IN MEMORIAM

MRS. JOHN COYLE

Many friends and relatives in this city and throughout this province and beyond will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. John Coyle which occurred at the home of her son, Frank L., 68 Great George St., on April 4th, at the age of 71 years.

The late Mrs. Coyle, whose maiden name was Ellen Clarkin, was born in Iowa, in 1866, the daughter of the late John Clarkin and Mrs. Clarkin. She removed to this city with her parents when a young girl and is the last of that family, long identified with the mercantile life of this city, her two brothers, the late Peter and Patrick Clarkin, under the name of Clarkin Brothers, carried on a large coal business. An older brother, Owen, and an only sister, Miss Margaret, predeceased her.

Early in life she had to bear the irreparable loss of a loving husband and father of a large family, and to her then was given the task of caring for and educating them. This she successfully accomplished and it is a loving tribute to her memory.

The late Mrs. Coyle was a deeply religious woman, taking an active part in Church work. She was a faithful member of St. Joseph's Sodality, being its oldest member at the time of her death. Always of a kind and loving disposition she was loved by all who knew her, as she was ever ready to help those in time of need and illness.

During her lengthy illness she was faithfully attended to by the Rev. Louis Dougan of the Basilica staff and died fortified by the last rites of the Catholic Church of which she was a devoted member. She leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother, three daughters and five sons, Mrs. Wilfred Doucette, city; Mrs. Matthew C. Lord and Miss Katherine G., of Cambridge, Mass.; John, Joseph, Wilfred W., Frank L., and Peter, all of this city.

Her funeral which was largely attended took place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock to St. Dunstan's Basilica, where the Requiem High Mass was celebrated by the Rev. E. L. Murray, thence to the R.C. cemetery where services were conducted by Rev. Dr. McMahon. The pall bearers were Messrs. Wm. A. Scott, James Bradley, T. L. Smith, Thomas Power, John A. Griffin, and James Lappin.

Hunter River And Vicinity

The citizens of this community extend sincere sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lang and family of Wheatley River, on the death of a beloved daughter and sister at the early age of 17 years.

Mr. Wilfred Boothroyd, this year's graduate in Theology of Pine Hill College, is spending a few days visiting his parents, Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Boothroyd, prior to taking a mission field for the summer months at Beattie's Mines, Ontario. At the expiration of this time he will return to Dalhousie University to take a medical course. His many friends extend heartiest congratulations to this youthful, ambitious student.

Mr. A. B. Outcliffe returned recently from St. John N. B., where he completed a course in embalming and funeral direction.

Messrs. H. B. Outcliffe and Chester Sellar attended the Allan Cup Semi-Finals at Halifax.

An act deserving of commendation was recently performed by a young man of this community, when an aged lady approached a treacherous wash-out at the intersection of the roads in Hunter River, Village. As the aged pedestrian attempted to cross it appeared to her impossible and thus hesitated through fear of falling. There were many youths as well as adults standing in view of this old lady's position and apparently treated the matter as a joke, but one young man with true red blood flowing through his veins, stepped forward, and gently taking the aged person in his arms carried her safely across, while those who hesitated to help shouted in derision. These little acts of kindness and thoughtfulness are the pillars upon which true manhood is built and through these a vast contribution may be rendered to community welfare.

An interesting debate took place in Hunter River Masonic Hall, before a good audience, on April 5th, with Rev. F. E. Boothroyd in the chair. The subject was: "Resolved that, weighing the merits and demerits of each, Peace has benefited humanity more than War". The Affirmative side was taken by Mr. Gordon Rice, Mr. Fulton Robertson and Dr. R. H. Barrett, while the Negative was sustained by Dr. Harold Mellish, Mr. Ira MacDonald and Mr. Russell McNeill. The judges were Rev. W. G. Quigley, Rev. A. E. Wallis and Mr. Clifford O'Carroll. The Affirmative won. The subject, vital as it was, was discussed in earnest fashion from various angles and careful preparation was evident. Benefit all round should result from such debates, to the principals from their previous study and practice in public speaking, to the audience in important information supplied pro and con, and to the community spirit in a get-together on worthwhile public interests.

