LIONEL BARRYMORE IN "GUILTY HANDS" KAY FRANCIS

A Clever Man May Cheat the Law — But He Can't Fool Fate

"Honeymoon Lane" Sweet, Wholesome

Splendid Cast Supports the Personalities Mr. Dowling — June Collyer, His Sweetie

For a number of years Eddie Dowling has been known as a shad-dow of sweetness and light on the stage at Broadway and points North, South and West of that dramatic-toural focus.

When he made his talkie debut in "The Rainbow Man" about two years ago he carried his personal-ty for wholesomeness of entertain-ment to the screen. He carries on some more in "Honeymoon Lane."

"Honeymoon Lane" is a good show not only because it is sterile of the mundane frigidities of Holly-wood when she lets her hair down. "Honeymoon Lane" is well entertain-ment because it has a workable, believable plot; a group of perform-ers who know how to amuse because they have been successfully doing it for years—and a full proportion of out-and-out, rip-your-vest comedy.

Eddie Dowling wrote "Honeymoon Lane." He wrote it with an eye to pleasing everyone, because he is a master showman. This reviewer does not doubt for a minute that he will make thousands of friends everywhere with the naive pleas-antness of this sweet show.

"Guilty Hands" Novel Mystery Thriller

Lionel Barrymore is featured as the master killer in "Guilty Hands," Bayard Veiller's new mystery drama which opens yesterday at the Prince Edward Theatre as a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer offering.

In this startling murder thriller Barrymore contributes, in the opinion of this reviewer, the best performance he has ever given upon the screen. His characterization of the veteran prosecutor and attorney, facing the necessity of killing a man himself, rises far above the drama-tic heights of all his earlier efforts, even including his personal triumph in "A Free Soul."

This is the most striking story of his kind to come to the attention of the reviewer and certainly the most novel picture to reach the talking screen in many months.

Kay Francis and Madge Evans head the splendid supporting cast. Miss Francis plays the part of Barrimore's feminine nemesis and Miss Evans acting the part of his daughter, paired with William Bakewell in romantic interest. Included in the cast are C. Aubrey Smith, Polly Moran and Alan Mowbray.

ST. ANDREW'S WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The January meeting of the St. Andrew's Women's Institute was held on Tuesday evening, January 5, at the home of Mrs. G. D. MacKenzie with an attendance of seven members and four visitors. The meeting opened with the singing of the Institute Ode followed by the roll call which was answered by "A New Year's Resolu-tion," after which the minutes of the last meeting were read, approved and signed.

The reports of the different committees were given and a letter from Miss Katherine Wyand read and discussed. It was decided that the matter be carried over until a later date.

The programme for the evening, consisting of organ selections by Mrs. Ivan Johnson, a reading by Miss Rita MacIntyre and a dia-logue by Misses Joanna and Mary MacIntyre and Allan MacDonald, was greatly enjoyed by all present. On motion to adjourn the meet-

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION TO PASTOR

As the closing hours of 1931 were passing away, the residents of North Lake and Lakeville met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fraser, the occasion being the night of the Bible Class meeting, which has been held every alter-nate Thursday during the present and past winters and conducted by the pastor of Kingsboro and South Lake churches. When the service was closed, Mr. C. C. Dingwell was called to the chair, and expressed the pleasure and help all had received. The follow-ing program was then carried out. Solo, "Alone" by Mrs. J. H. Baker. Recitation, "John and Jim" by Mrs. Starbird Rose. After an appreciative recitation and a most thoughtful speech by Mr. J. H. Baker, the address as follows accom-panied by a presentation was read to Rev. H. R. Bell.

Dear Pastor: As we come near the close of another year, your friends in this part of the church feel that we would be very remiss if we failed to let you know that we highly appreciate your efforts in ministering to our spiritual welfare, especially at this time we desire to emphasize our thanks for the Bible Class you have conducted here both this season and most part of last winter. Your clear exposition of portions of Scripture from the Old and New Testaments has enlightened us on things that before were somewhat obscure, and has beaut-ified the well understood truths, so dear to all God's people. We realize that all this entails a lot of extra labor and exposure. We hope that you will feel somewhat re-compensed by the fact that your efforts along this line is a great means of bringing Pastor and people into closer relations. We also hope that our attendance and attention has inspired you in your efforts, and that the future may be even more mutually profitable. As an earnest of our appreciation we have pleasure in handing you this envelope, which we ask you to accept together with our best wishes to yourself and family for a happy and successful New Year. Mr. Bell feelingly replied. He said that he enjoyed the work, that it was helpful to himself, and that the address and presentation would be a great stimulus to him in his future labors here.

KENSINGTON

On Thursday evening the C. Y. M. L. met the Kensington Gran-ites in a hockey match to decide the leadership in the Prince Coun-ty Eastern Hockey League. The game was played on very poor ice due to the mildness of the weather, but despite this fact a very good brand of hockey was dis-played. The only counter of the game came in the first period from the stick of Allison Bernard from a face off near the C. Y. M. L. net. C. Y. M. L. tried desperately to even the count but due to the marvellous goal tending of Hickey and the clever blocking of the de-fence, they gained no result from their labours. For C. Y. M. L. besides the smart blocking defence and goal the outstanding player was Reg. Phillips. It was a charm to see him weave his way on heavy ice to be finally stopped by the unbeatable Hickey. For the win-ners there was no outstanding player—the boys preferring to play team-work rather than playing individual hockey.

