BRANCH SOCIETY

Of the Bible Auxiliary of P. E. Island

FORMED IN TRYON, P.E.I.

An Interesting Meeting Held and Excellent Addresses Given.

A large and representative meeting of Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian denominations of Tryon, met in the Baptist church of that place on Friday evening, Sept. 20th, for the purpose of organizing a branch society of the Bible Auxiliary of P. E. Island. There were on the platform the pastors of the three churches named and Mr. McKelvie who was the principal speaker of the evening. The latter is an agent of the Bible Society of England and his object was to organize a branch society in Tryon. The meeting opened by singing "All hail the Power of Jesus Name" followed by prayer from two of the brethren present. Rev. John Clarke ably fulfilled the duty of chairman and read the 19th Psalm. He then introduced Mr. McKelvie who said he had visited Tryon last autumn to hold a meeting, but on account of the inclemency of the weather, the meeting was not held. Before describing the work of the Bible Society he wished to take the opportunity of saying a few words on a verse of the psalm read: "The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul." As illustration is the best method of preaching and the one adopted by our Lord when on earth he related the following story: "In New York lived a lawyer of great fame, in his profession, but who disbelieved in God and the Bible, and never attended any place of worship. While yet in the vigor of manhood he came to the hour of death, as we must all. He had contracted a disease which proved fatal. The doctors told him he had not much time remaining a week or perhaps a month. Then thought he, if there is anything in religion it is time I was seeing about it. So he went to a minister and asked him for the latest and best book in defense of religion. The minister gave him the bible, and the lawyer asked him if he meant to give him that old book—3000 years old. The lawyer, nevertheless, took the book, and asked where he would begin. The minister told him to begin at the beginning. The lawyer began to read and the first chapters proved interesting, until he came to the giving of the law. Ah, thought the lawyer, here is something in my line, here is the law for the guidance of man, the moral law. Now if I find that this law is perfect, I will believe the whole Bible and on my knees accept Jesus as my Saviour. So he read and studied day after day and found that the law was perfect; that he would not take away or add one word to it without weakening the whole law. So the lawyer not only found that the law was perfect but it converted his soul; and he died happy trusting in the Lord.

He then went on to tell of the beginning of a Society its founding dates back 97 years. In Wales lived a poor but pious family—a husband, wife and daughter. The husband was a cotton spinner, earning but a few pennies and working from sun to sun They lived at a great distance from a place of worship but two miles from them lived a woman who had a Welsh Bible, a great rarity in those days, and she held prayer meetings at her home to which the mother and daughter regularly attended. The daughter though very young expressed her love for Him who forms the centre of that wonderful book, simply by hearing it read and desired to have a copy of it. The mother promised she should have one. Bibles were exceedingly dear at that time, so the mother gave the girl some hens and the profits of their eggs and chickens would go to getting a bible. Even if she had a bible what would be the use of it to her she could not read it there being no schools at that time. God always meets his friends more than half way. A school was started in the neighborhood to which the girl went. The speaker related an interesting story of the starting of this school, and of its first teacher, and founder. The hens had done their part and in the course of six or seven years an amount sufficient to buy the bible was in the hands of the girl and she was also ready to read. Now she had so walk twenty-five miles to buy her bible and when she reached her destination her feet were torn and bleeding. She asked for a Welsh bible, but was told by the minister that he had only a few and they were all promised and he did not know if any more would be written in the Welsh tongue. These words of the minister so affected the girl that she fainted, and when he had restored her to consciousness he with tears in his eyes gave her the book, trusting that he would get another. This incident so moved this minister that he held a meeting in London in order to form a society to procure and distribute bibles to the people and out of this has grown the Bible Society. This society now sends bibles to all parts of the world printed in 373 languages. Last year it sent 5000 bibles away. These are given free if the people are too poor to buy them. The speaker related a story of the good done by one bible that found its way into a home in the Province of Quebec. It resulted shortly after in the conversion of 49 persons two of whom are preachers of the gospel. The book cost forty-five cents that is less than a cent each for their conversion. Where shall the influence of this one bible stop? As pebbles thrown on the water make circles whose circumferences enlarges till they reach the shore so will the influence of this one bible enlarge and increase and only on the evergreen shores of the New Jerusalem will it cease.

Rev. G.F. Dawson was the next speaker. He said he took a great interest in the Bible, this book though old yet always new. He was glad to again meet Mr. McKelvie who he had known while laboring in the Dorchester circuit in New Brunswick and was honored by having the pleasure to entertain him while in Tryon. Mr. McKelvie is now having a vacation and instead of spending to his own pleasure he has come to this Island to organize societies.

Rev. G. Robertson also spoke. He was glad to meet here with his fellow preachers and also glad to meet his fellow Scot and Mr. McKelvie, both being born in the land of the heather. He drew a pleasing contrast between Mr. McKelvie and the great atheist Robert Ingersoll.

