Gains Outnumber Losses On Montreal Exchange

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

MONTREAL, Sept. 12. — While sentiment was much improved on the Montreal Stock Exchange today and gains outnumbered losses two to one at the close, traders were still in an apathetic mood and turnover was less than 8,000 shares.

Led by the interlisted stocks which were each fractionally higher, the list generally gave a stronger and steadier display throughout the whole session today. Brazilian Traction was up ¾ at 10½ after opening at 10¼. Canadian Pacific gained ¼ at 13 although it touched 13⅛ during the day. International Nickel advanced ¼ to 23¾, showing a high for the day of 24.

Bank issues, in keeping with the improved trend, were stronger. Royal Bank was up four points to 160½ and Bank of Montreal was 1½ higher at 199. Bank of Nova Scotia remained unchanged at 255.

Among the wider gains were Lake of the Woods Preferred, up one point to 67, and National Breweries Preferred, up a point at 37. Canadian Hydro Electric Preferred rose 2½ to 68.

Montreal Tramways, in one of its rare appearances, was traded late in the session at 93½, off 1½ from its former board lot level. Hollinger was 15 cents lower at 18.75. Canada Northern Power, Dominion Textile, Gypsum Lime and McColl Frontenac were fractionally lower.

Canadian Industrial Alcohol "A", National Breweries, Power Corporation and Steel of Canada were up fractions.

Included among the stocks that held steady were Cockshutt Plow, General Steel Wares, National Steel Car, Canadian Industrial Alcohol "B", Winnipeg Electric, Consolidated Smelting and Dominion Coal Preferred.

Sales 7,927 shares; bonds $13,550.

Cautious Trading On New York Stock Market

By Frederick Gardner,
Associated Press Financial Writer
(By Guardian's Special Wire)

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. — Caution remained the watchword in most markets today as Wall Street studied the implications of a further fall in United States government bonds.

Most speculators withdrew from stocks to await a clearer picture of the future and the market, in consequence, was almost motionless. Volume on the stock exchange dwindled to 401,030 shares compared with 631,160 yesterday. The Standard Statistics Co. average for 90 issues, at 69.5 was up only 3-10 of a point.

Scattered signs of seasonal business expansion and some favorable dividend announcements went almost unnoticed in the stock market.

Action of government bonds was the focus of attention. The fall of prices there, which carried treasury 3¼ below par before effective support appeared, was subject to various interpretations. Some brokers attributed the heaviness of bonds, in contrast with the steady pace of stocks, to a revival of inflationary ideas as a result of the Maine vote on Monday. The bond market, however, has been in a downtrend since July. Corporate issues were affected by the selling in domestic governments.

A rally in the United States dollar against foreign exchanges and generally lower prices for activity traded commodities did not conform with the usual inflation pattern.

Speculative indecision in the share market was accentuated by disappointment over the failure of business to show stronger seasonal expansion tendencies. Steel operations were estimated to have recovered a bit and individual carloadings reports made better comparison with 1933. But most of the major barometers of individual activity revealed no important pickup.

Dividend news was good. Air reduction advanced 2 points on a few transfers on announcement of an extra dividend of $1.50 a share. Continental Can scored a net gain of nearly 2 points after directors had declared a stock dividend of 50 percent, subject to approval of shareholders. The company proposed to put the new stock on a quarterly dividend basis of 60 cents.

U. S. Smelting and Refining reacted after expanding its rally gains a point or so and finished 1¼ lower. Most gold and silver shares were firm. Steel shares sagged in face of the empty nearby outlook for that industry. Rails held their ground well. Utility shares on the average were dragged into new low ground for the year by dribbling liquidation.

Preferred shares were hurt by the decline in bonds. American Locomotive Preferred lost 3½ points. But the selling in the senior groups was scattered.

Wheat closed 1 to 1⅜ cents a bushel lower and rye was off about 2 cents. Cotton lost 70 to 85 cents a bale.

Trade news was mixed. The iron age reported a moderate gain in steel bookings but saw "nothing resembling a definite upward trend. It estimated current steel operations at 19½ ercent of capacity against 19 percent a week ago. Electric Power used last week was 1.1 percent below the corresponding 1933 week, according to the Edison Electric Institute.

Some sizeable gains in carloadings by western carriers compared with 1933 were offset by losses for eastern roads.

MARKET GOSSIP

(By Johnston and Ward's Special Wire)

MORNING MARKET LETTER

NEW YORK, N Y, Sept 12—The market fluctuated uncertainly yesterday with the oils and utilities soft and the rails relatively strong.

