THE ENGAGEMENT of Miss Ida L. McCarville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McCarville of Freetown, to Mr. Franklin R. Orcutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Orcutt of Caventry, Conn., is announced by her parents.

ROTARY CLUB—The Functions and Accomplishments of the Canadian Advisory Committee formed the subject of an interesting address delivered before the Rotary Club yesterday by Rotarian James Norton, past president and past secretary of the Moncton Club and a member of the aforesaid committee. The speaker stressed the functions of the committee in fostering a unified national spirit among Canadians. The programme aims at the promotion of Canadian citizenship and national unity through a study by means of addresses or lectures which will lead to a better acquaintance and understanding between (a) The provinces of Canada; (b) The races in Canada; (c) The rural and urban citizens of Canada. The president, J. A. MacMillan, was in the chair. There was one guest, Mr. S. F. Wilkins, of the C. N. R. The chairman announced that Past District Governor Walter S. Grant, who is in the hospital in Halifax, is making good progress towards recovery.

PRE-NUPITAL-SHOWER A very pleasant social evening was given by Miss "Peggy" Walsh at the beautiful home of Mrs. Levi Ings, 61 Stockton Street, Dorchester, Mass., on the evening of January 11th, in honor of Miss Estelle Macdonald, whose marriage to Mr. Martin W. Macdonald of Cwells, P. E. I. takes place early in March. Miss "Peggy" Walsh and Miss "Kay" Macdonald decorated the house very artistically for the occasion with pink and white flowers. The Bidal Throne was a bower of roses, from which streamers of crepe paper led to various points in the room, while a wedding bell was suspended from the centre of the Bidal Throne. When the guests assembled the bride-to-be after being decoyed to the house to take her music lesson, was ushered to her bower while the wedding march was being played by Miss Florence Ings, where upon Florence Macdonald dressed as a bride, and George Ings dressed as a groom wheeled in a cart, laden with numerous, practical, kitchen gifts, carrying humorous and witty messages to the bride-to-be, which were read by Miss Helen Rogerson. This part of the entertainment was climaxed by pulling the tongue of the wedding bell, when a great shower of confetti fell over Estelle. Delicate refreshments were served in the dining-room, which carried out the color scheme of pink and white while a miniature bride and groom smiled at all from the center of a large vase. Mrs. Ings and Mrs. Malcolm Macdonald (mother of the bride-to-be) cut the loaves. During the evening piano selections were played by Mrs. Ings, whose fame as a skilled musician is well known in Charlottetown, while Miss Florence Ings played and sang in her usual brilliant manner. Estelle Macdonald also showed her skill as a pupil of Mrs. Ings; while little Florence Macdonald charmed everyone with her Scottish dances. Before parting, the guests sang "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" and "Old Lang Syne" and expressed their very best wishes for the future happiness of Estelle.

care of her family and friends till Tuesday, January 21st at the hour of four in the afternoon, she calmly passed away, her peaceful death being a fitting ending to her gentle and unobtrusive life.

Besides her disconsolate husband and mother she leaves to cherish her memory a family of ten children, Eleanor, Tom, Mary, Gertrude, Frances, Joan, Andy, James, Rosa and Mona, and three brothers, Mike in Rustico, Jack in Charlottetown and Andy in New York.

Her funeral took place on Thursday, January 23rd and was attended by a large concourse of people, made up of all classes and creeds, who, despite the adverse condition of the weather, had come to show by their presence their esteem and affection for the deceased. After High Mass in St. Adin's Church her remains were borne to the adjoining cemetery, and there laid to rest with the solemn prayer of the Church mingled with the sobs and tears of her grief-stricken family and friends.

The following were the pall-bearers: Joseph Reid, Thomas Bolger, Leander Reid, Joseph Stewart, James Reid and Leonard Cullen.

The heartfelt sympathy of the community is extended to her family upon whom rests the dark shadow of a triple bereavement.

Eternal rest grant unto her, O Lord!

MRS. JOHN GORMLEY

The following tokens of appreciation were received on the death of Mrs. John Gormley:—

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 10.—Peter Tutin, Danish newspaper man and author, who is on his way to the Canadian Northwest to write a series of stories on Canada for Danish weekly newspapers, arrived here yesterday on the liner Frederick VIII from Oslo and Copenhagen and left at noon on a Canadian National Railway special train carrying passengers from the Frederick VIII and Cunard liner Scythia which also arrived here yesterday. The Scythia which came to Halifax under Canadian National Railways auspices landed 122 passengers and a thousand tons of cargo, including a large shipment of Spanish oranges, at Halifax. The Frederick VIII disembarked two hundred passengers here.

