ZION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Rev. M. Scott Fulton, the pastor, occupied the pulpit in the forenoon. The sermon was on "Life's Wonderful Secrets". The text taken was Proverbs XXV—2 "It is the glory of God to conceal a thing; but the honour of Kings is to search out a matter," etc. This is an age of research—No part of the economy of nature is passed by—Scientists are engaged in many countries studying out the problems of life, and looking for new aids to our comforts, when a source of supply will be giving us anxieties lest it should become exhausted as anticipated, and in another of nature's storehouses—The sources of supply have been concealed for ages and no doubt new sources will be revealed in the future perhaps of greater value than these we have.

The choir attendance was good—Mr. McNutt being the organist.

er and teacher, and the hospital represents him as healer, as the church represents him as teacher. And Jesus was the friend and teacher of children. He said "suffer the little children to come unto me", and addressed his most terrible denunciation to those who would betray a child. Our orphanages represent Christ in his compassion for little children. We belong to the Church and the State, but beside these great institutions are two others that are carrying on the ministry of Christ in imparting the truth and ministering to the needy.

There are the Bible Society and the Red Cross Society. Our Roman Catholic brethren have their hospitals and orphanages and other institutions of mercy in which they are carrying on a great work, and we Protestants should think of our Hospital and Orphanages and give them our support.

In the evening Rev. W.M. Ryan preached on our responsibility and how it is measured, his text being, "Unto whomsoever much is given of him, shall much be required." In the absence of Prof. Fletcher owing to indisposition, Mr. G.F. Hutcheson acted as organist at both services. The special music in the morning consisted of the anthem, "Praise: Lord Jesus" (Battiste). In the evening Mr. T. W. Bentley sang, "The Ninety and Nine" and the choir rendered the anthem "The Lord is My Shepherd", composed by Rev. G. I. Foster, formerly of Charlottetown.

IN MEMORIAM

GLEN C. MACQUARRIE

The funeral of the late Glen C. MacQuarrie took place at Victoria yesterday and was largely attended. The Rev. Mr. Se of the United Church took the service at the house and the Masonic order conducted the service at the grave. A large number of returned members at the funeral including about fifteen from Charlottetown. The officials of the Canadian Legion placed a wreath of poppies on the casket in memory of and in respect of their late comrade-in-arms.

The late Mr. MacQuarrie enlisted in the 10th Battalion on 6th October 1915 and on 28th November 1916 was transferred to the 13th Montreal Highland Battalion for service in France, where he was twice wounded, and from which wounds he never recovered. Thus the Great War has claimed another Island boy at an early age.

PERSONALS

Hon. John H. Bell, ex-Premier of P. E. Island, looking extremely hale and hearty, has returned to Summerside, after spending the fall and winter months in the Canadian and American West and on the Pacific Coast.

Still Serving

A very attractive poster bearing the slogan "Still Serving" has recently made its appearance on sign boards on Elm Ave., Kent St. and in the interests of the National Red Cross Campaign for funds.

Look one moment at the poster! The Nurse stands—floating behind her is the Union Jack, in the hand she bears aloft the Red Cross banner. Almost we seem to hear her say, "Endless" triumph of Peace shall have produced a National record of public health in Canada, which like our country extends from sea to sea.

It is a surprise for most people to learn that the Red Cross has a story to tell of "active service" in Canada today hardly less thrilling than its record in the long years of war service. Day by day, here, in our own country, in our own province, and for our own people, the Red Cross is taking part in the great campaign against disease and suffering, striving to bring the happiness of good health to young and old in all parts of the Dominion. Thousands of our Island children have been benefited by the Red Cross school inspections and health teaching, and many babies are growing up strong and sturdier children because of the advice about their care given to the mothers by the Red Cross Nurses.

So the Red Cross is "Still Serving" by rendering the very worthwhile service of bringing health and happiness to our people. To-day this and the Society calls upon the generous support of all the people, in the Island Campaign which will commence June 8th.
