A trial jury last night, for the second time failed to reach a verdict in the case of John (Holman) Gallant of Summerside, charged with conspiracy illegally to distill alcoholic spirits. This case has been proceeding in the Supreme Court at Summerside before Chief Justice T.A. Campbell since Tuesday of last week.

Yesterday morning the jury was addressed by Mr. P.J. Hughes, K. C., for the prosecution and by Mr. J J. Johnston, K.C. for the defense. The whole afternoon was taken up by address of the Chief Justice and at five o'clock the jury withdrew and court adjourned till seven o'clock. The jury returned at seven and asked a question of the court. At 7.10 they again filed in and the foreman reported a disagreement. After that they returned to the jury room four times at the request of the court in an endeavour to come to an agreement. At the conclusion of the address to the jury by the Chief Justice, he asked the jury to consider two questions. First, was there, according to the evidence, an agreement to manufacture illicit spirits, secondly if the answer to the first question was yes, was the accused a party to the agreement.

Counsel for the prosecution were Messrs. P. J. Hughes, K.C., and R S. Hinton and for the defence, Messrs. J.J. Johnston, K.C., J. Watson MacNaught, K. C., and Henry Noonan.—S

Many friends throughout the Province will join in congratulations to Mrs. Thomas Kenny Sr., who celebrated her 90th birthday on April 15th at the home of her daughter Mrs. Frank O'Brien, Morell. Owing to the almost impassable condition of the roads only a small reception could be held which at her request took the form of an old-fashioned "hooking frolic." In the evening a sumptuous supper was served, the chief table decorations being the two beautiful birthday cakes with their load of lighted candles. One cake was the gift of the Sinnott Road Women's Institute and the other of her granddaughter Eileen. Letters messages and gifts came from far and near, from Brooklyn, New Haven, Newark, Long Island and Boston, U. S. A., and from Dundurn, Kingston, Regina, Montreal Vernon and Charlottetown.

From Martin in Ottawa came the following toast—"Here's to woman, a child's first friend, a boy's truest friend and a man's lasting friend, "Our Mother"—God bless her."

Mrs. Kenny enjoyed and took part in it all. This remarkable old lady is in full possession of all her faculties, up to date in all things. Many times during the past winter she has driven to Mass a distance of three miles. Her memory is keen. She can recall when our present money came in to use, when candles were used then lamps and so on to electricity; from the fireplace, with its pot-hooks and backlog to the modern cooking and heating system. From the reaping hook and scythe to the binders. She could tell you all about flax and wool for she herself followed the process from the planting and shearing until it was linen and cloth. Also all the changes in transportation.

She has seen P. E. Island take part in three wars. The first when only two Islanders made the supreme sacrifice. The second when her sons George and Martin went safely through the campaign. To this one in which she has five grandsons, one of whom Flight Lieutenatn Cyril Casey has already made the supreme sacrifice.

She attributes her long life to work—plenty of it, neighborliness and contentment.

Her family of nine are all living also an adopted daughter. She has thirty-three grand children and eighteen great-grand children all of whom with a host of friends, neighbors and acquaintances join in wishing her many more happy birthdays.

LEWIS—WATTS —Snapdragons and other traditional spring flowers formed a decorative background in Trinity United Church Wed. night for the wedding of Vaunda Estelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Watts, Charlottetown, and Ira Chadburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Colby Lewis, Freetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. E. McLennan, pastor of the church. Charming in white taffeta with shoulder length veil and carrying a shower bouquet of red roses, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The bridesmaid, Miss Wilma Watts, sister of the bride, was dressed in petal pink taffeta with matching halo of flowers and net veiling. She carried a nosegay of mixed flowers. Supporting the groom was Edwin Lewis his brother, while the ushers were Messrs George Lewis and Lorne Keizer. During the signing of the register Mr. J. B. Lewis, uncle of the groom sang "O Perfect Love." Professor A. Roy Kendall was at the organ. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Charlottetown Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis left yesterday morning by plane for Montreal and other Canadian cities, the bride travelling in a spray green suit with fur trimmings and brown accessories. On their return they will make their home in York.
