Geologists are still hopeful of satisfactory results being reached in this province, and although no definite announcement has yet been made, the renewal of this lease to Mr. MacKay may again be resumed. THE HALIFAX HERALD SAYS: "With the compliments of The Charlottetown Guardian, we have received a brochure entitled "The Golden Future," setting forth the attractiveness of Prince Edward Island. "The spirit of optimism which characterizes this publicity publication is particularly commendable, and the fact that one of the provinces of Canada, in the face of a world-wide depression, is singing a song of faith and confidence, is a good indication that this Dominion has yet many things for which to be thankful. "Prince Edward Island, pre-eminently a farming district, has led the way in many branches of progressive farming, and also in co-operative marketing. The people are, on the whole, exceptionally contented. They invite the rest of the world to share their happiness with them. And the initiative of the Charlottetown Guardian in the publication of this strikingly illustrated little booklet is highly commendable."

MRS. DAVID T. LOWTHER There passed to her eternal rest on Oct. 24, 1930, Henrietta Wadman, beloved wife of David T. Lowther, North Carleton, in the 82nd year of her age. Gold Moving To Canada

Canadian funds continued strong in New York today despite the recent gold shipments, holding steady at a premium of 5-32 percent, or sufficient to warrant profitable shipments of the yellow metal. Tomorrow's shipment will be consigned to the Royal Bank of Canada.

Canada Sound, Savings Show

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—Just now is the anniversary of the melancholy days of a year ago when, with tens of thousands in the stock market, it crashed with calamitous consequences, from which recovery, if any, has been slow. Nevertheless, so far as public savings are concerned, the situation is not at all bad. Considering the huge amounts, the total in the savings branches of the chartered banks of Canada at the last return, though showing a decline is not to the extent that might have been expected. In October a year ago, bank savings deposits were at the peak, aggregating $1,470,045,528. In August of this year—the last month for which returns have been received owing to the time allowed the banks to secure and correct them—total was $1,404,118,280, a decline of roughly, $66,000,000. Considering what happened in the stock market a year ago, and at recurrent intervals since, and also the general trend of business conditions, Canadians, with nearly a billion and a half of saving deposits in cash, are in no unfavorable position. Indications point to the September figures—not yet completed—being something of a betterment over August and the whole is considered a factor reflecting the soundness of fundamental conditions.

Mr. Burnaby Urges Maritime Co-operation

(Canadian Press) TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 30.—The Maritime Province are more prosperous today than any other part of Canada. Mr. R. W. E. Burnaby, Maritime Provinces trade commissioner to Ontario, told members of the Toronto Lions Club at a luncheon here. Upon a foundation of inter-provincial trade the Maritimes had overcome the isolation which had retarded their growth since before Confederation. Mr. Burnaby said. He urged that their trade be increased and as many maritime products as possible bought by the rest of the Dominion. The speaker strongly urged upon the individual the purchase of goods made in Canada. He criticized goods labelled (made in Canada) being shipped in imported boxes and the use of American ports for exporting rather than Canadian. "It is simply appalling," he said, "the amount of goods exported from Canada from ports not in our own country, although the two best all year round open ports on the continent are in Canada." "I believe we, as individuals, have the responsibility in building up our na-

As to concerts and purely musical entertainments, the clergy are permitted to attend these with special dispensation. Disregard of this important order involves ipso facto suspension a divini." In order that nothing may endanger the respect and reverence due officials of the Church, the above decree has been issued by the Archbishop of Santiago. tion by using our own goods. R 101

All England mourns today. For those who went away, And died amid such horrors Upon a foreign shore. They shall always tell the story, How they blazed a trail of glory, Onward to a great achievement Went before. Their hearts had no misgivings Of dangers they were risking, When they entered that great giant of the air. No knowing voice to tell them, Of the danger that befell them, When they crashed to earth in fire, In despair. To loved ones left behind, No soothing words we find, That will lessen so much sorrow Such pain. Think not in consternation, That there's no consolation, For remember all the loved ones, They have not died in vain. Although your hearts are grieving, Not even time relieving, That sorrow which shall ever call anew. Britain ever shall honor them, And others will follow them, Onward to that great achievement To renew. —Beatrice Gallant, 121 Elm Ave. C. T. "She said she lived happily with her husband until their first quarrel. "When was that?" "As they left the church on their wedding day."
