as the result of a car falling to make the dangerous turn at Cherry Valley Corner.

The driver, Charlie Campbell of Heatherdale, was uninjured but Billie McPherson, of Kilmuir another passenger is at present confined to his bed at home.

The accident occurred late Monday night in a downpour of rain, when the boys were returning to their homes after spending the evening in the city.

Rounding the sharp curve on the slippery pavement, the car left the road, rolling over into the deep ditch. The machine was badly damaged.

A temporary rail was placed at the corner over the weekend and also a checker-board sign.

GERMAN

which would drench them in blood for centuries."

Will Not Submit
France and Britain, he said, were obliged to fight because Germany wanted to impose on them her domination over Europe.

"We are resolved not to submit to the 'dictats of violence,' he said, adding:

"We have taken up arms against aggression. We will not put them down until we have sure guarantees of security; a security that will not be placed in jeopardy every six months."

Many diplomatic observers believed that Daladier paved the way for a further exposition of the allied position by Prime Minister Chamberlain before the House of Commons Thursday.

He made it plain that he considered Hitler's past promises worthless.

Physical Control Also
The Premier also left the impression that any promise written into a future peace treaty would have to be based on physical control which would guarantee that the Germans would not seek to continue the path of conquest which crossed Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland.

These three countries, he asserted, were only steps on the path which would have brought France and Europe to the "harshness of slavery."

"Neither France nor Britain entered the war to support a kind of ideological crusade," he declared. "Neither France nor Britain, moreover, entered the war in a spirit of conquest. They were forced to fight because Germany wanted to impose her domination over Europe."

Scornfully, Daladier allured to Hitler's new friendship with Joseph Stalin and to the somersault in favor of a "reasonable peace" executed by the Communists in Paris after Moscow dropped its anti-Fascist slogans.

"A few weeks ago the Communists chided before you in the guise of my servants," he said. "They announced that they were ready to fight against Hitler and his armies for the liberty of the fatherland."

"For these bogus Neo-Jacobins the fact that the Bolsheviks agreed to their interest to agree with the Nazis and to partition Poland was enough to make them apologists for a reasonable peace."

Kensington Boy Suffers Painful Injury

A painful accident was suffered on Sunday afternoon by Master Vernon, eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Watson, Kensington, when while playing with some of his young friends with a pump jack in some unknown way he put his first finger of his right hand caught in some of the gears, crushing and mangle it so badly it was necessary to rush him to the Summerside Hospital and amputate it at the second joint. It was possible however to have him brought home after amputating the finger and at present is progressing favourably. It is hoped that no further complications will set in. —H.

ters out by explaining that the work was progressing satisfactorily and the said employee was shifted to another branch of the job.

Discussion of the question of who was responsible for the matter on a certain city project, ensued into a battle of words. Councilor Hennessey declared that the council had been running in a circle and that things would never be any better "until this was remedied."

Councillor McKee was adamant in his demands for additional equipment for the City Fire Department. Councilors opposed the resolution because of the financial outlay involved.

At the close of the meeting Councilor Laphorn brought up the matter of the Building Zone in the Longworth Ave. vicinity, and gave notice to the council that he wished to go into the matter at the next meeting of the council.

The following resolutions were passed:

Resolved that J. S. DesRoches and Willard Jordan be granted permission to operate a gas station on their property on Queen Street, provided that plans and specifications be submitted to and approved of by the City Council and city building inspector.

Moved by R. C. Chandler. Seconded by J. T. McKee. Councilors McKee and Hennessey voted against the aforesaid resolution.

Resolved that the city clerk be authorized to call for tenders for coal for the City Building (including all screened or the equivalent and slack coal) for the market and library coal to be weighed on city scales and delivered in cellars.

Moved by C. Dougan. Seconded by H. MacIntyre. Resolved that the portion of sidewalk in front of Lewis P. Tanton's new building between it and the sidewalk be concreted. Work to be done by a laborer. Mr. Tanton to pay one-half the cost.

Moved by A. A. Hennessey. Seconded by H. MacIntyre. Resolved that the city horse, now driven by Charles Malone, be sold or traded and a new horse at a cost of $100, more than the amount of the horse's value.