The Maine elections were probably a disappointment to some but the results were not wholly unexpected and it is unlikely that they had much effect on the market.

The periodical weakness in individual stocks is disturbing but the way the important rail group is holding is an offsetting influence.

It rather looked yesterday as if the market were trying to hold above previous lows and prices can rally today, the immediate danger of a further breakdown should be past.

Laidlaw and Company.

BANON SAYS

MONTREAL Q, Sept 12—Stocks got good support yesterday and while a bullish signal has not yet been given indications do favor a moderate recovery from the current level. Traders interested in a minor rally might consider moderate purchases in Atchison, Western Union, Sear Roebuck and Johns Manville.

The secondary gold issues were again weak yesterday while the pivotal leaders showed fair resistance when selling developed. I suggest that purchase in the gold be deferred for the time being.

Banon.

FINANCIAL COUNSEL

MONTREAL, Que, Sept 12—It is understood that the position of International Petroleum Co is shaping up so strongly in the matter of earnings this year that a definite increase in the dividend rate will probably be decided upon. Whether this will apply with the disbursemen for the second half of start off the first half of next year is not yet known. Naturally the permanent increase in the basic rate of dividend for this Company would increase substantially Imperial Oil's income and would, no doubt make possible the fixed increase in the rates on that Company's shares as well.

Fin. Counsel.

FINANCIAL COUNSEL

MONTREAL, Que, Sept 12—Further evidence of the operating and financial progress of Regent Knitting Mills Ltd, is seen in the ability of the Company to meet its initial $10,000 sinking fund investment. General Trust of Canada anouces this amount has been deposited with it and tenders to sell the 6½ percent first mortgage bonds in an amount sufficient to exhaust this deposit will be received by the trustees in Montreal until four p. m. Sept 28. The Boads are quoted at around 87 to 90.

Fin. Counsel.

BULLETIN

The sharp selling that developed this morning in Teck Hughes seemed to be a reflection of the situation that occurred a couple of weeks ago. New York was attributed as being the most agressive liquidator and the market did not appear to have a sufficient backlog of buying orders to offset this pressure. No news of any kind has come forward during the past couple of days that might carry any reflection upon the action of the issue. Rumors still persist of difficulties being encountered in mining operations but against this officials have already intimated that they are satisfied that the situation is well in hand.

CHICAGO, Sept 12—Unsettled by Winnipeg reports that a small lot of Canadian wheat had been sold to the United States, wheat prices underwent late downturns today.

Owing to the fact the trade volume here both in wheat and other grains was scanty, the markets were easily influenced.

It was not specified whether the Canadian wheat would be for United States consumers use, or would be for grinding in bond. Contributing to late weakness of grains was a sharp break in United States Government bonds

WINNIPEG, Sept 12—Depressed by heavy hedging sales, wheat prices sagged 1⅛ to one cent on the Winnipeg grain exchange today despite good buying from undetermined sources.

October wheat ended at 83½, December at 84¾ and May at 88½ cents. Traders viewed the decline as a fairly good showing in view of heavy short sales against Tuesday's country deliveries which were over the 1,000,000 bushel mark.

Exporters confirmed only small sales of Canadian wheat abroad. There was a general belief among usually well-posted traders that the October and December futures were being accumulated by large interests intending to ship the wheat or grind it.

Toronto Mines—Closed lower.
New York—Stocks slightly higher.
Winnipeg—Wheat closed 1⅛ to a cent lower.

The deceased was born at East Royalty in the year 1856 and was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Berrigan. Although being a constant sufferer for the past seventeen years and bedfast for the last seven years, her death came as a great shock to her many relatives and friends.

She bore her sufferings with patience and resignation to the will of God. She was of a lovable and chereful disposition, and always met the many friends at her bedside with a cheery word and a smile.

She was fortified by the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church, of which she was a devoted member, the clergy always being in constant attention.

The numerous friends that called to pay a last tribute to a kind friend and neighbor, bore mute testimony to the esteem in which she was held.

Her funeral which was largely attended, was held from St. Dunstan's Basilica, where a Solemn High Mass was sung by Rev. A. J. McIntyre, assisted by Rev. Louis Dougan and Rev. Eugene Murray. Within the Sanctuary were His Excellency Bishop O'Sullivan and Rev. John Cass, S.J.

The services at the grave were performed by Rev. P. McMahon, D.D., assisted by Rev. John Cass, S.J. The pall bearers were John B. Roper, Stephen P. Bradley, T. A. Brothers, John B. Andrew, W. H. Scott and John E. Holmes.

