The Only Hygienic Artificial Light

Let us compare acetylene with coal-gas from an hygienic point of view.

In an hour an acetylene burner consumes half a foot of gas.

During the same time, the burner of the ordinary coal-gas jet uses up five to six feet.

If an acetylene burner uses up half a foot, and a city gas burner five to six feet, it means that the acetylene burner consumes less than one-tenth the air consumed by the gas burner.

That's perfectly clear, isn't it?

Now, then, if you use coal-gas, every hour the gas burns, it consumes ten times the quantity of air consumed if acetylene is being used.

Artificial light is dependent upon oxygen for its existence.

Man's very life and health are also dependent upon the amount of oxygen he breathes into his lungs.

Deprive him of this oxygen, and his system becomes poisoned—he feels stupid, drowsy, incapable of exerting himself.

You require all the oxygen you can possibly get.

Therefore, you require a light that will save oxygen for you, not consume it—acetylene light.

S Calcium Carbide makes the best acetylene light.

THE GUARDIAN COVERS THE FIELD

The Guardian covers the City and Province within which it is published more fully and completely than any other newspaper printed in Canada.

With a daily circulation of its morning and rural edition now about 8,000 and growing from day to day, it has broken all records for a daily publication in a small community.

Charlottetown has a population of 12,000 and Prince Edward Island has 103,000 The Guardian's daily circulation is therefore 1 to 1½ of population in the city in which it is published, or 1 to 13 of the population of the Province. This is, the management believes, unequalled by any daily newspaper published in Canada.

Take one or two comparisons with other leading newspapers in other cities and Provinces.

St. John has a population of 40,000 and the Province of New Brunswick 320,000 St. John has five newspapers and among these The Telegraph and The Sun are perhaps the foremost. Each claims a circulation of about 8,000, or say as 1 to 5 of the population of that city and 1 to 40 of the population of the Province.

Or again: Toronto has a population of some 250,000 and the Province of Ontario about 2,225,0 0. The Toronto Globe is a great Canadian newspaper, known all over the world as one of the foremost ournals. The Globe's published daily circulation is slightly under 5' That is as 1 to 5 of the population of Toronto and 1 to 42 of the population of Ontario.

The point is this that The Guardian covers the field of its circulation three and a half times as well, if compared with population of the city and over three times as well, taking the population of its Province, as the best New Brunswick and Ontario daily newspapers, and these are admittedly among the best in Canada.

These facts are printed in no spirit of boasting, but for the satisfaction of Guardian readers and advertising patrons like. They have a right to know how completely their favorite Journal's endorsed by the reading public among whom it circulates and how completely it covers the field as an advertising medium in this City and Province