Moved by A. A. Hennessey. Seconded by H. MacIntyre. Resolved that the fire committee be authorized to purchase equipment.

WILL FIGHT

"Government offices and newspaper bureaux were flooded with calls from persons seeking confirmation. Germans threw their arms and one another and wept for joy. In one plant 200 workers laid down their tools to celebrate."

When the solemn radio announcement that the products of the London "ministry of lies" and finally Der Fuehrer's defiant address in the favorite rally hall of the Nazi party, preceded by 25,000 winter relief workers.

Asserting as he did in his Reichstag speech last Friday that Germany has no war aims against England and France, Hitler said: "I have expressed our readiness for peace. In case this readiness on our part is declined, then Germany is determined to take up the battle and fight it through."

NOT FRIGHTENED
"Neither fright of the moment nor a proclamation of the length of this battle will be able to tire or even discourage us. Before us stands the eternal life of our people. No matter how long it may take to bring this life to realization, nothing can deter us from our reaction to the contrary, whatever the other may choose, that it will get!"

After the day's debate there was talk of adoption of embargo repeal by the same or even a larger majority than the 65 to 25 vote that rejected the plea of Senator Tobey (Republican-New Hampshire) that the bill be sent back to committee to be split into two parts.

Nine Killed

The question of safety measures would be emphasized at the inquest to be held Monday at Islington town hall.

Mr. Gordon Brown, 36, of Brown's Line, wife of a market gardener, and her sister Mildred Taylor, 39, of Toronto, were the two adults in the car.

Driving Children To School

Mrs. Brown was driving her eight-year-old daughter Marion and six other children of her neighborhood to Eatonville School. It had been the habit of the youngsters to call at the Brown home to get a lift.

All were killed instantly by the impact of the train. The six other children were:

Campbell-MacLeod Nuptials

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Presbyterian Manse, Brookfield, on Sept. 25, in the presence of immediate friends, and relatives when Rev. A. O. Thompson, D. D., united in marriage, Ethel Mae, daughter of Mr. Alexander B. MacLeod and Donald Sutherland son of Mrs. Alexander Campbell, Brookfield.

The bride looked charming in a tailored suit of navy blue, with accessories to match.

The bride's maid was Mrs. Alma Thompson of Alliston, Mass., sister of the groom, and Mr. Everett MacLeod, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

After the ceremony the newly married couple left amid good wishes, and showers of confetti, for a honeymoon trip through the Maritimes.

On their return on Sept. 28, a sumptuous wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, where forty guests were entertained in honor of the newly-weds.

The dining room was tastefully decorated with white bell and pink and white streamers, the color scheme was carried out in the table decorations of pink and white roses and pink and white candles.

The bride was dressed in navy blue chiffon velvet, and wore a necklace of pearls, a gift of the groom, she carried a bouquet of sweet peas, ranunculus and gladioli.

During the serving of supper a band of serenaders arrived, and proceeded to enjoy themselves until they were admitted to see the bride and groom and were treated by the hostesses.

After the reception the bride and groom motored to their home in Brookfield, where their many friends, from a long and happy wedded life.

The First Tighish Girl Guide Company was organized last Thursday by the Commissioner of Prince County and the District Captain, Miss Elaine Harrison. The Company is already full as 36 girls turned up in spite of a pouring rain. The girls learned their knots, first aid, and other skills, and will show promise of becoming a model company. Miss Joan Bernard, the new Captain, was enrolled and Miss Doris Gavin is to be her first lieutenant. Miss Margaret McQuaid, Captain of the 2nd Alberton Company, has promised to be present to help at the next meeting.

Will any Guides in Prince County needing more yarn for their guides' knitting for English children evacuated from London please notify the Commissioner at once as the supply is getting short.

Called Election Because Of Threat To Rights

(By William Stewart, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

SHERBROOKE, Que., Oct. 10—Quebec called an election for Oct. 25, Premier Maurice Duplessis declared tonight only because the Government had seen the light and expected its own rights as provided under Confederation, to be respected in the same way, especially the rights granted each province under Confederation.

