MR. AND MRS. A. E. GUILD of Boston who are spending the summer on the Island are now visiting Souris where they are having a most enjoyable time. He is delighted with the Island as a summer resort and many will quite agree with him in saying that if this Island were better known we would have many more tourists in the summer season. Mr. Guild is quite an expert at the line and has drawn many a speckled beauty from Island rivers. Mr. Guild is also one of Boston's rising young men and is prominent in real estate and law. We gladly welcome such visitors to our shores.

It is understood that Mr. Spencer has made arrangements for the appearance at the fair of some of the best attractions now available in the United States.—St. John Sun.

J. V. O'DEA, of J. V. O'Dea & Co., wholesale provisions, St. John's, Nfld., who has been in the province for the past week, leaves this morning on a return to his home. This is Mr. O'Dea's first visit to the Island, though he has been dealing in produce for some years and needless to say he is very favorably impressed. In conversation with The Guardian last evening he spoke very favorably of the efforts from this province received in the Ancient Colony and he predicts good prices during the coming fall season. The butter and cheese from P. E. Island takes well in St. John's and is very highly thought of. A large number of cattle come to St. John's on every arrival of the steamers from Montreal calling at Charlottetown and the beef is pronounced by the dealers as excellent in quality. Mr. O'Dea expressed the prevailing feeling of hesitancy as to entering the Canadian Confederation and pointed out that in some ways it would not be best for Newfoundland that she should do so. During his trip here Mr. O'Dea spent several days in Summerside and was very favorable impressed with the farming settlements in that locality. As a result of his visit here he expects a much increased amount of business along the produce line.
