—Sun's Rays Cook Soviet Dinners

TASHKENT, Turkistan, Feb. 20.—(C. P.) The sun's rays, in the semi-tropical region have been harnessed successfully for many useful purposes, thereby realizing one of science's oldest dreams.

Today the waters of an experimental public bath for 70 persons in this town is kept at an even temperature, warm enough for comfortable bathing, by special apparatus which draws energy from the sun's rays. The cost of installing such equipment is said to be about the same amount as would be spent in fuel in one year for heating.

Perhaps the most practical application for solar energy thus far attempted by the Soviet All-Union Helio Institute in Sarmarkand is in cooking. The sun kitchens are heated by steam generated by sun rays. It takes two hours to boil the favorite Russian beet soup known as "bortsch," and meat can be roasted in one hour. The apparatus for reception of the solar energy, which is made partly of celluloid, cost for one kitchen only 30 rubles, which is usually about $15.

Other uses for solar energy are being explored. Next year a sulphur melting plant which requires a temperature of about 250 degrees Fahrenheit will be built in Turkistan. Similar experiments will be made in the operation of automatic water pumps, especially valuable in these arid regions for irrigation and in drying of fish and fruits.

IN MEMORIAM

JOHN A. McDONALD

There passed away on Tuesday morning, Feb. 19th, one of the most widely known and respected citizens of the Beifast, P. E. I. district in the person of John A. McDonald, P.M.E. The deceased was in the seventy-sixth year of his age, and although he had been in indifferent health the last few years the end came quite suddenly, to the sorrow of his many friends and acquaintances to whom he will always be remembered as a most just and upright man, and whose death is a distinct loss to the community. In his younger days Mr. McDonald was a seafaring man, who held the certificate of captain, visited many foreign lands. He was an elder of St. John's Presbyterian Church and active in his religious circle.

There are left to mourn, besides the widow, whose name was Miss Katie McDonald before marriage three sons and a daughter, Mrs. D. Cantello, Flat River; the sons are John A. still on the home farm Norman and Dan, both in Halifax. There are also at least three brothers of the deceased living; one of whom is in Australia, and two in Minnesota. Mr. McDonald's first wife who was Mary Ann Ross, predeceased him many years ago. There was a large and representative gathering at the Presbyterian church on Friday afternoon where the burial service was held, following a brief ceremony at the home. The pastor, Rev. D. L. Griffiths officiated and during his address referred to the faithfulness of the departed in his sphere of Christian labor. Appropriate hymns of Christian hope were led by the choir. The pall bearers were Messrs. J. McDonald, T. W. Morrison, Richard McRae, W. H. McInnis, William Ross and Dan Ross. After the committal service at the grave, members of local Orange Fraternity, of Piquette, who were a member, carried out the impressive ritual of the order.

MRS. JAMES DALTON

With feelings of sadness we chronicle the death of Mrs. James Dalton, of Fort Augustus. Although attended by skilful physicians, Dr. Martin and Dr. Farmer, of Mount Stewart, and nursed by Miss Mae McDonald, of Piquette, they could not withstand the hand of death nor the Will of God.

On February 9th, she passed peacefully away to her eternal reward and was visited by her pastor, Rev. Fr. Croken, who administered the last rites of Holy Mother Church of which she was a devoted member.

Mrs. Dalton was a kind-hearted Christian mother and wife. Born in Kelly's Cross, May 2, 1870, she moved to Middleton, where she lived with her parents, the late Hugh and Mrs. Campbell, whom she cared for and nursed until their death. In July of 1905, she married James Dalton, of Fort Augustus, moving there as a bride and where she remained until death.

The kindness and sympathy shown to her during her sickness and death by neighbors of Fort Augustus, are ample proof of the high esteem in which she was held. She leaves to mourn a sorrowing husband and one daughter, Sister Catherine Bets, of St. Paul, Minn.; three step-daughters, also survive, Miss Anna Dalton, Mrs. Richard Noonan, New York; Mrs. John Montgomery, Canadian West; one step-son, Thomas Dalton, Fort Augustus, and one adopted son, George Fraser; one brother, Thomas Campbell, Middleton, and one sister, Mrs. Annas Murray, Albany, also survive, all of whom have the sincere sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

The funeral on Monday to St. Patrick's Church, Fort Augustus, was largely attended. Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Croken, who also performed the sad rites at the grave. The pall bearers were: Messrs. John Hughes, William Hughes, Patrick Kelly, John Charles Kelly, William Holland, John Jay. May her soul rest in peace.

MR. GEORGE W. MUTCH

The death of George William Mutch occurred at Keppoch, Jan. 19, in the 74th year of his age. The late Mr. Mutch had always enjoyed excellent health and on Monday between 12 and 1 o'clock while returning from Charlottetown with a load he was thrown from his sleigh in a pitch and instantly killed, within a short distance of his home. Opposition Forces Woman Preacher To Resign Post

(C. P. Cable by Guardian's Special Wire)

GLASGOW, Scotland, Feb. 19.—The first woman to be appointed Minister of a Scotch Church resigned today because of "deep opposition and active hostility" among a section of her congregation. The woman, Rev. Vera M. Pindley, minister of Patrick Congregational Church, was married early last year to Colin Kenmore and gave birth last Dec. 3 to a child, an event which aroused opposition to her continuance in office.

Her resignation was revealed in a letter read by the Secretary of the Church, following the baptism of her baby. In the letter Mrs. Kenmore said the opposition to her prevented her continuing a successful ministry and added she still hoped to preach elsewhere.

Test Shipment B. C. Apples To Great Britain

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) MONTREAL, Feb. 19.—A test shipment of 10 cars of British Columbia apples left here today for Halifax and Saint John from which portions to the United Kingdom will be shipped the bulk of the Canadian apple crop.

This test shipment marks the beginning of a development in a new winter overseas export traffic through the Dominion's Atlantic ports. Dominion Government experts as well as several representative grower organizations traveling with the cars all the way from British Columbia to test the reaction of the apples to different climatic conditions, special thermometers have been installed both outside and inside the cars with the idea of maintaining car temperatures at the same level as cold storage warehouses.

As transportation at eastern Canadian terminals presents one difficulty as regards a steady and continuous temperature, the test shipment is being watched with considerable interest. Possibilities of the traffic growing to sizeable proportions will lead to increased activity in the export trade, it is said, provided, of course, the test shipment lives up to the high hopes which have been placed in it.

TRIESTE NAZI OUTLAWED

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

TRIESTE, Italy, Feb. 19.—Italian authorities ordered the dissolution tonight of the Trieste National Socialist (Nazi) organization, composed mostly of Austrians, following the discovery of hundreds of pistols and tear gas and smoke bombs, and the arrest of one German and two Austrians.

They were seized at the dock of Trieste, a free port, following the detention of the foreigners by port police.

An official announcement said the detentions were effected yesterday as the result of "suspicious actions" by the foreigners.

Two valises in their possession were found to contain bombs, and subsequent investigations led to the discovery of 310 bombs and a quantity of printed propaganda directed against the Austrian Government.
