

Moth Preventives

When packing away winter clothing, blankets, furs, etc., better insure finding them whole in the fall by using Jamieson's Moth Balls, Camphor Gum or our Moth Proof Bags. Moths begin laying eggs about this time and it is the larvae from these eggs that do the damage. It behooves you to take prompt measures to exclude Mrs. Moth. Our moth preventives cost little and pay every time.

ANTI-GERMAN AGITATION STARTED IN AMSTERDAM AND NORTHERN HOLLAND.

LONDON, April 15.—The Rotterdam correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphs that a popular anti-German agitation has arisen in Amsterdam and Northern Holland, led by a revolutionary named Nieuwenhuis, which aims at preventing foodstuffs and other goods from entering Germany. Demonstrations are being held in the outskirts of Amsterdam demanding that the frontiers be closed and that F. F. Posthuma, Minister of Agriculture, Industry and Commerce, who is accused of pro-Germanism, be removed. Nieuwenhuis was once a favoured democratic leader, but lost his popularity some time ago owing to his extreme socialism. He is now gaining ground by his anti-German campaign, while the aristocratic residents of The Hague and the naturalized Germans of Rotterdam are strongly pro-German. Never was the political dividing line between the classes, and the masses in Holland so sharp.

KILMUIR NOTES

Kilmuir, until very recently, has been recognized only as an ordinary country school district or settlement, where nothing out of the ordinary routine of country life was transpiring and consequently little heed was paid to, or notice taken of its development as a progressive agricultural centre.

The fact of the matter, however, is that during the past few years there has been more business transacted within its borders than in most any other inland country centre in P. E. Island.

Here is found located one of the largest and most up-to-date country stores one could wish for where the farmer can find a ready market for almost any commodity which he has to dispose of, and at the same time avail himself of the opportunity of securing at reasonable prices any desirable quantity of the necessities or luxuries of life. This is a great boon to any agricultural locality and from observation it would seem as if the residents were availing themselves generously of the opportunities thus afforded.

Here also is located a modern, up-to-the-minute haberdashery where the sporty youth in his early teens, in company with his more modest compatriot of maturer wisdom may invest in garments natty or serviceable as the case requires, and few there be if any, who does not feel, upon leaving this centre of fashion that solomon in all his glory was not arranged like a customer who is the finished product of this general wizard of the needle.

Agencies for farming implements etc., are well represented to the most conspicuous being the energetic and "wide-awake" representative of the I. C. whose peregrinations throughout the numerous tillers of the soil, whose interests are thereby being directed towards the advisability of more intensive farming on a more extensive scale. It is hoped that his efforts may be as self remunerative as his energetic would seem to warrant Agricultural results are not at all forgotten as the numerous advocates of improved farming methods and better grade of live stock would indicate. Several of these are endeavouring to practice what they preach, among which is found standing somewhat prominently, Mr. John Cummings who the writer understands largely disposed of his interest in stock last fall and is now building up his herd with cattle of his own choice. Recently he secured possession of a fine specimen of the beef variety from the well known herd of A. A. MacPherson of Brooklyn. The Price paid no doubt was a fancy one. Mr. N. P. McPherson, another enthusiastic live stock dealer is making a name for himself as an admirer of the high grade variety. His inclinations are evidently directed towards dairy stock with milking records and rare is the occasion when one falls to purchase or dispose of such an animal at his well known stables.

The social side of life is not neglected, especially as regards the younger element in the community. Their desires are being generously catered to by lodge parties and various other social entertainments which are of frequent occurrence.

A number of those who are of a sportier frame of mind find real enjoyment in attending the semi-weekly sessions of the C. C. R. D. Society which are held in the Orange Hall, Commercial Cross. No doubt some of the young men are by this time so capable of stepping off the various twists and turns of the modern light fantastic that one would never imagine them hanging around a barnyard in a pair of old brogans, while the nimbleness of foot and graceful ease betrayed by the action of the ladies would court the admiration of even the daughter of an ancient Herod.

Mr. Daniel McRae of the Heatherdale Milling Co., is a frequent visitor to Kilmuir.
