Minard's Liniment For Corns

LETTER OF SYMPATHY TO OUR SISTER MEMBER MRS. J. HOWATT.

Our hearts are full of grief and sympathy for you in this your dark hour of trouble. We who have known dear Vivian during her too short life can testify to her beautiful character, we can in some measure feel how great a loss death is to you. The first dear one to be taken from a home by the grim reaper Death is so hard to bear that we feel as though our hearts would break. If it were not that we can go to the loving Saviour and cast our troubles on Him our hearts would certainly faint, but Jesus has said "I will not leave thee comfortless."

The memory of dear Vivian's patience and cheerfulness in her illness and suffering and her resignation and submission to the will of her heavenly Father will remain with you and bring comfort in your sorrows. The sweet little boy that is left will also be a great comfort and pleasure to you in the coming years.

We commend you to Him who is able to keep and help you to the uttermost.

"There is no flock, however watched and tended,
But one dead lamb is there!
There is no fireside, howsoever defended,
But has one vacant chair.

There is no death! what seems so is transition,
This life of mortal breath
Is but a suburb of the life elysian,
Whose portal we call Death.

She is not dead, the child of our affection
But gone into that school
Where she no longer needs one poor protection,
And Christ Himself doth rule.

We will be patient and assuage the feeling
We may not wholly stay
By silence sanctifying not concealing,
The grief that must have way.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

On the evening of March 18th a number of friends assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stewart, Dunstaffnage.

The object of the gathering was an address and presentation to their son Wilfred who was leaving shortly for the United States.

The meeting was called to order by William Vessey, President of the Pastime Club, and the following programme was carried out:

Recitation—Mildred Thompson; Solo—Roland Phillipson; Recitation—Harry Muttart; Reading—Jean Thompson; Instrumental music—Sara Mill; Mouth Organ Selection—Vernon Dennis.

At the completion of the programme an address was read by Helen McLeod. During the reading of the address Roland Phillipson presented Wilfred with a suitable gift. Wilfred in a few well chosen words thanked the club members for having so kindly remembered him.

During the evening refreshments were served by the ladies.

The gathering was brought to a close by singing of the National Anthem.

The following is the address: Dear Wilfred:—Only recently we have heard with regret of your intended departure for the United States.

We your friends have gathered here tonight to bid you farewell and to show you in a very slight measure the esteem by which you are held by us. We know that you will be missed in your home and this community and especially so in this club of which you are a worthy member and where you were always willing to help and give cheerfully for it and the community's benefit. Remember that our good wishes will follow you and may happiness and success constantly attend you.

We your fellow-members ask you to accept this gift not for its value, but to remind you of your friends in Dunstaffnage.

Signed on behalf of the Dunstaffnage Pastime Club.

MT. STEWART MUSINGS

O ye who grieve for by-gone times, and scenes of other days,
Give ear unto the tale I'll tell, and then join in the praise.
We had a concert "Paddy's Night" that has the best surpassed,
For every number on the list was better than the last.

The hall was filled completely with the number who attended,
From city, village hill and dale their way to it had wended,
At eight o'clock the president arose and told the throng,
How glad he was to see them, and we'd start now with a song.

It opened with a chorus called "The Freedom of the World,"
The way 'twas sung you'd think you saw, Old Britain's flag unfurled.
Then came a recitation that is worthy of comment,
Next following a great duet, and so the evening went.

The curtain fell and rose again, a dialogue then was played,
With scene and caste just right in "Advertising for a Maid."
In hisland costume (hills an a') appeared old friend Ray,
And sang us "Ta, Ta Maggie" second but to Laudeh's way.

Violin selections then were played to help the cause along,

A dialogue followed that, and then there came another song.
A dual recitation by two little girls of note,
The way they said it brought the sob to everybody's throat.

A solo sung by Willie (you can judge yourself, how well)
When encoed thrice and still the crowd did for another yell,
Two solos and a dialogue, then the closing chorus came,
And following a sale of pies, the mass all left for home.

Try Sulphur on An Eczema Skin

Costs Little and Overcomes Trouble Almost Over Night

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment without delay. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles' Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.
