Beware!

This EPIDEMIC of Grippy Colds Coughs

MUST BE FOUGHT FROM THE FIRST SNEEZE—AND HERE IS AN EFFECTIVE WAY TO DO IT

During the present epidemic of fast-spreading, grippy colds, don't let a cough, sneeze, ache or shiver go unchecked. At the very first sign take Buckley's Cinnamated Capsules and Buckley's Mixture. This double treatment acts fast. Buckley's Mixture eases the cough almost instantly and helps correct the cause. Buckley's Cinnamated Capsules give you the benefit of not ONE but FOUR pain-relieving, cold-dispelling ingredients. The first ingredient relieves aches, pains and feverishness FAST. The second prolongs that relief. The third gives you the lift you need. The fourth—Oil of Cinnamon—is grand for grippe and similar maladies. Be prepared. Get these two dependable Buckley remedies NOW. If feverishness persists call your doctor.

We hope to be able to supply our Fertilizer Customers with their reasonable requirements. Our being able to manufacture after the fire of October 10th which completely destroyed our Factory and Machinery was made possible by the efforts of Premier Jones and his colleagues, who procured for us the use of Hangars at the Airport near Charlottetown.

Deliveries will be made from this Airport and from Summerside where the Summerside Fertilizer Company kindly consented to manufacture some for us. We can now deliver from Charlottetown 4-8-10-1M and Superphosphate, and from Summerside 3-15-6, 4-8-10-1M, 5-10-10-1M and Superphosphate. Other mixed Fertilizers will not be available before April. Nitrogen-supplying materials and Potash are at present in short supply resulting in the time of delivery being uncertain.

Prices Ex Factory in Paper Bags, and subject to change without notice are:

	Per Ton		Per Ton
Ammonium Nitrate	$60.10	3-15-6	$36.30
Cyanamid	48.30	3-15-6-3B	39.30
Sulphate of Ammonia	44.50	4-8-10	33.90
Superphosphate 20%	27.50	4-8-10-1M	34.90
Muriate of Potash 60%	51.40	5-10-10	37.90
		5-10-10-1M	38.90

FERTILIZER FACTS

In the following table we make an endeavour to show the plant food content of various Mixed Fertilizers, commonly offered for sale in this Province, and to indicate the relation in quantities of the materials from which they are made.

Formula	Units Plant Food in one ton	Price per ton ex our Factory	Pounds Materials That Will Make One Ton: Sulphate of Ammonia 20%	Super-Phosphate 20%	Muriate of Potash 60%	Other Materials sometimes called Filler	Total Pounds
2-12-6	20	$31.20	200	1200	200	400	2000
3-15-6	24	36.30	300	1500	200	None	2000
4-8-10	22	33.90	400	800	334	466	2000
5-10-10	25	37.90	500	1000	334	166	2000

In the above table Sulphate of Ammonia is shown as the only source of Nitrogen. In factory practice Cyanamid and Ammonium Nitrate are used in addition. These aggravate further the filler situation. When Borax or Magnesium is used the quantity of filler is slightly reduced.

2-12-6 and 3-15-6 are largely used for similar crops—Grain, Hay, Turnips and Pastures. The latter contains more plant food and less "other materials", resulting in a lower cost per unit for the plant food.

4-8-10 and 5-10-10 are largely used for Potatoes. The latter contains more plant food and less "other materials," resulting in a lower cost per unit for the plant food.

"Other Materials" is usually Limestone, Sand, or a mixture of both. There is a limit to the quantity of Limestone that can be safely added to Mixed Fertilizers.

Longaphie-Lawlor Wedding

A very pretty wedding took place at the church of the Most Holy Redeemer, February 18th when Mary Teresa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lawlor of this City was united in marriage to Louis James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Longaphie. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Mann, C.S.S.R.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Lieut. Ray Lawlor. She looked very charming in a floor-length gown of white satin with finger-tip veil and carried a bouquet of American Beauty Roses. The bride was attended by Miss Bernice Haughey, R.N., who wore a floor-length gown of pink net over satin with shoulder-length veil. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

The groom was attended by Mr. Ivan Trainor.

The wedding march was played by Mr. Alex McLean as the bridal party entered the church. Appropiate hymns were sung by Miss Etta LeClair.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Queen Hotel to a party of thirty guests.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Lieut. Ray Lawlor and responded to by the groom. Complimentary remarks were made by Mr. Walter Lawlor, Mr. Frank Longaphie and Mr. John Hogan.

After the reception the guests motored to the home of the bride where a very pleasant day was spent after which the happy couple left by plane for Halifax and Dartmouth.

The bride travelled in a grey wool suit with matching accessories.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pair of gold rosarys, to the bridesmaid a plastic purse and to the groomsman a leather wallet.

They will reside in Trenton, Ontario, where the groom is stationed with the R.C.A.F.

The WEEK at S. D. U.

Pleath excude us if you cad udderthand wod we are tryig to say, bud we have a awfu code. Quite a few of the fellows have been confined to their beds but we have been assurd by Dr. Green that the epidemic will not reach the proportions of the one in 1946. Why he remembers back then when he had .....But who wants to listen to Green; except Green.

The Saints have played three hockey games since last bulletin so first of all we'll have a short report from the sports department.

In the intercollegiate series, Saints lost their home game with St. Thomas by a score of 6-4, but won the N.B.-P.E.I. Intercollegiate title by a total score of 13-10. Saints now meet the Nova Scotia champions, St. F.X., for the Maritime crown. The game will be played in Truro at a date not yet decided.

Saints dropped their sudden death game with the Legion for the City League leadership by a count of 11-7. Both teams fought hard all the way, making it one of the best games we have seen this season. The Legion just seemed to get the breaks when they counted. Congratulations to the Legion on their win and we'll be seeing you in the finals.

