Nomination Day at S'side

Nominations for the civic election closed yesterday at Summerside with two candidates for Mayor, Mr. John E. Campbell the present Mayor and Winslow J. Lidstone, a former Mayor. Both have good records in civic affairs. Mayor Campbell served on the council board for four years before his first election as Mayor in 1920. He was returned again in 1921-1922. He was followed in 1923 by Mr. Lidstone, who was returned the following year. In 1925 Mayor Campbell defeated Lidstone but the latter was again successful in 1926. Mr. Lidstone was Mayor of the town in 1929, 1930 and 1931 and again in 1934 and 35. The late Edward W. Manson, who was elected Mayor in 1932 inaugurated the two year term for Mayor. It will be seen by the foregoing that it is not the first time that the present candidates have been in opposition. Mayor Campbell's father, the late Ronald Campbell, had the distinction of being the first Mayor of Summerside being elected in 1890. Previous to that the office was filled by a town chairman.

There will be elections in the East and West Wards, Herbert B. Schurman will run against Lloyd Gorrill in the East Ward and in the West Ward Alban Gillis will oppose Councilor Wedge. Both Schurman and Gillis are newcomers in the field of civic politics. In the Central Ward Councilor Theron Morrison was elected by acclamation. February 3rd is election day so the contesting candidates have little time to canvass the town. J. Leigh Stewart will contest the vacancy for water commissioner opposing Chester Palmer the retiring Commissioner.—S.

The Urgent Need for Leaders
The need of finding new leaders to replace our enlisted Scouters is urgent if the movement is to continue of value to our boys. I am pleased to be able to report that it is met to a small extent by the very ready and experienced assistance a number of our troops have given to the R. A. F. and R. C. A. F. stations. It is to be hoped that this service so freely volunteered by members of these Air Forces will be cultivated and expanded by our group.

PROVINCIAL BOY SCOUT PRESIDENTIAL REPORT

"In making this my third annual report to the Provincial Council I would like to say that the continuation of the present great conflict is ever increasing the difficulties in carrying out the Scout movement on Prince Edward Island as it should be carried on for the benefit of our youth. The very fact that war demands men of courage, resource, and youthful vigour is resulting in the loss from our organization of active military service of a growing number of our scout leaders. Also Rovers and many former scouts have joined up and already we are hearing from different sources of the added value of his scout training because of his scout training first aid, signalling, seamanship and various other scouting accomplishments. On this point I cannot do better than quote from the report of Mr. G. Robley McKay, the retiring National Council Committee on the Scout 'Be Prepared' motto Broadcasts given to the Dominion Executive Council last November in which he said—

"We want the public to realize that our movement contribution to this war was made five, ten, and possibly fifteen years ago when thousands of young men now defending their country had the benefit of Scouting experience."

"Much however as we deplore the loss of these leaders and potential leaders from our organization we are proud to realize that they have shown themselves prepared and ready for the greatest test they have yet been called upon to meet. We have among our loved Scouters Niall Burnett has made the supreme sacrifice in the service of his country. And our profound sorrow at his loss is tempered by our knowledge that his service and sacrifice have done much for the Scouting movement in which he was a talented leader.

Prov. Commissioner's Report
Following was the report of Provincial Boy Scouts Commissioner, K. M. Martin:

"In general, Scouting has held its ground, (in 1941) and in fact gained in some respects. As against the continuing and increasing drainage caused by the war on the pool of leaders and especially of prospective leaders, the continuing and replacing Scouters appear strongly imbued with knowledge of the technical training, and more urgently required, both in full activity and continuity, than at the present, when the empire and world emergency has effected the almost complete removal of that stratum of youth which should and should not be, immediate example and guide for the rising generation. The actual burden and labor of Scout leadership has been greatly increased, but the response has been and still continues excellent."

"The number of boys in scouting in 1941 was 551 as against 602 in 1940, groups 22 as against 25. Three new groups have been added at South Rustico, Georgetown and Souris, the last being a reorganization of the Victoria, Belle River, Montague, Kensington, 4th Charlottetown (Baptist), and 12th Charlottetown (Sea Scouts) have become inactive. Some of the above may soon be reactivated, the difficulty being in the interruption of leadership in such areas."

"Prince County continues to do excellent work, the Western portion throughout the year under the direct supervision of Mr. Davies, the Eastern falling on organization and in the present position, the Scouts, with cooperative organization renewed by Mr. Lidstone with excellent results and prospects."

