EDITORIAL NOTES.

When Capt Eulate of the Viscaya, visited New York, shortly before the war began, there was much angry feeling against him and his men because of the then recent destruction of the Maine. As he sailed out of the harbor he let go a carrier pigeon, which brought back to New York the words—"A message of peace and good will to the United States.". This little incident produced a very favorable impression of the Spanish commander. He had his reward the other day, when after his fine ship had been destroyed, he was received on board the Iowa and tendered his sword to Capt Evans. The latter, with a friendly gestiure declined to receive it, but grasped the hand of the Spanish officer and welcomed him to the hospitality of the ship. Capt Eulate was much affected. When later Admiral Cervera came on board, he was received, not as a prisoner, but with the honors due to an Admiral. Captain Eulate was there, wearing the sword that Captain Evans had refused to accept and he pointed to it with pathetic pride, as he told of the reception accorded him by the Iowa's captain. Such courtesies from the victors in some measure softened the pangs of defeat to the Spanish officers.

We have been buying of Germany about $6,493,000 and selling to Germany about $1,000,000 worth yearly. If the Kaiser is foolish enough to persist in refusing us "most favored nation" treatment simply because we extend a preference to Britain, Germany will probably be a much greater loser than Canada. What is evidently feared by Germany is that the example set by Canada will be followed by many, or all other British colonies, and the German desire is to check this movement. The fear is no doubt well-founded, but neither Kaiser nor King can stop the movement toward freer trade throughout the British Empire.

Boston school authorities have decided that it is wise to teach school children to swim. Hence they are all to be taught to swim without charge. Twenty-six expert swimmers have been engaged as instructors, headed by the champion swimmer of New England. How many lives have been lost through inability to swim will never be known. Many others have sacrificed their lives in the attempt to learn, without proper oversight and instruction in unsafe places. Every boy and girl should be taught to swim, by a thorough instructor in a swimming bath where there is no danger of drowning. Boston has the correct idea in this matter.

The battleship Maine was destroyed 15th February last, with 266 lives. Since the war began Spain has lost nineteen war vessels and ten torpedo boats, a total of 45,000 tons, carrying 4.700 men, the larger part of the latter being killed, wounded or made prisoners.

New Zealand is sending frozen oysters half way round the globe to the British market. It is intended to send consignments once a month without regard to whether there is an R in the name of the month or not. The oysters are in blocks of eight and fifteen dozen. They will be put on the London market at eight shillings a hundred. The demand is very great. Now, if our beds had not been depleted, or if they were renewed so as to be again largely productive, here would be a fine opening for business in the cold storage line.

During the five months of this year to June 1st the C P R sold 164,308 acres of its lands valued at $526,443, as against 53,420 acres valued at 197,782 in the same period last year. And the increase has been progressive, the larger sales in the later months. The Dominion record of homestead entries also shows increasing progress in the settlement of the Northwest. These are the best indications of the substantial growth of the country. At the same time Bradstreets reports show that in the first six months of 1898 the business failures in Canada show a decrease of 24 per cent as compared last year.

The Hawaiian Islands have now been formally annexed to the United States. Leading American public men and public journals are looking forward to the acquisition of all Spain's insular possessions as well. The Ladrone Islands have been all ready seized. The Phillipines, Spanish West Indies and Canary Islands, collectively contain a population of eleven to fifteen millions. With these acquisitions the United States might begin the twentieth century with pretty close upon a hundred millions of people. In 1800 the population of the United States was 5,308,483.
