This vicinity lost another of its oldest residents last week in the passing of Mr. Stephen J. Keefe. Well along in the evening of life Mr. Keefe had enjoyed good health until a very short time before his last summer. He will be remembered by the older railway men as having served on the flange for many winters while foreman at Elmira. He retired many years ago and made trips to the states once visiting his daughters in far-away California. He leaves several sons and daughters to mourn his passing. His funeral was held on Saturday to the Church of St. Laurence. Mr. Keefe and his remains laid to rest beside his wife who passed from this world many years ago.

Mr. Valentine MacDonald has arrived here from the mainland for a short stay.

Your writer had a pleasant call on Friday last from an old friend, Pte. Pius St. Louis Montague, but who is now serving in the armed services for several years. More than twenty years have passed since last meeting this old friend at Borden in 1922.

Cars were travelling from here to the city on Saturday along with cars from other sections but their driving was cut short on Sunday when the high wind and snow blocked the road again.

The St. Andrews Sports Club or glee club has started a series of dances in the Hall every two weeks.

Pte. August Lapierre leaves this week for Montreal from where he will proceed to his training center in Quebec, after a stay of some fifteen days with his parents here.

Horse racing was for ten this winter on the lot that has seen many speedy events in years past. The late P. Rooney always kept at least one good racer; another was the late W.H. MacDewen, who spent all his leisure time behind a wheel and knew his horses as well as the whip away as there are no drivers to argue with about who might have or should have won the race. One yet remains, James A. O'Brien, retired C.N.R. section foreman who still drives down the highway behind a fiery steed. One thing always noticed is that Mr. O'Brien is always accompanied by his dog no matter where he raced, highway or lot, the dog was there many times far behind but in the fray, maybe with less gas, horse lovers will once more see good horses, a pride of any farmer or business man, back on the trail.

Miss Thelma Griffin was in the city over the week-end guest of her aunt, Mrs. Annes McEachern.

Mrs. William MacDonald was in the city on Friday along with her son, Pte. Pius MacDonald, who is returning to his training center on the mainland.

Prices as high as $19 a ton are being asked in the western part of the province, according to letters received at the local Prices Board office. Residents in this section of the Island write in to inquire if there is a ceiling price on hay. The increasing number of these communications prompted Mr. Harbour to make public his warning on the soaring price of hay. "Although there is no ceiling on the selling price, nevertheless the selling price must be reasonable and just," he emphasized. Quoted as to what he considered a just price, Mr. Harbour stated, it suggests that the maximum price of loose hay be $12 per ton and $14 for pressed hay at the farmers' prices. If a trader pays $14 a ton for pressed hay in a car, he will want one dollar a ton for his commission. Added to this will be $2 for freight and $2 a ton to the dealer for unloading and handling charges which brings the price up to $19 a ton. Is there any farmer anywhere in this province who does not think this is a high price in comparison with its feeding value?

Mr. Harbour believed that farmers and dealers will be able to sell hay in this province where he was an employee of the Island Motor Transport. Last summer he operated the Charlottetown-Quebec-Souris route and when operations ceased for the winter months, he was transferred to Moncton. He was driving a bus in that city until he became ill last week. He came home by plane and entered the hospital.

The late Mr. Trainor served for a year and a half in the present war as a member of the Medical Corps. He was discharged, however, as medically unfit. Prior to this he attended Saint Joseph's University for two years. He was born at Tryon.

By a coincidence the deceased entered the hospital seven days ago and passed away yesterday morning at seven o'clock.

Besides his parents there are left to mourn a brother, Bernard, Charlottetown; Georgia, Lunenburg; at the City Hospital; Lauretta, student at P.W.O. and Aurilia, at home.

The funeral will be held from his late residence, West Royalty, Friday morning at 9.30 to St. Dunstan's Basilica, thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

Board Welcomes Money-Saving Ideas

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP)—The Prices Board, which has had to appraise many wartime restrictions, has today received a number of ideas and suggestions for money-saving.

Some of the ideas for money-saving are: a simple idea for the wedding of two Canadians $500,000 a year. The Board said it wants more of such ideas.