"Queens County continues sound and at no time can Scouting, which is gradually gaining more control and immediate supervision of Mr. Pineau and Kings County is showing renewed interest originated by Mr. Henderson in Georgetown, and expected to extend to the necessity of a district organization to include Souris, Montague, Georgetown, Murray River and other points."

"Activity at Camp Buchan was greatly enlarged, including 76 boys and leaders, and was very successfully carried under District supervision. An excellent camp was conducted for Western Prince with 20 boys and leaders, while Eastern Prince held no camp, an omission likely to be remedied under the renewed organization."

"Badger was issued to the number of 141, as against 149 for the previous year. Patrol leaders courses were organized and conducted by Mr. Pineau at Charlottetown and Rustico and by Mr. Davies in Western Prince."

"Mr. Evan McCormick of Dominion Headquarters was assigned for Provincial use in May, and gave valuable assistance in leader training and other projects in Charlottetown and Summerside, other points being unable to make effective use of his services. Regrettably, the season and other circumstances made it impossible to avail ourselves of his help as fully as he would have welcomed."

"The loss of the Barham was announced by the admiralty in London, which said the 27-year-old battleship went down Nov. 25. The admiralty said that although axis propaganda agencies had claimed destruction of the warship which mounted eight 15-inch guns, the loss had not been announced until now because it was evident the enemy was not sure of what had happened."

"The German high command claimed Tuesday's warship was sunk by submarine torpedo off Salomon."

"Informed quarters said 300 of the ship's officers and crew of 1,100 to 1,200 men were saved, but it was announced that the commander, Capt. G. C. Cooke, was lost."

"The loss leaves Britain with at least 13 capital ships. She started the war with 15, has lost five—the battleships, Prince of Wales, Royal Oak and Barham, and the battle cruisers Repulse and Hood—and has completed at least three new ones."

"The active air force was suddenly moved up here the planes are trying to protect columns which are endeavoring to withdraw the remnants of tank divisions to Germany. There, Lt-Gen. Leonid Geroev told us, the Germans hope to prepare for a vast tank offensive in the spring."

"In 30-below-zero cold, the Germans brought up several fresh battalions on the southern sector of the central front, but they were scattered inexorably."

"It was the same story in many places: The Russians, artfully camouflaged against the snow, split the Nazis into separate units; then, upon learning they are about to be surrounded, the Germans fall back, often offering fierce fights with covering groups."

"South of here, we can hear the boom of Russian guns which have retaken eight villages, all burned by the Germans. It is reported that in 10 to 12 days, along the whole front, the Germans have had to abandon 2,000 inhabited places."

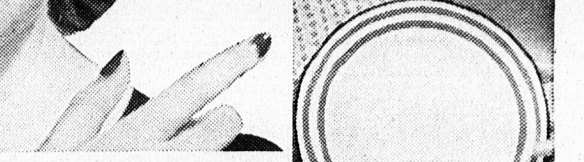

Probably 500 C.W.A.C. Members To serve overseas
By Patricia Connolly Canadian Press Staff Writer OTTAWA, Jan. 27—(CP)—Between 400 and 500 members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps probably will be called upon before the end of the war to serve overseas, it was learned today.

The indication was that the first group of women would go overseas sometime during the summer.

"There certainly is a place overseas for the C.W.A.C. and I hope to make the necessary arrangements after I arrive in Britain," Major Gen. B. W. Browne, newly-appointed inspector-general of Canadian forces overseas which are outside the Canadian corps, told The Canadian Press.

He said that all recruits for the army corps volunteer for service overseas as well as at home, and added: "We have been working on a

It Happened Twice

During the drive back not a word was said and when they reached the house Althea went straight to her room. Peggy felt very uneasy.

It was nearly seven o'clock when Edger returned. He went straight to his room and Peggy heard Althea tap at the door. She went in and it was a quarter of an hour before she came out.

"At dinner she looked most cheerful, but not only talked, but laid herself out to be pleasant. Peggy kept silence and afterwards made an excuse to go to her room."

"An hour later there was a tap on her door and Althea came in. 'It's all right, Ruth,' she said cheerfully. 'I talked straight to Edger, he took it well. He has promised to keep clear of her. She paused, but Peggy did not speak.' Althea frowned.

"You think I'm weak," she said sharply. "If you'd heard what I said you wouldn't have that idea. Peggy still kept silence. She really dared not speak. Althea's voice rose angrily.

"I will try," she answered, "but it is hard to be considerate to a man who has tried to murder you. Don't say I'm mad. I have evidence that he started the fire on the moor." (To be continued.)