The Young People's Society of Hunter River has been given two addresses recently, one by Dr. H. Mellish on "First Aid", and another by Dr. R. H. Barrett on "Dentition". Discussion followed and appreciation was expressed by the large group present on each occasion. It was expected that the talk on "First Aid" would naturally be interesting, and handled as it was in the question and answer method so it proved. But who would think that a talk on "Teeth" could hold a bunch of young people? Dr. Barrett, with his homely charm, however, drew the group alert as he proved the vital importance, from a public standpoint, of proper care being given to what was in everybody's mouth.

WILLIAM JAMES MACNEILL

On Friday, April 8th, 1935, amid the quiet calm of the evening the spirit of William James MacNeill fled the mortal body to be with God who gave it. The deceased who during these last years had not enjoyed very robust health, although he was able to assist in the chores until the last week of his earthly life. As the shadow of death surrounded the home, the entire family was gathered around the bedside, when the deceased passed away, so peacefully and without any pain. The late Mr. MacNeill was the oldest son of the late Alexander MacNeill and wife, Elizabeth Gillespie of Carleton, and had resided in the old homestead at Centreville Bedque, where he was born on June 15th, 1861—and was a prominent farmer. The deceased was a man who was held in high esteem by a wide circle of friends. He was of a quiet and more or less reserved nature so that only those who knew him intimately were able to understand his true worth. He was a member of the Church of Scotland at Cape Traverse. While many in the outside world will miss his genial, somewhat retiring, and yet ever dignified presence, it is in the home that his loss will be felt most keenly. Here his loved ones will often sigh for the touch of a vanished hand and long for the sound of a voice that is still. In spite of all that sighing, that hand does not come back, nor yet in the face of all that longing shall that voice ever be heard again upon the earth. He has gone on forever into that bourne from which no traveller ever returns and believing that he has now passed beyond all suffering, all sorrow and trials, none would be so unkind as to wish "his unbound spirit back into bonds again."

There are left to mourn besides a sorrowing widow (Clara Muggford), two sons, Vernon W. in Dorchester, Mass., Alexander, at home, three daughters, (Mary), Mrs. Frank Jones, Fownall; Miss Bertha MacNeill, R. N., of Dorchester, Mass., and Miss Marguerite MacNeill who has been spending the winter in Dorchester, Mass., also one brother, Martin MacNeill, Boston, Mass., one son, Robert Kerr MacNeill, predeceased him, thirteen years ago.

A short service was held at the late residence, on Sunday afternoon and was very largely attended. Rev. Mr. Archibald of the United Church conducted the service. The favorite hymns of the deceased were sung, "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder" and "Asleep in Jesus". A solo, "The Old Rugged Cross," was rendered by Mr. Thomas Moyse, Central Bedque. The remains were then conveyed to the Church of Scotland, Cape Traverse, where the services were continued, conducted by Rev. Ewen MacDougall of Charlottetown, who spoke words of comfort to the bereaved family. The pall-bearers were—Messrs. Thomas Gillespie, Albert Maybe, Joseph Atfield, Jay Hayes, Duncan Nicholson, and Judson Blackmore. The remains were tenderly laid to rest beside those of his late son, in the adjoining cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Mr. F. L. Bowness, Summerside. (Other Island Papers Please Copy)

DRY THOSE TEARS FOR VICTORIANS

(By The Canadian Press)
MONTREAL, April 15—Young people today tend to waste too much sympathy on the Victorian woman, in the opinion of Mrs. A. R. McBain. This picture her, Mrs. McBain said in an address to the Montreal Women's Club, as "hanging shut in by three thick-nesses of curtain and a heavy father."

Washington, April 15—(Canadian Press)—Fingerprinting is on the road to becoming fashionable, the Federal Bureau of Identification finds. Thousands of civilians are voluntarily adding these 20 identification marks to the files of the record division here. Civilian prints thus volunteered are placed in a special, non-criminal file. They include many hundreds of prints of children, who because of their family's position, are in danger of kidnapping.

WHY BE ONLY HALF WELL?

ENO PEPS UP THE WHOLE SYSTEM
People who are half-well, half-sick most of the time only exist. To really live you must be well. And to be well you should take steps at once to rid yourself of constipation, which causes most human ailments.
Draught purgatives and harsh mineral salts aggravate the condition. Eno's "Fruit Salt" regulates gently and effectively—normally. It tastes good and forms no habit.
If you want to feel like a million, take a dash of Eno's "Fruit Salt" in a glass of water, morning and night, for a few days. No griping, no nausea. Eno refreshes, awakens the stomach. There isn't an atom of harshness or harm in a carload.