She leaves to mourn, besides a sorrowing husband, five sons and two daughters, A. W. in Medicine Hat; J. A. in Calgary, and T. E. in Malden, who were unable to be present, A. F., Truro, Cy B. and Mary, of Malden, and Lena at home, who were with her at the time of her death. One daughter Gertrude predeceased her seventeen years ago, and a son Patrick died in infancy.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. ESTHER JENKINS

"The Lord gave, the Lord taketh away, blessed be the Name of the Lord."

Passed into her eternal home on Sept. 6, 1934, Mrs. Esther Jenkins, wife of the late J. Franklin Jenkins, Millview, in the 73rd year of her age.

The deceased had been ailing for some time and, although no hopes were held for her recovery, yet the end came very suddenly.

Possessed of a wonderful Christian character, love for her home and dear ones; once a friend, always a friend; helping those who needed her assistance, makes that chair, which can never be filled, only by a mother, doubly vacant, but Thy will be done, not ours.

The funeral, which was held from her late residence on Sunday to Vernon River Cemetery, was very largely attended. Services at the house and grave were conducted by the Rev. Mr. G. D. Elliot, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Weir. The hymns sung were favourites of the deceased: "Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me", "Will the Circle be Unbroken," and "In the Sweet Bye and Bye."

There are left to cherish the memory of a dear and loving mother, three daughters, Mrs. Irving A. Beaton, Mrs. Belle Brown, Brighton, Mass.; Mabel, Vernon, and two sons, Milton, Millview, and Louson, Vernon. One son Russell having predeceased her a few years ago.

The floral tributes, which were beautiful, are as follows: Pillow, The family; Crescent, Mildred and Lou; Spray, Kelsey Burhoe; Wreath, Mrs. Thos. Mellish, Mrs. Annie Shaw and Mrs. Henry MacLaren; Double Sheaf, Girls of the Boulevard Cafe, Allston, Mass.; Spray, The Smith family; Spray, Mr. and Mrs. George Sutherland; Spray, Mr. and Mrs. Peter H. ## SOLD BALLOONS NOW OWNS SHOWS

TORONTO, Sept. 12—From toy balloon vendor to owner of two travelling midway road shows with equipment valued at close to $1,000,000, sounds like one of Horatio Alger's old heroes, but in real life it is Rubin Gruberg, head of the visiting midway which has played at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto for the past seven years.

Gruberg sold his balloons at the Paris Exposition in the early days of this century, but now is head of a miniature exposition of his own. His second show is playing in the middle west of the United States at present.

An interesting inside feature of Gruberg's shows, and one which is now part of many similar outfits, is the use of "brass money" by employes. "Brass money" comes in five and 25-cent pieces and is used as a medium of exchange within the show itself. Employes may draw this money from day to day against their salaries and use it as legal tender amongst themselves or at the dining tent where cigars, cigarettes and soft drinks may be obtained as well as meals.

WHITES LEARNED VEGETABLE DIET BY INDIAN MENU

(By J. F. Sanderson)

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

OTTAWA, Sept. 12—When Jacques Cartier, Columbus and other early explorers saw the North American Indians for the first time they had no idea of the part to be played by the Red Man in the eating habits of millions of people. In the years to come, the Red Man was to change the diet and habits of nations and popularize dozens of plants and vegetables he grew in his vast domain.

Visitors to the Central Canada Exhibition this year had an object lesson in the debt of gratitude the world owes the Indian. The National Museum had an exhibit of some of the plants the white man inherited from the roaming tribes of North and South American Indians.

It came as a sort of shock to know that Ireland didn't originate the potato—it was developed by Indians in Chile and Peru. It was more or less known the Indian developed corn and maple sugar, but visitors to the fair were unprepared for the long list of food plants developed in North and South America by Indians.

Here is the list, as prepared by the National Museum: corn, potatoes, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, pumpkins, squashes, Lima beans, kidney beans, peppers, cacao, pineapples, strawberries, cassava, guava, peanuts and alligator pears.

The Indians did not limit his agricultural development to food plants. He experimented with the tobacco plant until he started smoking the leaves, a practice that has spread throughout the world. Indians in Peru and Bolivia knew the powers of quinine hundreds of years before the white man came along with tin boxes and corner drug stores. And as the Indian developed a boon in tobacco, he developed a curse in cocaine.

Even the clothes we wear have been influenced by the Indian who grew cotton in tropical America centuries before Lancashire knew the meaning of the word. And his domain grew henequen, rubber, copal and Peruvian balsam as well.

Belying its name, the turkey didn't come from southern Europe—it was eaten by the Indians before Columbus was born.

Even sport and transportation have been influenced by the
