-ORATORICAL CONTESTS APPRECIATED-A correspondent writes. Much interest has been taken in the Oratorical Contests in Kings County, and now that it is over the prize winners are receiving the congratulations of their many friends and admirers. But while we congratulate the winners we must congratulate all the contestants for "They also ran" well and though not winning a prize at this time, have no reason to be discouraged in any way, for they all made a good impression, have added to the success of the contest, and have advanced their own education. Their speeches were all of a high order and merited just praise. Any fair minded person who attended these contests and listened to the speakers must, we think, admit that the teachers have been doing extra good work and are worthy of better consideration, and we may, with all assurances, look forward to public speaking being raised to a much higher standard than it is at the present time. The good effect of the work of the teachers will be felt and appreciated long after the memory of those who refused them a fair request, will be erased from the minds of the living.

REPORT OF GASPAREUX WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular monthly meeting of the Gaspereux Women's Institute took place at the home of Mrs. Charles Graham, on the evening of April 15, there being thirteen members and a large number of visitors present. Meeting opened by reading of "Creed" by the President. Roll was called and answered by "Where I would like to travel." The minutes of previous meeting were read and adopted. Report of sick committee was heard, and a new one appointed. "What I would do with a $1000." was chosen as answer for next roll call. A letter of thanks, was read by the president, from Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hayter and family, for the kind expressions of sympathy received by them during their recent sad bereavement. Meeting closed by singing the National Anthem. A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Graham, assisted by several young ladies, which was much appreciated by all. The remainder of the evening was spent in music and songs, after which the ladies departed, having spent a very pleasant evening. The Institute thanks Mrs. Graham for the kind entertainment. Next meeting to be held in school house.

Hardiness of Red Clover

THE DIRECTOR OF PUBLICITY, DOMINION DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, OTTAWA.

Red clover, undoubtedly one of the best hay crops particularly for the dairy farmer and the sheep raiser, varies greatly in hardiness according to the climate in which the seed is produced. At a conference in Denmark a few years ago experimental evidence was produced which proved that red clover seed from southern climates was undesirable in Northern Europe due to lack of winter hardiness. As a consequence the countries concerned restricted the importation of southern grown clover seed. To secure light in this subject for Canada, the Experimental Farms Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa has for five years been testing side by side seed secured from different countries. The plants were grown under control in rows at definite distances apart and the following spring a record was made of the living plants remaining. Comparing with seed from five sources in 1923, the number has been increased from year to year until in 1927 from other parts of Europe must con-seed from twenty-five sources was grown. Of these Canadian grown seed suffered the least, amounting to an average of 12.81 per cent covering the five years. Plants from Swedish seed came next in hardiness, with a loss of 20.08 per cent, followed by the United States with 20.75 and Czechoslovakia with 21.25, with losses increasing up to even one hundred per cent with seed produced in Australia. Some years ago Italian seed was commonly imported in this country. In these tests 58.52 per cent of the plants suffered winter killing. The hardiness test was conducted by the Forage Plants Division of the Experimental Farms and is fully dealt with in the report of that Division for 1927, published by the Department. In this it is shown that French red clover seed winter killed to the extent of 45.63 per cent. Seed from Great Britain went down to the extent of a little more than 36 per cent. On the whole it is shown that Canadian seed produced much the best results.

The Department of Agriculture recognizing the non-hardiness of southern grown seed have enacted legislation under The Seeds Act whereby all Italian seed or seed of other southern origin must contain a percentage of seed stained red. Seed from year to year until in 1927 from other parts of Europe must con-
