—MRS. RICHARDSON'S class will give their annual violin recital in C. M. B. A. Hall, Kensington, Friday evening, June 18th, assisted by Mr. J. P. MacInnis, soloist. Proceeds in aid of Kensington High School. Curtain 8 o'clock. Admission 25 and 15 cents. 9827-6-15-21

More than a score of local workmen have been given steady employment with the last month in connection with the extensive repair work contemplated for the Charlottetown Railroad wharf, and when the preparative work is completed, when everything is ready for actual building, this number will probably be doubled. It is expected that the whole job will take about three months to complete.

The most interesting phase of the work now going on is the diving, and the two C. N. R. divers weeks make daily trips to the bottom for the purpose of making the dock bed ready for the big piles that will be driven down later. The other work already finished includes the driving of piles on the east side, and the building of a derrick for driving the piles on the west side.

On the west side the piles will be seventy feet in length, as it is that distance to a rock foundation. A two and one half ton steam hammer will be used for driving instead of the usual weight hammer. The construction work now going on is in charge of Mr. A. B. Corbett, C. N. R. diver. Mr. Corbett has had many years experience in his work as an employee of the C. N. R., and these experiences were the subject of an especially interesting article written for a recent issue of the Canadian National Magazine, with photographs shown of both Mr. Corbett, and his assistant, Mr. R. Brown, at work.

—BASEBALL—The Senators defeated the West End Braves in the closest and most interesting game so far in the Summer Baseball League, when they came through in the seventh inning with a two runs, winning the game 5 to 3. A full report which is regrettably crowded out of this issue, will appear tomorrow.

—TOWN COUNCIL—The regular meeting of the Summerside Town Council took place last night when Milk Inspection, Power Rates, and other matters were discussed. A full report, will appear in a subsequent issue.

Rowena Wickham, seventh daughter of Mrs. Martha M. Wickham of Montague, graduated with high honors from Bowdoin Law School, Boston, Massachusetts. Miss Wickham is the third Island girl to win her degree and she is a wonderful example for all her Island sisters who would be successful in life. Always desirous of advancing herself, she took up the study of law four years ago, while she found it necessary to hold her position of Office Manager in a large firm in Everett, Mass., but with the brilliant standing she has attained, her efforts have been well rewarded. At Bowdoin where the commencement took place, many Island and Boston friends assembled and Miss Wickham was showered with flowers and best wishes for her future.

Lengthy Meeting

Some lighting on the market square and a man to protect the cars was in his opinion something that the city should at once supply.

Coun. Foster suggested that this place be utilized for the heavy demand for parking space on Saturday nights, and added further that the city should have signs to mark the different street parking places and their restrictions, as well as to warn cars from stopping in front of hydrants.

His Worship said that parking was a very important matter. He did not think cars should be allowed to park on both sides of the street.

Coun. Yeo stated that this matter was an increasing problem for Charlottetown as well as for the larger cities. For a considerable number of years the city did employ a man to protect cars parked on the Square. He was of the opinion that the eventually perhaps the right way would be obliged to supply parking space. The city was taking six or seven thousand dollars from auto owners, so it could afford to do something for them.

Coun. Moran called attention to the fact that Richmond Street, which was very narrow and was usually on both sides with cars. Coun. Yeo advised the appointment of a committee to attend to the matter and to report to a special meeting within a few days.

His Worship said he was not sure that the city had the right to set aside a portion of the Square for parking.

Coun. Hennessey, reporting for the Police Committee, said that stories of complaints were entered on the books but that the magistrate did not always act on them. The City Court met when it suited him, and cases that should be so dealt with were settled out of court. Only a few cases of fast driving had been heard, but some at the rate of sixty miles an hour. Brighton Road and Elm Avenue were favorite spots for speeders. Two drivers had been taken up and fined $10 each. If there was no speed limit in the city one should be made. Where five complaints had been later received on the street early in the season, and if the first few were fined the rest would soon stop. Coun. Hennessey said that the dance halls were not closing when they should by law. Dogs were running about without collars or numbers. Complaints were being received of people driving on the sidewalks with bicycles.

Coun. Foster, chairman of the Fire Committee congratulated Mr. Doull on the way he had gone into the matter of the fire zones. Though his resolution taking the same had been turned down, the Council would always welcome suggestions that he had to make.

Coun. Kennedy, chairman of the Light Committee, reported some changes that were to be made in the street lighting and submitted a number of resolutions. Coun. Prowse asked when repairs would begin on the sidewalks, and Coun. Yeo replied that work was to begin at once.

A resolution was passed laying the street zone plan submitted by Mr. W. P. Doull before the Council. Another resolution passed accepted the tender of the Imperial Oil Company for the supplying of asphalt.

Another resolution called for twelve designating parking candidates on the different streets.

Coun. Foster asked that better provision be made for lighting up the soldier's monument.

Coun. Dougan, chairman of the health Committee, spoke of complaints that had been made of the unhealthy condition of the park shore corner at the Cundall home breastwork. Coun. Dougan also asked the finance chairman what the present scale of wages for day laborers was. He was told that it was $3.00 for first class labor and the others accordingly. Coun. Dougan said that this was not what Coun. Prowse had said at the last meeting. The resolution passed then was re-read and Coun. Prowse explained that only two kinds of labor were being engaged, men on permanent work, in accordance with that resolution were paid $3.00.

Coun. Blanchard referring to public health said he had heard complaints of the state of the drain at the rear of the Condensed Milk factory. He was informed that the only body having power in this matter was the Board of Health.

His Worship referred to the sum of $275 set aside for the supplying of band music and said he hoped the committee in charge of this work would draw up a program of concerts to be held somewhere in the city, either on the square or in the park.

Princess Edward Picture a Decided Hit

NORMA SHEARER FASCINATING AS HOMELY STENOGRAPHER WHO LEARNS BEAUTY SECRETS

The combination of Hobart Henley as the director and Norma Shearer as the star, with Lew Cody, is proving an irresistible draw.

The picture called "His Secretary", which opened last night at the Princess Edward Theatre. To say that it is a scream is putting it mild, indeed.

Norma Shearer has never done better work. In the early scenes of "His Secretary", she burlesques every bit of her natural character into a makeup of a prim stenographer. You have met the character many times yourself, sometimes as a stenographer, sometimes as a teacher, and you just know she would only at afternoon at the "sewing circle", where you would dare appear to such personal disadvantage as Miss Shearer does in this and it is sometimes hard to believe that it is the beautiful Norma.

Her homeliness in the early scenes, only emphasizes her natural beauty.

Lew Cody is now firmly entrenched in the comedy field. He is a much greater comedian than he ever has been as a heavy, and if you don't believe it, visit the Princess Edward Theatre this week. His years as the suave villain have fitted him, however, for the playing of subtle comedy.

If Norma Shearer and Lew Cody would steal the picture, Willard Louis would steal the picture. As it is, Louis manages to steal his share of the laurels. Louis' comic expressions are put to excellent use by Henley and the story, and his last appearance in the picture leaves the audience waiting for more.

In minor roles, Karl Dane of "The Big Parade" fame, Mabel Van Buren, Gwen Lee, Estelle Clark and Ernest Gillen all distinguish themselves. Henley has woven an entirely plausible comedy out of this story by Carey Wilson, and has given the screen another piece of entertainment that is a credit to the name, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Hope Loring and Louis B. Lighton wrote the continuity.