The following are the line-ups:

NORTH LAKE SCHOOL EXAMINATION

The semi-annual examination of North Lake School was held in the hall on Dec. 22, 1931. The evening was fine and a large number of ratepayers and visitors were present. Miss Matilda St. John, the efficient and popular teacher conducted the examination, as-sisted by Mrs. J. E. Dingwell and Miss Marion McDonald, teacher at East Point school. Out of an enrollment of 28 scholars, 100 per cent were present. The ready response on the part of the pupils showed intelligence which must have been developed by patient and persistent efforts on the part of the teacher. At the conclusion of the examination the audience was treated to the following pro-gram:

HUNTER RIVER AND VICINITY

The latest fall in the price of farm produce here is the slump in price paid for chickens and turkeys. Chickens of the best grade six pounds and over bring only sixteen cents a pound dressed. One farmer here sold chickens over five and a half pounds and realized an average of sixty cents for them. Turkeys have dropped two cents on the bush-el, and only thirteen cents is being paid for them in Hunter River. The buyers report that they can't fill their orders, as farmers are holding back in the hope of prices going up.

Penny, of Nova Scotia at the home of the Pastor, Rev. Brooks of the Dudley Street Baptist Church, Roxbury, Massachusetts. After the ceremony pairs were waiting to take the happy couple and guests to a party at one of Boston's gay night clubs, where a specially prepared wedding supper was served. Mr. "Al" Rogers, of Charlottetown, a visitor in Boston that week, capably acted as master of ceremonies. After spending a few hours of enjoyable music and dancing, the merry crowd returned to Roxbury to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Muttow. ABILITY OF U. S. COLLEGE STUDENTS STIRS CONTRO-VERSY CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 18.—Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University is the latest authority to enter the controver-sy raging over the ability of col-lege students of this country.

Some weeks ago H. L. Mencken, noted writer, in answer to a ques-tionnaire declared the cultural value of United States colleges is zero. He expressed a number of other pessimistic opinions concerning this country's collegians including one that the majority were foot-ball crazy, considered Beethoven a bore and therefore could not be described as civilized.

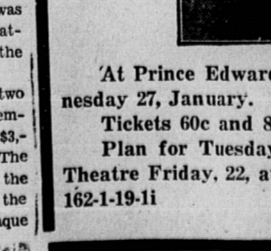

Then Dr. Murray Butler, pres-ident of Columbia University issued a statement which was far from flattering to the college youth of the United States. He said lack of interest in political happenings and public affairs is a marked characteristic among students. He deplored their bad manners and carelessness and inconsiderateness in dress, in speech and in personal habits.

The students get their first bit of praise from Dr. Lowell. And he claims they "appear more mature, not only in scholarship but also in their outside interests and in the sense of proportionate values is the flower of maturity and this in spite of perhaps to some extent because of the fact that they enter a year younger than they did in the early '90's."

A sleigh drive in August, for the enjoyment of Empress Maria Ther-esa, mother of the unfortunate Marie Antoinette, is one of the histor-ic incidents related in connec-tion with the estate at Godollo, Hungary, site of the next year's 5th World Boy Scout Jamboree. IS GOUT HEREDITARY?

"If Father Suffered, Must I?"

Kruschen as a Precaution

Many a man has misgivings about gout merely because his father suffered from it. Such men can take heart from the experiences of others. One son of a gouty father admits that he is not a total abstainer, yet he has already reached the age of 51 without a sign of gout. He thanks a regular daily dose of Kruschen for his freedom: "My father suffered years with gout, and to keep myself free from the terrible complaint I now always take Kruschen Salts every morning and have now had a perfect freedom from constipation for more than twelve months. Although there is a pre-dilection towards gout, I have been able to ward it off so far. Judging by my finger-joints, I should have been having very severe attacks, but there is no sign of any so far as my personal health is concerned."—W. A. H.

Gout is typical of dozens of complaints which science has proved are caused by impure blood. And impurities in the blood-stream are caused by insuffi-cient elimination of waste matter; in a word—constipation, whether slight or serious. Kruschen Salts, by pre-venting constipation, is the one sure remedy for its consequences. Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c. and 75c. per bottle.

Two years ago I commenced taking Kruschen—not in great quantities, but the dose prescribed, each day. I have now had a perfect freedom from constipation for more than twelve months. Although there is a pre-dilection towards gout, I have been able to ward it off so far. Where Deaf and Blind Pair Off

Blind boys and deaf boys pair off for test work in the Scout Troop at the Vancouver School for the Blind and Deaf. The blind boys act as "ears for two" and the deaf Scouts as "eyes." Surprisingly good work is done. Scout games are played, and the boys have greatly ben-efitted in mental outlook.

A Flag From The London Cenotaph

One of the signal honors confer-red upon the Canadian Scout con-tingent at the last world Scout gath-ering in England was the presen-tation of a large white ensign that had flown from the Cenotaph in Whitehall. The flag now has an honored place at Dominion Scout Headquarters, Ottawa.

Chain Letter Threats

A request of Lord Baden-Powell that Scouts everywhere help to end the "chain-letter" nuisance by destroying all such letters coming into their hands, received world-wide newspaper publicity. The Chief Scout declared that none of the usually threatened disasters have befallen him as a consequence of breaking many such "senseless and dangerous" letter chains.

A Chapel In The Wood

At Ebor Park, Ontario's training centre for Scoutmasters, is an open air "Chapel in the Woods"—a lit-tle piece of ground set aside in the camp as a constant reminder that the first duty of a Scout is to God. Within the rustic enclosure are no emblems which identify any particular religious denominations. Fifty two Scouters attended the first Protestant communion ser-vice.