He also stated that the Bible was a wonderful book as in it we have philosophy, history, science and great truths presented.

A society was then formed with the following officers:

President.—Boley Howatt (Baptist.)

Treasurer.—Mr. James Morrison, (Presby.)

Secretary.—Mr. John Hudson (Methodist.)

Collectors were also appointed to visit all the houses in their circuit for the purpose of getting money for the society.

Meeting closed by singing the Doxology, Mr. McKelvie pronouncing the benediction.

WONDERS OF THE H[illegible]

All the blood in the human b[illegible] through the heart in [illegible] minutes. The heart beats [illegible] a second, 4200 times an hour, 100,800 times a day, throwing out 2½ ounces of blood a second, 656 lbs. an hour, 7⅞ tons a day. It is only when supplied with pure, rich blood that the heart, an organ 6 inches long by 4 wide can accomplish this enormous amount of work and rebuild its own wasted tissues. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the most effective treatment available for heart affections because it forms new red corpuscles in the blood and gives to it that sustaining quality which is necessary to the health of every organ.

CITY AND COUNTRY

Miss Georgina Pope who was superintendent of Canadian nurses in South Africa, arrived in town yesterday from New York where she had gone for the purpose of meeting some of the distinguished English nurses who have come over to attend the Pan Convention of Nurses at Buffalo. While in New York Miss Pope was the guest of Miss Brennan, lady seperintendent of Bellevue Hospital. Owing to the approaching Royal visit during which Miss Pope is to receive a warmedal, and it is whispered a still greater distinction—from the hands of the Duchess, she was unable to attend the interesting convention at Buffalo, the principal days of which are Friday and Saturday. Among Ottawa nurses who are at Buffalo is Miss Banks, formerly lady superintendent at the General Hospital, Water street.—Ottawa Free Press, Sept. 19.

CLYDE RIVER NOTES.—Mrs. Alex. McNeil returned home after having spent a week visiting her mother, Mrs. McCallum, at Southport.—The residents of this vicinity are about to lose one of their young ladies in the person of Miss Hannah Gillespie who intends leaving shordy for Boston, where she will reside for the winter.—Mrs. Walker and child of Bedeque, are at present visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Artemas Hyde. Her many friends will be sorry to learn that Miss Lizzie Hickox is slowly recovering from her illness.—The Misses Houston of Cavendish are visiting their friends they are the guests of Mrs. D. McLean.—Miss Cassie Scott who has been spending the summer at her old home left on Wednesday for Neponseth, Mass. accompanied by Miss Carrie Murray.—Miss Ada McDougall of Black Point is visiting friends in Clyde River.—The many friends of Mr. Neil McCallum are pleased to see him home again from Cambridge, Mass. where he has been for the past three years.—Mr. John Darrah it now engaged in erecting an addition to his dwelling house.—Mr. John Scott Miller has put a rolling process in his mill.

THE special edition of the Halifax Herald of Saturday last contains in addition to the attractive illustrations a series of special articles which are of value. Among these articles are The First Law makers of P. E. Island; A Poem by C. McL.; Souris and Points East; The Capital of the Garden of the Gulf, with portraits of the Mayor and Councillors, by Mr. Fred. J. Nash, editor of the Patriot; Ecclesiastical Landmarks of Prince Edward Island by Rev. Dr. McMillab; Free Education in P. E. Island by Judge Warburton; Island Agriculture and Horticulture, by Hon. D. Ferguson; The Island Fisheries by W. F. Tidmarsh: The Tourist's Mecca by Inspector McCormack; John Duport, the First Chief Justice by Judge Warburton; The Forest trees of P. I. by Archbishop O'Brien; Crop Prospects in West Prince; Rod and Gun in the Garden of the Gulf by J. S. Morris; the First Settlers of P.E. Island by Dr. Alley; the Athletic Field by Cyrus J. McMillan; Agriculture and Live Stock, by F. G Bovyer; Artistic Homes on the Island, by Judge Fitzgerald; A Chronological Chart of Island History by A. A. Bynon, and other articles, poems etc. It will be seen that scope of the special number is very extensive and the writers are mostly persons of note here and elsewhere. The entire work reflects credit ot the Herald's enterprise and great praise is due to Mr. H. J. McInnis who secured the services of the special writers, supplied much of the information and who supervised the entire work throughout.

BRONCAITIC ATHMA.

Is now easily cured, not by pouring nauseous destructive drugs into the stomach but by inhaling Catarrhozone Drugs do more harm than good, but the soothing, healing medicated air that Catarrhozone supplies to the lungs and bronchial tubes cannot fail to benefit. Catarrhozone prevents those smothering spasms and headache, cures the cough and makes breathing easy. Universally used; doctors recommend it; druggists sell it, 25c and $1.00.