"Quebec" he said, "wants to act in no way contrary to its traditional rights of fair play and justice. And Quebec wants nothing but protection of its rights within its constitutional rights by remaining what he termed 'master of its own destiny.' He belittled talk of isolation from those who speak of isolation do not know their history."

AFTER FEDERAL LIBERALS
MONTREAL, Oct. 10—Paul Gouin trained his campaign guns tonight on the Federal Liberals in the "old parties," and hailed the "renewal" of Quebec Province.

"The position of the Federal Liberals is so pitiful, so false, that they no longer seem to know what to say, what to do, or what to do," the lawyer-leader of the A. L. N. said in a broadcast address from Montreal (CBF) over a French network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

Gouin said the Liberals from Ottawa had imitated Premier Duplessis when he "fell into a stupid trap by offering in an address the apple of his eye and his last drop of blood for the defence of provincial autonomy."

"Falling into a trap and perhaps, to boot, history will say—a 'climatic' pretext to wash their hands of the extreme measures which perhaps finally may be adopted by Ottawa. The Liberal Liberals arose, in one of those acrobatic feats of indignation when their Ottawa loves are naked."

(By W. H. WARD)
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)
ST. PROSPER, Que., Oct. 10—(CP)—Liberal Leader Adolphe Godbout described today what he termed the Union Nationale's "camouflage campaign" of "conscripted" and "war participation" as a "climatic" screen against maladministration of provincial affairs by the Government of Premier Duplessis.

Mr. Godbout spoke at a rally in this little Dorchester county farming and lumbering centre 80 miles south of Quebec. He urged the electors to remain calm and to judge the issue with detachment and with careful consideration.

MILLIONS GET OLD YEARS TOO SOON

Rank carelessness the cause
Among your friends there are some of middle age who appear to have retained the exuberance and vitality of youth; while others accept prematurely ageing as the lot they must bear. Do you want to feel young, eager to tackle any kind of work or play. Thousands of people just don't bother to do anything about constipation. They even refuse to believe that they are constipated. They think that a person is regular, that is all that matters. Occasionally they take a good dose of something when the need is evident. That is the mistake. The way to keep feeling fit, to produce youthful vigor, and to ward off the effects of accumulated impurities is to keep the entire system free as possible from constipation. To do that your body must get certain minerals in some way.

We make no exaggerated claims for Kruschen Salts, but we recommend the "little daily dose" because Kruschen's is a valuable mineral salt in highly refined form. Each salt has its particular function. In combination they help rid your system of poisons each day. Thus free from the aging effects of accumulated impurities you are much less apt to suffer from splitting headaches, acid indigestion, rheumatic pains, listlessness, because your entire system is encouraged to function normally.

Thousands upon thousands of people throughout the world refer to the general well-being it imparts as "that million dollar Kruschen feeling." Start "the little daily dose" right away and just you see for yourself! At all drug counters 25c, 45c, 75c.

Girl Guide News
The First Malpeque Company of Girl Guides was organized on Thursday, October 7th with Mrs. Ralph Bearsto as Captain and Miss Margaret Towson as first lieutenant. Eighteen girls are present and showed great interest. Miss Redfern, Captain of the Kensington Guides, who accompanied the Commissioner, planned with the new Guides a combined hike for the two companies for next Saturday. We are praying for fine weather. Miss M. Hopwood has been chosen as 2nd. Miss Mary McQuaid, Captain of the 2nd Alberton Company, has promised to be present to help at the next meeting.

Will any Guides in Prince County needing more yarn for their guides' knitting for English children evacuated from London please notify the Commissioner at once as the supply is getting short.

War Briefs

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that the Administration is studying suggestions that the United States army to approximately 600,000 men, including regular troops, the national guard (equivalent of the Canadian peace time militia) and reserve officers.

He hastened to note at his press conference, however, that the United States armed forces already approach this figure.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt told reporters flatly today he has no reservations or suggestions that he step forward with peace proposals to end the war.

The President's categorical statement was made in reply to a question put to him during a press conference.

"Have any offers or overtures of peace been received?" he was asked.

"No," the President replied firmly.
