Conditions in North China Irretrievable.

MILLIONS SACRIFICED

Contented that China's the Injured Party if Christendom only knew.

NEW YORK, May 10, 1901.—The Tribune has a special from Washington saying:—

The latest mail from China has brought to the state department new proofs of the terrible, and perhaps irretrievable, conditions that exist under the foreign military rule in north China, involving a situation not hitherto fully realized, even in Washington, and utterly unappreciated in the United States generally. The character of the information that has now come into the administration's possession is summarized in the following extracts from a communication written by one of the most trusted officials in the service abroad, and mailed from Peking a month ago.

The question of raising the indemnity although one of the most serious for the Chinese government, is not paramount. All the people who are likely to know declare that the Chinese peasant can stand no greater burden of taxation than in the past; so the question resolves itself largely into reducing the expense of collection, which in China involves radical reforms. Another proposition for meeting the indemnity is to grant lucrative mining and industrial concessions to foreigners, but that means bartering their independence and laying up endless trouble for the Chinese, who are quick to recognize the fact.

If the whole horror of the murder and pillage done between Tientsin and Peking comes to be understood in the United States and in Europe, the sum of it is so great as compared to the number of Christians who have suffered at the hands of the Chinese, that, rightly or wrongly, the Chinese are likely to be held the injured party. Lancers wantonly impaling little children by the wayside in the streets of Peking is one of the least of the well authenticated horrors, and to some foreign soldiers a dead Chinese Christian is just as satisfactory an evidence of no quarter as a dead Boer—they neither know nor care for such trifling distinctions.

The allies, even if they could agree could not set up an administrative machinery of their own for the empire. They must restore the power to some native party, and the more quickly they do it, the better for China.

The Chinese estimate is that 1,000,000 of their people have lost their lives by violent deaths or starvation about Peking and Tientsin since the allies came, and well-informed foreigners long resident here do not regard the estimate as exaggerated.

The North China News of March 28, endeavoring to tell why such a situation as the one alleged could exist, said:

"Simply because Chinese civil authority has been suppressed, harried and driven away, and nothing substituted for it. The country between the sea and Peking has been devastated and the people have been killed indiscriminately or driven out of their homes to become bandits. We should have thought that one of the first acts of the foreign administration, after Peking was delivered, would have been to strengthen the Chinese civil authority and make it responsible for the preservation of order. But what magistrate, can be expected to remain at his post and exert himself to put down opposition to foreigners when at any moment a foreign lieutenant with a handful of troops may come to him and demand a sum of money on pain of having his town or village burned down in case of refusal?"

ASSIST NATURE.

You have been told to "hitch your wagon to a star"—that Nature will assist you. That's all right. There are times, however, when you should assist Nature and the springs: one of these times.

Nature is now undertaking to cleanse your system—if you take Hood's Sarsaparilla the undertaking will be successful and your complexion bright and clear.
