A SPLENDID SUCCESS.—The annual tea and bazaar under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of St. James Church held yesterday was one of the largest for some years and the proceeds were entirely satisfactory. The hall was appropriately decorated while the fancy and refreshment tables were a delight to behold and everything was quickly bought at prices that seemed satisfactory. The tea tables were lavishly supplied with an abundance of cake, pastries and other delicacies, well and quickly served. The ladies were warmly congratulated on the success of the entire tea and bazaar.

ROTARY LUNCHEON.—The regular weekly luncheon at the Davies Hotel yesterday was a decidedly enjoyable affair. Rotarians J. A. Webster and James Bayer comprised the entertaining committee for the week and the succeeded in getting together a very entertaining bill of fare in that line. They compelled twelve of the brethren to relate their autobiographies—twelve minutes being the time limit to each speaker. The tales of early woes and hard knocks with fortune ere the ladder of success was finally scaled were very touching indeed. Bombardier Edgar McNis, the soldier poet of Prince Edward Island created a most favorable impression in the recitation of one of his excellent poems "The Guns" so much so that he was compelled to favor them with another which was also much appreciated. Rev. R. G. Fulton gave a six-minute sermonette on the spirit of Easter. He said it means the spirit of hope and the consummation of hope—The Resurrection—typifies the power of the spiritual to conquer the physical. Mr. Fulton said that the idea that Christianity was distinctly a spiritual force and had nothing to do with the temporal powers, was erroneous, because it is through the spiritual we triumph over physical antagonism. It is through the exercise of our intellectual and our spiritual energies that we reach the goal of success.