Death loves a shining mark! This was exemplified recently in the passing away of Mrs. Edward Turner, Hope River, and it may be truly said of her, that for many years no death has caused so much genuine sorrow in the community.

Mrs. Turner was formerly Annie Doyle, daughter of Mrs. and the late Thomas Doyle of Rustico. She was born in Rustico thirty-nine years ago, and received her education in the Convent at that place. Since her marriage sixteen years ago, she resided in Hope River where she won the love and esteem of all who made her acquaintance. She was a person of genial and gentle disposition, devoted to her home, and family, and a living example of Christian motherhood.

Almost constantly at the bedside of her father during his illness and death the latter part of November, she and her only sister, Mrs. A. Henderson, Union Road, who predeceased her by five days, contracted typhoid fever. This with other complications proved too much for her strength in spite of all that medical skill, careful nursing and loving friends could do. During the long weeks of her illness she bore her sufferings bravely and in a spirit of resignation that edified all those who were admitted to her bedside. No complaint ever passed her lips. Even in moments of the greatest pain she never murmured but met the attentions of her nurse and those who waited on her with a patient smile or a whispered word of thankfulness. Thus with a prayer on her lips she trod the royal road of suffering, comforted by the rites of the Holy Catholic Church administered by her beloved pastor, Rev. W. V. MacDonald, D. D., and cheered by the unremitting care of her family and friends till Tuesday, January 21st at the hour of four in the afternoon, she calmly passed away, her peaceful death being a fitting ending to her gentle and unobtrusive life.

Besides her disconsolate husband and mother she leaves to cherish her memory a family of ten children, Eleanor, Tom, Mary, Gertrude, Frances, Joan, Andy, James, Rosa and Mona, and three brothers, Mike in Rustico, Jack in Charlottetown and Andy in New York.

Advertisement for Philco Screen Grid Plus radio. Features include: Hear The Great New PHILCO SCREEN GRID PLUS! A super-radio for people who want super-performance. Five entirely new and important features make this the supreme achievement in radio. Here they are: (1) Automatic volume control and anti-fading device. (2) Entirely new circuit, which incorporates among other important improvements, two tuned circuits between aerial and first screen grid tube, resulting automatic reduction of background noises, including static (and of course no hum). (3) New and literally enormous power making it easy to get distant stations even in daytime. (4) New Super-sharp selectivity over the entire dial, accomplished by the two tuned circuits between the aerial and the first screen grid tube and a four-gang armoured condenser—makes this Philco an unusual distance getter. (5) Almost auditorium volume without tone distortion. Made possible by the new Philco multiplex detector circuit, the first absolutely linear detector circuit ever produced in any radio. In addition—and in common with the famous Philco Neutrodyne Plus and the Philco Screen Grid, these important features: (6) Wonderfully true, rich tone—entirely free from distortion—through Philco's unique super-exact balancing of electrical units. (7) Exceedingly handsome cabinets and unusual value at all prices. (8) Extreme simplicity of operation. Both Philco Screen Grid plus and Philco Neutrodyne Plus include built-in aerials for use where an external aerial is inconvenient. ALSO PHILCO SCREEN GRID. Combines the great advantages of Screen Grid with those of the Balanced Unit principle—super balancing of all electrical units, achieved exclusively by Philco engineering. New Console Cabinet (Illustrated on page 1182), Lowboy $189.00, Highboy $199.00, Highboy De Luxe $280.00 (Tubes extra). AND PHILCO NEUTRODYNE PLUS. With this set, in favorable locations, cross continental reception is not uncommon, and British Columbia owners have even got Japan. IMPERIAL COD OIL AND DOG BISCUIT. Their Choice A BALANCED RATION. "NOT BY MEAT ALONE" Leading fox ranchers have demonstrated that, in addition to meat, it is absolutely necessary to feed a liberal supply of IMPERIAL BISCUITS daily during the winter season, in order to keep the bowels regular, and also to ensure the females having an adequate supply of milk during the lactation period. IMPERIAL COD OIL BISCUITS are made from a formula which has been prepared with these results in view and which reliable tests, extending over a considerable term of years, have proved to be signally successful. Ranches, which have continued the feeding of IMPERIALS regularly in winter, have had the largest litters of young foxes and also the highest average of pups raised to maturity; in addition, they have practically eliminated the destroying of young by the females. For assured results feed IMPERIALS throughout all the winter season. IMPERIALS are sold by leading distributors or direct from the factory. Imperial Biscuit Co. Ltd.