The first game of the semi-finals with the Navy ended in a 6-6 tie. The game was very slow and attendance was the smallest this year. The two remaining games in this series will be played next week.

In their games with the Navy and St. Thomas, Saints played without the services of five of their regulars, who are down with the flu. The team should be at full strength next week though and then we shall see, as the optician said when he lifted his glass...es.

The intramural schedule has been completed and semi-finals get under way tomorrow. Sophomores, league leaders, are playing off with Grade X, while Freshmen will come to blows with Grade XII, who held down second place in the league.

The ice is holding out fairly well considering the weather we have been having during the last few days. "Oh, its not so warm. Why I remember back in...." Art! Please.

Friday, Feb. 7th., is Philosophers' Day at S.D.U. This is a tradition as old as the college itself. Philosophers will begin the day by assisting at a High Mass in the chapel. Later in the morning there is a hockey game between the Junior and Senior Philosophers. Then in the afternoon a banquet in honor of St. Thomas Aquinas is held at the Charlottetown. It is a great day for the Philosophers, but we'll have more on that next week. "Yes. Well do I recall my first banquet. It was when I....." Richard! Shut the door.

The debating teams are now in high gear getting set for the supreme test. By next week we should have the results on all debates. The debate in Charlottetown, against Acadia, will be held on Monday, Feb. 10th. at Queen Square Hall. You are cordially invited to attend. "Debating. Ah yes. When I was down in Sydn...." 1, 2, 3, 4, ...

Rev. J.P. O'Hanley, our Latin professor, has unfortunately been stricken with the flu and is now in hospital. We all wish him a speedy recovery.

Well, we have to go to town now. Our shift in front of the five and ten is from four to five this week. Guess we better go. "I remember one Thursday I was standing in front of the five and ..... No. No. 1....." BANG! Requiescat.

Mr. Bevin on Britain's Foreign Policy

was being discussed."

Mr. Bevin said that eventually proposals came from the U.S.A. for the fusion of zones. The object was that by 1949 the common policy of the United Kingdom and the U. S. A. would have reached a point where, without endangering security, the liability on them would have been ended and a beginning have been made to repay what they have had to pour in. The two countries have had to keep in mind that Germany should not be divided in half, or Europe divided in half. They had made it clear that it was open to the other two powers to join in if they make a fair contribution to the cost of running Germany as a whole.

"For the future conference, the Cabinent have firmly laid down that our objective remains to seek economic unity. Failing to obtain this objective in Moscow, we would do nothing to increase our liabilities or to saddle the taxpayer of this country. I do not for one moment think we should go to Moscow for this meeting and make a treaty with Germany. What we have got to do is to take the necessary steps to provide the next stage towards that end. It is perfectly obvious that every step you take, you are building up what the ultimate treaty is bound to be. Whatever may be done, it must not increase the cost to the taxpayer of this country.

"One problem we shall have to consider urgently is the question of frontiers". Mr. Bevin said that territorial claims had been made by France, Poland, Chechoslovakia, Belgium, Holland and Luxemburg, and Britain had had so much transfer of population, being such a liability on her in her zone, that if any transfer of territory be agreed, she could not undertake any more of this business.

Turning to Russia, Mr. Bevin said that the Soviet Government was now interesting itself in a suggestion he made a year ago that the Anglo-Soviet Treaty of Alliance should be prolonged. The misunderstanding about a sentence in his broadcast of December 22nd brought to his notice by Pravda had been cleared up and it was now agreed it would be a good thing to get rid of the out-of-date features of the Treaty. M. Stalin had been asked which points he considered out of date. He had given this information and the United Kingdom Government's proposals would shortly be put before the Soviet Government. Mr. Bevin was glad that there was a desire to prolong the alliance on a basis of close and cordial relations between the two countries.

Mr. Bevin went on that satisfactory progress was being made in negotiations with France regarding an Alliance, and he hoped that they would be successfully concluded in the near future.

Mr. Bevin said "His Majesty's Government is still anxious to secure the conclusion of a Four Power Pact between the U.S.A., the Soviet Union, France and ourselves proposed by Mr. Byrnes for the purpose of preventing a recurrence of aggression in Europe. The matter will be on the agenda at Moscow and will have to be discussed. It is a great thing that the U.S.A. have taken this vital interest in the preservation of peace in Europe. While there, may have been some misunderstanding over the matter debated in the House two days ago, this is a matter which stands by itself. On all questions our relations with the U.S.A. are of the most cordial character, and we for our part will not allow any wedge to be driven between the two countries to disturb our friendship".

Referring to Egypt, Mr. Bevin said that he was quite willing to continue an exchange of views with the Egyptian Government and thereby try to resolve this question. "In our view the treaty of 1936 saved Egypt and prevented a great disaster for us all, but we are willing to modernize the treaty and substitute one of allied friendship in place of occupation."

Dealing with disarmament Mr. Bevin said the basis of any satisfactory scheme must be the firm establishment of collective security, so that no one country would be left to hold the enemy for a considerable time while others were considering whether they would come to their assistance or not.

In China the troubles were largely due to civil war. Civil wars and wars of nerves could easily prove to be a contributing factor to the danger of general war. Great states may take different sides, and this is a dangerous weapon to play with from the point of view of world peace. Everyone ought to do all in their power to bring it to an end for the sake not only of the country concerned but for the peace of the world.

Mr. Bevin continued "I hope the country will not expect too much from us at the Moscow conference. We have terrific difficulties to face. There has never been another situation like it so widespread, involving the whole planet almost as this struggle did, and accompanied by probably the greatest economic disturbance the world has ever seen".