Just as reminders of what kind of ideas are needed, the Board listed the following:—

Someone suggested that the piece of cloth around the top of a hat be eliminated and the binding wire shortened. Changes in the manufacturing methods required for making army clothing and steel for war weapons.

A few months ago a mother suggested ways to simplify infant's clothing. As a result, cloth and labor hours were saved.

Another suggestion resulted in the reduction of the overlapping of certain farmers' truck routes, with consequent saving of gasoline, tires and truck mechanism.

The clearing house for ideas, where they should be sent is "Consumer Branch, Prices Board, Arcade Bldg., Ottawa."

INVASION YEAR

Is the Vital Year for CANADA and The Canadian Red Cross

The number of parcels needed for Prisoners-of-War will not be less. One hundred thousand parcels are now being sent every week and this year the cost per parcel will quite likely be higher. . . Much more blood plasma is sure to be needed this year and while the blood is all given freely at thirty nine different centres throughout Canada there will be additional cost in the processing and packing and transporting the larger quantities. . . Need for relief for suffering civilians amongst our Allies and Red Cross supplies for their troops will be greater this year. (Last year's Red Cross aid to Russia amounted to two millions, aid for China was $250,000, and much in supplies and comforts went to Poland, Greece, Belgium, the Fighting French, Norway, Holland and the Balkans). And finally think if you can of the increased needs of Red Cross supplies which Invasion Year will bring to our Fighting Canadians at the spear-head of the advance into Europe—the Hospital and medical supplies that will be needed in such immense volume, and the comforts and clothing which the Canadian Red Cross must have ready for the wounded while in the hospitals and at the convalescent centres. . . Every preparation must be made, every contingency must be provided for in order that our fighting men may have the best that can be provided — and the people of Prince Edward Island are again going to do their full part by providing the Canadian Red Cross in its "Invasion Year" campaign which begins the first of March with all the funds which it will need.

Eastern Trust Co. Show Steady Progress

Further progress in the affairs of the Eastern Trust Company, of the importance of the difficulties of the time was shown in the Company's annual report presented by the President, Mr. J. B. McCurdy, P. C. at the annual meeting of shareholders held in Halifax. The net income for the year was higher than in 1941 and amounted to $141,740.78, following an increase in 1940 of $40,000, which sum full provision had been made for tax liability. Dividends during the year were maintained at the same rate as in past years. The volume of business carried on by the Company during the year was well maintained, with total assets increasing to a value of $4,846,500, against $4,628,237 at the end of the preceding year.

In his address to the shareholders, Mr. McCurdy referred to the "involved question of succession duties by both Provincial and Dominion Government and the increasing liabilities and amounts of taxes." These, he pointed out, have entailed additional administrative work on the part of executors and administrators and have caused inevitable and inconceivable and possibly hardship to the families of the deceased. He stated that the bank account becoming available to dependents. These levies also make more necessary than ever Trust Company advice and aid in Estate administration.

Mr. McCurdy also stressed the necessity for every Canadian citizen to be performing his or her duty in the most useful way possible, "whether or not the efforts necessary for the performance of this duty are to be made voluntarily or through grave changes in the present way of Canadian life are bound to come. Speaking of the present method of income tax payment, Mr. McCurdy said in part: "A particular embarrassment for the taxpayer is the calls for increased taxation levied on the 1942 Budget with the necessity for paying all of one and one-half per cent of the tax on one year's revenue. This dilemma, which probably is most perplexing in the past period and, in case of death, it is apt to cause unwelcome hardships for the dependents of a taxpayer, for, unlike a succession duty, it is based on net income and not on the value of the assets at death. There is a belief widely held in Canada that some plan of relief should be arranged."

HAZELBROOK INSTITUTE

It was moved and seconded that a gift be sent to one of the children of the district who is sick in the hospital. It was also given for the purchase of material to finish Red Cross quilts. Mrs. Holden Wood put on a contest which was heartily enjoyed by all. It was decided that we celebrate our fifteenth anniversary at next meeting by having a birthday cake. Roll call for next meeting to be answered by a grab bag. Mrs. Lee Cody kindly invited next meeting to be held at her home. Meeting adjourned by the singing of the National Anthem.
